NO TRAIL IS LEFT BY FUGITIVE; DETECTIVES AT SEA

Absconding Express Clerk Expected to Seclude His $100,000.

HIS FRIENDS LOOK FOR HIS RETURN

It Is Thought That He Will Bury Money and Take Punishment for Larceny.

SENTENCE WOULD BE SHORT

Edward George Cunliffe, clerk in the Pittsburgh office of the Adams Express Company, who disappeared on Monday night with $1,000 in loose cash from the office safe and a money package containing $100,000 in bank notes consigned by the Farmers Deposit National bank to the First National bank of Cincinnati, has made his escape without leaving behind a single clue. Today he is the hero of all express robbers that ever baffled pursuit. With a start of 20 hours, he has outwitted the scores of detectives who are seeking in vain to follow his trail.

The man who walked out of his office with $101,000 and then disappeared into the night is no ordinary thief. The experienced man-hunters of the express company and the trained sleuths of the Pinkerton agency have theories of his flight and deep-laid schemes as to his capture, but as yet their efforts have not been rewarded with hints as to the fugitive's whereabouts.

That Cunliffe has made a clean escape is practically admitted by all the detectives. Yesterday they hoped for a Sherlock Holmes to turn up with some sage deduction that would give promise of prompt arrest. Descriptions of the man were flashed all over the country by wire, and yesterday's mail carried his photograph to the police of every city in the country. The detectives realize that this is one of the greatest cases in the history of crime, and they are bending with zest to their task.

In the meantime Cunliffe is slipping easily through the meshes of the dragnet which is constantly being cast here, there and everywhere.

Friends of Cunliffe Look to See Him Give Himself Up.

Two personal friends of Cunliffe—men who have known him for years and who have been his constant associates—did not hesitate to say that they believed the theft had been premeditated. They said:

"Ed Cunliffe will never be captured. Some day in the near future he will likely walk up before the authorities and surrender himself. The money will be still missing. He will accept the penalty and—then why should he care? He will dig up the money afterward and live the rest of his days in luxury."

HOW CUNLIFFE MAKES OVER $33,000 A YEAR

If Cunliffe is captured or chooses to come back of his own accord and accept the punishment which would be given him for his crime of stealing $101,000 from the Adams Express Company, the maximum sentence which could be pronounced upon him would be to serve three years in the penitentiary. If he had stolen $1,000 or $100, the sentence would be the same. When John C. Haymaker, former district attorney was asked about the severity of the sentence against a man charged with stealing $101,000, he answered:

"In this state it is impossible to give him a longer sentence than three years to the penitentiary for common, ordinary theft like Cunliffe's case. In other words he will make something over $33,000 a year—a pretty fair salary, even for the president of the Adams Express Company's board.

The men who talked in this fashion are firmly convinced that Cunliffe was only waiting his opportunity to get a sum of money worth taking, and that he had his plans well mapped out. When he comes into vision again, his friends assert, he will have about him scarcely a farthing of the thousands he stole. He is not the sort of man who would know how to spend it in lavish living, and also not the sort of man who would court the fame that would be attached to the successful robber who could dodge detectives and live the life of a modern robber baron. The lover for the romantic he has not cultivated. He is not the sort of a man who would glorify Robin Hood.

Cold Cash and Not Fame What Missing Man Sought.

"It's the money and not the fame that Eddie is looking for," said a Millvale friend of Cunliffe's last night.

"What do you expect him to do with his wealth?" asked a reporter for The Gazette.

"He'll plant it quickly," replied the Millvale man.

"And what then?"

"Cunliffe will turn up, take his dose at Riverside and rest easy the rest of his days. He'll never be able to spend half that much money."

"Did he have no vices?"

"None to speak of. This talk about his cigaret smoking is all bosh. He smoked no more than thousands of other men, and it's certain that they did not affect his mind. He drank considerable, but when he drank he took his drinks with himself. He wasn't a good 'mixer.' He wasn't a good fellow except among his

AUTO HITS A WALL, INJURING THREE PERSONS

James Dinsmore, Badly Hurt a Year Ago, Again a Victim of Accident.

An automobile belonging to James Dinsmore of 224 North Euclid avenue, and driven by the owner, became unmanageable and ran away in Highland park last night, colliding with a stone retaining wall at the foot of a steep grade. The automobile was overturned and badly wrecked. The three men who occupied the machine were injured. They are:

JAMES DINSMORE, 224 North Euclid avenue, cut about the head and face, and bruised all over the body by being caught under the automobile. Removed to Dr. Mullens' Emergency hospital, and later taken home in a carriage.

DR. GEORGE H. MARSHALL, 7600 Penn avenue; scalp wound and back sprained. Injuries dressed at Dr. Mullens' Emergency hospital, and taken home.

WILLIAM R. WILSON, North Euclid avenue; bruised about the body. Removed to his home.

The accident occurred on the steep driveway above Lake Carnegie about 7:30 o'clock. Dinsmore with his two friends had been riding through the park, and in descending the grade the machine suddenly became unmanageable, dashing down the hill at a rapid pace. At the bottom is a sharp curve, protected by a stone retaining wall. Dinsmore attempted to steer around the curve, but was not successful, and the automobile crashed into the wall.

The force of the collision was so great that the automobile was completely overturned, Dinsmore being pinned beneath it. His companions were thrown into the driveway about 10 feet from where the accident occurred. Several persons came to their assistance.

About a year ago Dinsmore was badly injured by the explosion of a naphtha launch, which he owned, on the Ohio river near Davis island.

BOER VETERAN LEAVES.

Ex-Commandant De Wall Is on His Way to Attend Meeting of Africanda Bund at Brussels.

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Gen. De Epke Rolf de Wall of Pretoria, Transvaal, commandant of the Middleburg brigade of the Boer army in the recent war with England, left here today for New York on his way to Brussels to attend the meeting of November 27, of the Africanda Bund, an organization composed of representative men of the Boer race, who will petition The Hague peace tribunal to force England to give up the captured Boer territory.

Failing in this peaceful plan, Gen. Wall says another great uprising of the Boers will soon occur in South Africa, it being the Boer dream to establish a Republic there along the lines of the United States government.

FOUR PERSONS ARE INJURED IN A COLLISION

Meat Wagon Knocks Passenger Off Running Board of a Sharpsburg Car.

In a collision between a Sharpsburg car and a wagon belonging to the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company, at Penn avenue and Butler street at 6 o'clock last evening, four persons were injured. They are:

JOHN KLINE of Etna, injured about stomach and back; taken to his home.

JOHN RUPPEY of Long alley, Seventeenth ward; arms and limbs bruised; taken home.

FREDERICK FAUCKENBERGER, Thirty-eighth and Butler streets; hips and legs bruised; taken home.

The men, with a number of others, were standing on the running board of an open trailer. The heavily-laden meat wagon coming down Penn avenue slipped sideways as the car was passing, and the tongue of the vehicle swerved and struck the car, knocking the four men into the street.

Many passengers jumped before the car came to a standstill. The injured were carried into the office of Dr. A. C. Clark where their injuries were dressed. Both horses were badly bruised about the forelegs.

WOULD KILL PERSONS HELPLESSLY INJURED

American Humane Association Takes Up Question of Putting People to Death.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Interest in today's session of the convention of the American Humane association centered about the discussion of a question which was afterwards declared to be beyond the province of the organization. It had to do with the putting to death by anaesthetics of persons hopelessly injured by railway accidents, and those in the very last stages of consumption, hydrophobia, cancer, lockjaw and diabetes.

The subject was introduced by Miss Annie S. Hall of Cincinnati, who backed up her arguments for such procedure by letters from prominent medical men, educators and humanitarians of the whole country.

In upholding the contention of the speaker, one delegate, a woman, said that she would have no hesitation whatever in using a pistol to kill any one who was suffering so intensely that he begged to die. "That would be doing as I would be done by," she said.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 11.—After falling into a Big Four gravel pit near Lawrenceburg, Ind., and breaking his neck, an Italian laborer, assisted by a friend, walked nearly a mile to his tent, holding his head in his hands the whole distance. Physicians found the man's neck had been fractured at the fifth vertebrae, and declared that the injuries will undoubtedly prove fatal.

FINDS HER SISTER'S BODY HANGING TO BEDPOST

Fearing She Was to Meet Violent Accident, Woman Commits Suicide.

Miss Jennie Mitchell, formerly a school teacher, committed suicide last night by hanging herself to the bed post in her room with a dressing sack. She lived with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Steele at 531 Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg. The woman's mind had become enfeebled and she imagined she was about to meet with a violent accident.

Some of Miss Mitchell's relatives always remained with her. About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon she was alone in her room. Mrs. Steele missed her and on going to the room found her sister hanging to the bed post. She at once released her and summoned Dr. J. D. McClure, but she was dead when he arrived. Miss Mitchell was 55 years of age and had been a school teacher until about 14 years ago. For years she lived in a house adjoining her sister in Rebecca street, but when her mind became weak about a month ago she was taken to Mrs. Steele's home.

He attempted suicide by shooting himself in the forehead, but will likely recover. He was tonight taken to Uniontown jail.

WARNS BANKERS OF DANGERS IN STOCKS

Frank A Vanderlip Points Out Possible Disaster in Speculation.

SHAW ALSO SPEAKS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.

Twenty-five hundred bankers who are attending the annual convention of the American Bankers' association here today heard Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City bank of New York, point out the dangers which beset the commercial expansion of the United States. While he did not neglect to show the bright side of the picture, he bore heavily upon the shadows. Questioning Japan's determination to stand by the principle of the "open door" in the far east, he declared that Asiatic trade was yet to be won by this country, while European governments with fewer natural resources were by preparation giving themselves advantages for the race after trade.

Secretary Shaw likewise took foreign commerce for his theme and emphasized the handicap which is constituted by the lack of merchant marine. He digressed a bit to speak of the monetary system. He expressed his appreciation for the need of elasticity, and advocated a plan by which banks might increase their circulation in periods of monetary stringency by paying a tax at 5 or 6 per cent of the additional circulation.

Democrats Indorse President.

A feature of the session not on the program was a resolution offered by former Representative Charles Pugesley of Peekskill, a Democrat, indorsing the steps which the President took to bring about peace between Russia and Japan. This resolution was received with enthusiasm, which increased when former Gov. Jennings of Florida, a cousin of William Jennings Bryan, and also a Democrat, seconded the motion for the adoption of the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. Vanderlip's address was given the compliment of close attention. Citing the fact that the total value of the agriculture crop of the United States will be $2,000,000,000, which is $500,000,000 greater than the annual average of the last 10 years, Mr. Vanderlip declared that the farmers, whose only acquaintance with finance had once been mortgage payments to absent creditors, had developed into bank depositors and actual investors in corporate securities. The Mississippi valley, he predicted, will be another New England for investment.

Mr. Vanderlip Gives Warning.

He declared the outlook to be very bright, but gave warning that almost as surely there were dangers lurking in the situation. "Should a stock market speculation start from the present high level of prices in the face of extraordinary demand for capital and money which crops and business alike are making," said he, "the result might easily be temporary disaster. Although there may be many favorable features to the outlook, it is no time for prudence to be cast to the wind; no time for speculative commitments which would yield disaster if temporary reverses came; no time for laxness in any of the forms of business prudence and conservatism."

The President received the bankers and the ladies accompanying them at the White House. There was music and floral decorations, but no speeches. The President shook the hand of every one of the visitors and extended his warmest greeting.

LITTLE JAPANESE MAID GIVES JUI-JITSU BOUT IN COURT

Throws an Athlete to the Sidewalk, Has Him Arrested and Then Exhibits Her Skill Before a New York Magistrate.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Miaso Sota, a 96-pound Japanese maid, who caused the arrest of J. F. McCullum, an athlete and sparring partner of Terry McGovern, last night after she had thrown him flat as a flounder on the sidewalk, gave a demonstration of the Japanese art of self-defense in the Harlem police court today in the presence of Magistrate Barlow.

"Suppose she shows the magistrate what she did," suggested Bicycle Policeman Whitman, who had arrested McCullum.

This was interpreted to Miss Sota and she nodded consent. McCullum moved back a bit as if he feared the experiment was to be tried upon him. But the interpreter enacted the role of the man to be floored.

Miss Sota, after the interpreter had put his hand on her shoulder, seized the man's other arm with a quick motion, shoved one of her tiny feet forward, and the interpreter, who weighs 165 pounds, was hurled backward to the floor. The spectators cheered.

"She threw me even higher than that," remarked McCullum, dryly, after the mirth of the spectators had subsided. Magistrate Barlow directed that a complaint of disorderly conduct be made out against McCullum and he was fined $5.

GOULD BURIES RIVAL UNDER AVALANCHE

Ramsey's Aspirations for Control of Wabash Are Smothered.

DELANO PRESIDENT

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
W. L. ROSS, Staff Correspondent.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 11.—Although claiming proxies for 1,146,500 votes in the general meeting of the stockholders and bondholders, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., was tonight totally defeated for a place upon the board of the Wabash railroad company, and George J. Gould made good on his statement that he would eliminate Mr. Ramsey from the Wabash.

The proxies of Mr. Ramsey were thrown out almost by the wholesale. The voting rights of no less than $5,000,000 worth of stocks and debenture bonds were eliminated by the decision of the inspectors of election who acted also as tellers, and are the same gentlemen whose appointment Mr. Ramsey fought in the Toledo court.

The annual meeting of the Wabash stock and debenture bondholders closed at midnight tonight, after a 15-hour session marked with closely fought contentions which kept half a dozen of the best corporation lawyers of New York and Toledo in constant dispute. Outside of the elimination of Mr. Ramsey, it resulted in the election of a board consisting of the following six representatives of the bondholders: General Thomas H. Hubbard, Edward T. Jeffrey, John T. Terry, W. S. Pierce, R. M. Galloway and Edgar T. Welles. For the stockholders the following were elected: F. C. Reynolds, of Toledo; George J. Goud, Russell Sage, William B. Sanders, R. C. Clowry and Wells H. Blodgett.

Delano Formally Elected.

Following the election of the 12 directors, the seven newly elected men present met and nominated Frederick A. Delano for the thirteenth place on the board and the presidency. This was reported back to the meeting to be voted upon by the combined stockholders and bondholders' assembly. Thereupon a surprise was sprung by Mr. Ramsey in his again being nominated as a candidate, and the vote he claimed is that given above. The vote for each of the Gould directors was [illegible] each. Mr. Ramsey obtained his total by cumulative voting on the bonds, a right disputed by the Goulds.

At the conclusion of the meeting the foowing statement was made by Mr. Ramsey:

"I think that with fairer treatment in the caucuses I might have made a much better showing than I did. In fact, I made a better showing than the returns credit me with. There were several large blocks of stock and bonds that should have been voted for me, but were given to Mr. Gould by the election inspectors. I believe that any court in the land would declare that these votes are properly mine. I have filed protests in all of these cases, not because I desired to be an obstructionist, but because I desired to prepare for anything that might come hereafter. I have not determined whether or not to commence a contest, but nothing of that kind will be attempted by me immediately. I am not the kind of a man to employ destructive or obstructive tactics wantonly. I will say, however, that the meeting that has just closed is not the end of this affair by a good deal, but I cannot say just now what the next step will be.

"There is one thing more that I wish to say, and that is that I am not sorry that I entered upon this fight. I have not regretted it at any time since I embarked upon it. The only thing I regret is that I was not elected."

Mr. Gould Laughs.

Mr. Gould was highly pleased at the outcome, although he showed his feelings less in words than by his manner and hearty laugh as he contemplated the figures showing the result.

"I am, of course, very glad that the matter has terminated as it has," he declared, "and I feel happy that my administration of the road has received the emphatic indorsement it has. The result says more than I can."

Asked if he expected the election to be contested, Mr. Gould replied:

"I hardly expect anything of that kind. I am sure that our proceedings have been perfectly legal. I certainly desired to have them that way, and we have a room full of lawyers here who say we have done things in proper manner."

Just before the announcement of the final vote electing the directors Judge Doyle, speaking for Mr. Ramsey, filed a formal protest against the election as directors of the Wabash road of Russell Sage and George J. Gould, on the ground they are directors of the Missouri Pacific road, which is a competing line of the Wabash. His protest was placed on file.

Suit Is Probable.

Judge Doyle said tonight that on a writ of quo warranto in any of the six states through which the Wabash passes the election could be taken at once into the supreme court and a decision reached inside of 30 days. From his conversation it is expected that this may be done soon.

According to the official report, the vote today, first of the bonds and then of the stocks, was as follows:

For each of Gould's candidates, 228,126. For Ramsey, without cumulation, 21,840; cumulatively and admitting disputed proxies, [illegible]; total bonds voting, $26,-685,000 out of $28,965,000.

Stock for each of Gould's candidates, [illegible] shares; total proxies admitted, [illegible]. Ramsey's proxies admitted, [illegible].

By cumulation Ramsey had 238,852. He did not act as a candidate of the stockholders. Total stock voting, $40,950,900 out of $62,000,000.

At the final combined voting for all 13 candidates the official report of the tellers showed 689,977 votest cast for each of the 13 Gould candidates and 526,386 allowed to Mr. Ramsey. They threw out votes he claimed amounting to 671,114.

Mr. Gould at this period sprung a surprise by making changes in his ticket for bond directors. Russell Sage, Judge Sanders of Cleveland and R. C. Clowry, president of the Western Union, were eliminated and in their places were put Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard of New York, J. T. Terry of New York and E. T. Jeffrey.

In the stockholders' meeting, which began immediately after the bondholders' election had ended, a change was made in the chairmanship. Col. Blodgett was supplanted by Judge Sanders. Judge Doyle formally demanded the roll call and the all day job was started.

In this roll call it became evident many large blocks as well as hundreds of small ones were not voting at all. There were fewer cases of split proxies than in yesterday's caucus of bondholders, and Mr. Ramsey's proportion of the stock was evidently still smaller than his proportion of the debenture bonds. Among the large blocks not voting was one for 1,000 shares held by Drexel & Co.. The Disconto bank of Amsterdam cabled a proxy for 1,900 shares to Mr. Gould, but the right to accept cable or telegraphic proxies was immediately disputed. From Amsterdam also came a proxy for Mr. Gould for 21,760 shares held by Adolph Boiswain; Henry Clews & Co. gave him proxies for 10,181 shares, while Lottie Crabtree, the actress, gave him a 400-share proxy.

Both Sides Claim This.

The 3,900 shares in the name of C. R. Hoyt were covered by a Gould proxy, but Mr. Ramsey's counsel protested this on the ground the real owner was Talbot J. Taylor, from whom Mr. Ramsey had a proxy and an affidavit of ownership. The Gould stockholdings of the Wabash also came out at this juncture. George J. Gould, in his own name, was credited with 20,000 shares, but Judge Doyle attacked this block on the same ground as that of the Mercantile Trust Company yesterday. He claimed that this stock is in reality owned by the Iron Mountain railroad, with the exception of 100 shares, and that all Mr. Gould himself has is the 100 shares. He therefore claimed that the 18,900 shares could not be voted except in violation of the statutes of six states through which the Wabash runs, the federal interstate commerce laws, and the common law. Nevertheless the proxy was placed on the Gould pile and was voted later precisely as the bonds had been treated.

Edwin Gould appeared as an owner of 2,100 shares. In the name of Jay Gould 86,000 shares stand. Katherine and Kingdon Gould, George J. Gould's children, each appear as an owner of 100 shares.

The assemblage was interested when Mr. Ramsey presented a proxy for 40 shares owned by Sidney M. Gould, but it was explained that this Gould is not a member of the magnate's family. President F. A. Delano owns 100 shares. Gen. Hubbard personally owns 1,000 and his firm 170 additional. Myron T. Herrick, the big Ohio ally of the Goulds, owns no Wabash stock.

Goulds in Minority.

How far the Goulds themselves are in a minority in the ownership of the Wabash Railroad Company is shown by the following figures of debenture bonds and common and preferred stocks of the company now standing in the Gould names:

Debenture bonds: George J. Gould, $8,000; the Gould family, $63,000; Jay Gould's estate, $1,325,000; total Gould debenture holdings, $1,391,000; total debenture issues, $30,000,000.

Stocks: George J. Gould, uncontested, $10,000 par value; same contested in Iron Mountain property, $1,930,000; Jay Gould, $8,300,000; J. Gould, Jr., $10,000; Katherine Gould, $10,000; Kingdon Gould, $10,000; total Gould holdings, uncontested, $8,340,000; including contested stock, $9,330,000; total stock issue, $62,000,000; Gould-owned voting issues, bonds and stock, $10,721,000; total voting securities, $92,000,000; Gould interest, 11 7-10 per cent.

FOR NEW ARMORIES.

Pittsburgh and Harrisburg Will Be Among First to Get Their Share of Appropriation.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh and Harrisburg will probably be among the first cities in the state to secure new armories for their portion of the National guard, out of the $250,000 appropriated by the last legislature.

The style of architecture and general size of the armories will be decided before anything definite in regard to actual building is done. It is expected these points will be settled at a meeting of the board to be held in this city on November 8.

CUNLIFFE WILL SEEK THE BYWAYS

Supt. McQuaide Does Not Look for Fugitive to Squander His Fortune.

CITY DETECTIVES ARE AT SEA

Supt. McQuaide of the Pittsburgh bureau of detectives is of the opinion that Cunliffe, the Adams express employe who got away Monday night with $101,000, will eventually be captured.

He believes Cunliffe had not premeditated his act for any length of time, and he did not have any well defined plans of escape. He said:

"The robbery is without a parallel. Cunliffe may evade the officers for a time, but sooner or later he will fall in their hands. I do not believe Cunliffe had any route of flight in mind when he left the express company's office with the money. There is no clue as to the direction he took. I believe he left the city Monday night. This is a big country; there are many places for him to seclude himself.

"Cunliffe is not a high liver and I do not believe he will be found sporting about any big hotels. He will more likely hunt some unattractive quarters. He looks to me like a man who will probably eat in a 15-cent restaurant and put up at some cheap hotel. He has traveled a great deal and is accustomed to a rough sort of life. I do not think he will take any chances by going to any town he has lived in before.

"He is not a man conspicuous for his drinking, and it is not likely he will become intoxicated and reveal his identity in that manner. The fact that Cunliffe is a cigaret smoker will not attract many persons. Cigarets are used by millions. There are hundreds of men who resemble Cunliffe.

"Cunliffe has a good start on the officers. He can travel and travel. Any clue of him will be hard to follow. There is one means that might cause Cunliffe to fall. That is his fondness for his family. I understand he was a domestic man and liked his home. After he has traveled a day or so he may become despondent and regret his act. That will unnerve him. But if he was of a cold, hardened disposition it would make it all the more difficult for the officers. I have some men on the case and I am interested in the robbery because it occured in my bailiwick. The Pinkertons have thousands of officers throughout the United States and they will finally land their man. No matter if it is 10 years from now, the chase after Cunliffe will be continued by the Pinkertons.

"Cunliffe will have a hard existence regardless of the fact he is well supplied with money. He will live in constant dread of being picked up all the time. Every move his relatives make will be watched. A detective will follow the mail carrier, and he will not be able to communicate with his relatives, except at the jeopardy of divulging his hiding place."

Supt. H. J. Biderman of the local office of the Pinkerton's National Detective agency said their agencies are required to work secretly. Any information concerning Cunliffe's flight will be guarded by them until he is captured.

City Detectives Eagan and Cole are working on some theories regarding the flight of Cunliffe. However, it is known that the municipal officers and the Pinkertons are without any positive information concerning Cunliffe or the direction of his flight.

COMPANY SPEEDILY MAKES GOOD THE LOSS

Headquarters of Adams People Rushes With Haste $100,000 to Cover Amount Stolen.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Three hours after the discovery that the $100,000 was missing the officials of the First National bank were notified by the headquarters office of the Adams Express Company, in New York, that $100,000 to replace the missing money was on its way to Cincinnati. It arrived today and C. F. Barrett, Adams Express agent at Cincinnati, paid the bank $100,000 before noon to make good the currency package which disappeared in Pittsburgh.

The discovery that the Adams Express Company had been made the victim became known through the watchfulness of the First National bank officials. The Cincinnati bank, through a routine transaction with the Pittsburgh bank, ordered the currency shipped Monday night and it should have arrived on an early train Tuesday morning. When the express packages came in the one containing $100,000 which the Pittsburgh bank had reported on the way, was not found. The officials of the bank awaited a later train, and when it did not come the local agent of the Adams Express Company, Charles F. Barrett, was asked for an explanation. He replied that he had no bills indicating that a shipment was on the way, and that all trains were in for the day.

A telegram was rushed to Pittsburgh and the bank there was asked to make an investigation. The Pittsburgh Express officials found that the package containing the money had been left at the office, but that it had never been billed out. The facts were wired to New York and within a few minutes a long distance telephone talk was in progress between officials of the express company in New York and the Cincinnati bank officials, to the end that the money was drawn from New York and sent immediately by express.

The loss will, partially at least, fall upon the bonding company, both the bank and express company officials say.

Censures Minister Rockhill.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 11.—Mail advices by the steamer Empress of Japan state that Gen. Corbin severely censured United States Minister Rockhill at Pekin, charging him with dereliction of social duty in the provisions made for the reception and entertainment of the President's daughter and party at Pekin.

Czar Shifts Jewish Question.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 11.—Emperor Nicholas has decided to turn over to the national assembly the final settlement of the question of the abolition of the restrictions to the admission of the Jews to the universities with other general legislation relative to the status of the Jews.

CUNLIFFE WAS BONDED FOR $2,000; GOT SALARY OF $55 PER MONTH

The Adams Express Company had no idea that Edward George Cunliffe would have the nerve and daring to steal $100,000. Precautions were taken, however, to safeguard the company in case he got away with as much as $2,000. Cunliffe was bonded for that amount—in other words, the company insured itself against $2,000 loss it might suffer from any peculations Cunliffe might be tempted to indulge in, and then paid him a salary of $55 a month. The bonding company carrying the risk on Cunliffe will be called on to pay the Adams people $2,000. The remainder of the loss, $99,000, counting in the $1,000 Cunliffe is supposed to have taken for traveling expenses, will fall on the express company.

The report came from Cincinnati last night that the express and bank people there had stated that Cunliffe's bonding company would have to reimburse his employers for the amount he had stolen, or at least part of it. M. B. Slater, agent at the Union station for the Adams Express Company, denied this last night. He said the amount of Cunliffe's stealings, exceeding the $2,000 bond, would be a loss to the express company.

All employes of the express company are required to furnish a bond. These bonds range from $500 to $5,000.

close friends, and then he didn't warm up so that you could notice it.

"He never talked a great deal but was a good listener. He appeared to be more or less abstracted. He never gave the hint that he desired to become wealthy and is the last person in the world whom I would have suspected of the crime. Now that he has made way with it, I think that it would be as difficult to locate as Capt. Kidd's treasure. He is the quiet sort of fellow who could move through the city and never be noticed. He drinks no more, talks no more and smokes no more than the average man, and that's why I think that he will be able to move along smoothly and without attracting attention until he is ready to come back on his own accord."

Deserted Wife and Family Penniless.

Thus while detectives all over the Union, mounted police in Canada, the armed constabulary in the distant isles, the famous "gum shoe" men of Scotland Yard and the secret service men of the continent are watching with eagle eyes for the Pittsburgher with the $100,000 roll, the wife of the missing man, up in her home in Lorenz avenue, Thirty-ninth ward, is growing prematurely gray. Yesterday morning she awoke to the full realization of the crime. While her husband has absconded with a fortune in his pocket, his faithful wife and her four small children are left with but $6 with which to look after their wants.

Mrs. Cunliffe declares that she will not live with her husband again, and says that she will take her four children and return to her home in Hartford, Conn. She now mourns for him as dead. Cunliffe's mother is at present looking after the heart-broken wife and the children.

Frank and Richard Cunliffe, brothers of the missing express clerk, live in McKeesport and are well respected. Yesterday they refused to believe the story of the theft and declared that there must be some mistake as to the thief's identity. Both denied any knowledge of their brother's whereabouts and said that further discoveries in the case surely would lead to his vindication.

Cunliffe came here from the east about 18 months ago. Advices from Bristol, Conn., where he formerly resided and was employed by the Adams Express Company, state that he left there under a cloud. He was short to the extent of $300, and this, he said, was lost through the burning of his house. His story was believed and he received the sympathy of both his employers and neighbors. Subsequently $150 toward his assistance was raised by the townspeople. Later on it was learned that the express agent had lost a large sum playing policy, and it was believed that the missing $300 was included in this.

Frederick R. Cunliffe, another brother of the fugitive, who is employed by the express company, has been retained in its employ. The officers of the company stated that he could not be held responsible for his kinsman's crime and that he would be continued in its service while he fulfilled his duties.

Frederick was put under a searching examination, lasting five hours, Tuesday night by the Pinkertons. It was thought at first that he had a hand in the theft and could reveal something of his brother's movements. After the "sweat-box" session, however, he was released and will be allowed his freedom.

Thousands of Theories Entertained.

There are over 10,000 detectives in the United States, and it is safe to say that there are about as many theories of Cunliffe's plans among the sleuths today. No avenue of escape that occurs to their minds will be left unguarded. Careful watch has been kept on all the trains leaving Pittsburgh and at every prominent railroad station in the country the passengers on all through trains are being closely scrutinized.

Every passenger in every berth on every Pullman car will be watched. Every traveler in the coaches will be looked over, and none of the "hikers" in the smoker will be passed unnoticed. The tramp in the box car and his more hasty friend, the passenger on the "blind baggage," will be watched far more closely than ever.

In New York detectives from the city force and the Pinkertons are stationed at railroad yards to watch all trains entering New York, and not a ship will clear any American port without having some officer look it over from hurricane deck to forecastle for a stowaway who might turn out to be the fleeing Cunliffe. The men in New York who boast of the noiseless tread feel that they have a "hunch" that the man with the big roll will go first to their city. They have made the deduction that being a trained express agent and a man who is familiar with the map, he will naturally start to hit the long distances. For this reason they believe that he will float into Gotham and sail away, probably on some tramp steamer whose next port may be in the golden south seas, around the horn or past the treacherous waters of Good Hope.

If he doesn't go so far they feel that he will surely make a bee line for Britain or some remote town in Europe. When some of the sleuths think of the possibilities in the hands of the fleeing Cunliffe they almost envy his chances. Nothing quite so bold and daring has happened since the days when the German nobles on the Rhine plundered their neighbors and then spent their booty in high living in some battlemented castle surrounded with every luxury the age afforded.

No Reward Yet Offered for Cunliffe.

No reward has been offered for the arrest of the man. The Pinkerton agency always has many cases on its hands from the Adams company, and beyond the amount stolen and the remarkable manner in which the absconder escaped, this is no extraordinary matter for the big thief-catching institution. It is possible that later in a reward will be offered. This would come from the general offices of the express company in New York.

Charles H. Heiner, general agent of the express company in this city, had no information to offer yesterday. The case now rests entirely with the detectives and all the express employes have been summarily commanded to keep their lips sealed. The same order has gone forth at the Farmers bank. So faithfully is this mandate being obeyed that some of the people in the bank yesterday even denied knowing that the theft had occurred.

Was Revenge the Motive?

There are all sorts of stories in circulation as to the motive for Cunliffe's crime. One of these brings the charge of seeking vengeance to the fore. It is customary for express clerks to be charged with any missing money which may be taken from torn pacakges which pass through their hands. It is alleged that Cunliffe lost $6 from his pay last month because one of his packages was ripped. It is said that he wanted to resign, but on being retained, swore that he would seek vengeance after his own fashion. This version of the motive for the crime could not be verified.

One of the jokes of the whole matter is the willingness of the melodramatic playwright to utilize the story of Cunliffe's waywardness for exploitation upon the stage. In the lobby of a local theater last night was a young man with a checkered suit who declared that he had applied for the copyright for the title of a play which he declared he would have brought out before the end of the winter. While people laughed at him he was impertinently serious and insisted that it wouuld make "a great show."

BANK AND EXPRESS CLERKS MUST KEEP LIPS SEALED

Practical Jokers Cause Persons Knowing Inside of Robbery Case to Become Clam-Like.

It was a sorry set of people who looked across the screened counters in the Farmers bank and in the city office of the Adams Express Company yesterday afternoon. Every person who had an excuse for entering either counting room was persistent in knowing all about the latest developments in the case, and it was not surprising that the bank officials and tellers and the clerks in the express office lost their good humor.

Practical jokers were numerous and annoying. There were people who came into the express offices with packages sealed with red wax, and tossing it on the counter would shout: "Here's that $100,000. I just found it out on the street."

After a few hours the jokers wore out the patience of their victims, and the person who suggested the mention of the theft received a grunt or a black look in return. Finally the order was issued for all employes to "keep mum" and after that they simulated the expression of blank ignorance of the whole case.

INITIALS IN HAT LEADS TO ARREST OF SUSPECT

Verona Man Is Charged With Burglarizing Store—Headgear Found on Scene of Robbery.

A hat with the initials "C. V." inside led to the arrest of Clyde Valandingham on the charge of burglarizing the store of Samuel Zimmerman at Verona. Valandingham was arrested last night at his home in Verona by County Detectives John W. Reed and John Sonnefeld.

They took him before Justice A. L. Coover and preferred a charge of burglary against him. Unable to give bail he was taken to the county jail last night, but Warden Lewis discovered that the justice had failed to write the charge on the commitment and the warden refused to accept the prisoner.

The detectives took the prisoner before Alderman Louis Alpern and explained the matter and Alpern committed Valandingham on a charge of being a suspicious person. Zimmerman's store was robbed two weeks ago of about $400 worth of goods. The burglar left behind his hat in which was found the initials that correspond to the name of Valandingham, who has been a resident of Verona for seven years.

MASONIC VETERANS MEET.

The Nineteenth Annual Banquet and Reunion Proves Most Popular in the Association's History.

Ferns and flowers greeted the guests of the Masonic Veterans' Association of Western Pennsylvania at the 19th annual reunion and banquet held last night in Masonic temple, in Fifth avenue. The entertainment and banquet proved to be the most popular affair ever given by the association. There were over 300 Masonic veterans present, with their wives and daughters.

Harry Lauffer, president of the association, acted as toastmaster. The speakers were: Joseph W. Brown, right worshipful master of Pennsylvania; George W. Guthrie, grand junior warden; LaRue Thomas, past grand master; Thomas B. Alcorn and Daniel Ashworth. There was no program to be followed and the speakers' subjects were unknown until they responded to the toastmaster's call. The stewards who had charge of the affair were, Joseph Lauffer, Samuel Dinsmore Hubley and C. W. Helmold.

PRINCIPALS IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT GET LICENSE

Dr. W. W. Campbell, who sued Mrs. Rose A. Breitenreiter, a wealthy widow of McKeesport, for $25,000 damages for breach of promise to marry, have surprised their friends in McKeesport by taking out a marriage license at the court house. The license was issued on Monday. Dr. Campbell yesterday stated his suit for damages has not been dropped, and that no date has been set for the wedding. Negotiations for the settlement of the suit have been under way for a week, but Dr. Campbell stated that unless the terms of settlement are agreeable to both parties, the license will be returned and the suit will be tried in court. Mrs. Breitenreiter has been married twice and Dr. Campbell once.

"YES, IT'S ALL TRUE, MAMMA WAS MARRIED ON MONDAY"

Mabel McKinley Thinks She Will Like Her Stepfather, but Admits "Of Course I Never Had One."

"Yes—yes—it's all true—mamma's married," exclaimed Mabel McKinley in girlish glee in the lobby of Hotel Lincoln after the theater last night, when asked if reports were true that her mother, Mrs. Abner McKinley, sister-in-law to former President William McKinley, had been married in Baltimore to John B. Allen, a widower of Tampa, Fla.

"They were married Monday night—didn't you know it before this—I could have told you."

"Why didn't you?" was asked.

"Oh, that would have been too much like looking for a press notice," replied Miss McKinley, with a knowing wink that bespoke the fact that her brief theatrical training had not been for naught.

"I know I'll like him because mamma likes him—though I have never met him. I guess he is as good as the average stepfather, and I think I will like him—but, of course, you know I never had one before.

"Mamma has known him for a long time. They are old friends. I knew they were engaged, but, really, I didn't know they were to be married so soon. He was visiting in the north, and I guess they just made up their minds, and it was all over. Mamma wrote me on Saturday and told me all about it. I got the letter Monday morning telling me they would be married that night. And just think of it! They sent me flowers—instead of me sending them flowers. How odd! They are now in Roanoke, but I suppose mamma and my new father will visit me when we play in the east in three weeks. I am so glad mamma is happy now. You see, she has been so lonesome with me, the only child, away from home all the time. If she is happy I know I will be the same. Good night."

According to dispatches, Mrs. Annie McKinley and a Miss Annie Belden registered at Hotel Rennert, Baltimore, on Sunday as coming from New York. The following day a marriage license was secured for the wedding of Mrs. McKinley, who was given as a widow, aged 40, of New York, and John B. Allen, aged 55, a widower, of Tampa, Fla.

SEEKS TO DELAY TRIAL OF HILL

Manager of the Weaver-Wanamaker Syndicate Makes Political Move.

FEARS ACQUITTAL OF ACCUSED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.

Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, manager of the Weaver-Wanamaker political syndicate, yesterday sent a written request to District Attorney John C. Bell, asking a postponement until after election of the trial of John W. Hill, ex-chief of the bureau of filtration. Gordon's action has produced a sensation. It is regarded as tantamount to a confession that Hill is certain of acquittal and an attempt to delay his vindication until after election because of the effect it will have on the "reform" ticket.

District Attorney Bell has informed Mr. Gordon that his office will not consent to a delay and that the trial must proceed October 17, the date set, unless Gordon can convince the judges that he is entitled to a postponement. Mr. Bell's assistants are prepared to proceed under the indictments drawn by Gordon, who claimed to have evidence to support the charges of forgery and falsification of accounts.

It is understood that Mr. Gordon, in his letter to Mr. Bell, referred to the public's present state of mind, also that his two most important witnesses are no longer within the jurisdiction of the court. Both of these men were former employes of the bureau, one having been discharged by Mr. Hill. These men were produced by Gordon at the preliminary hearing.

Ex-District Attorney George S. Graham, counsel for Hill, insists that the trial proceed, referring to the fact that he has been trying to get it on the trial list for two months. At the time of Hill's arrest Judge Gordon wanted an immediate trial. He asked District Attorney Bell to push the Hill case; also the one against Councilman Caven, and demanded that Mr. Bell take the initiative in charges of criminal conspiracy against Israel W. Durham, State Senator James P. McNichol and others.

This the district attorney refused to do. He held that it was not within his line of duty and suggested that Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon make the necessary informations, as they had in the Hill and Caven cases. Then the matter rested. The accident to Mr. Bell, who was and still is, incapacitated, by a falling elevator, caused Gordon to announce both trials off until September. Since then he has been playing for a postponement until after election.

Two hundred members of the Young Republican club, of which Mayor Weaver is a member, tonight unanimously indorsed the Republican county ticket. The mayor was not present.

The committee of 21 members of the Union league, which selected the Republican ticket, has addressed a letter to the league disavowing the charge that they sought to represent that body, claiming, as they have always claimed, their action to be individual.

The other members of the jury will arrive this morning. They are W. Elmer Schofield, Robert Henri, Thomas Eakins, W. H. Howe, Ben Foster and W. L. Lathrop. VETERAN EMPLOYES HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Westinghouse Company's Workmen Receive Greeting While at Festive Board from Old Associate.

"With my old friends in my mind's eye I'll drink one toast to all on the broad Atlantic," was the greeting Francis L. Clark sent to his comrades of the Veteran Employes' association of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company, at their fifth annual banquet at the Hotel Henry last night. There were 55 members of the association present, and among the assemblage enjoying the pleasure of the evening were four men whose names were on the first payroll of the Westinghouse company, which was made up April 16, 1870. They were Christ. Horrocks, John R. MacClay and E. B. Cushing, all of whom are still in harness, and John Millhiser, who is on the pension list and enjoying the fruits of his labor.

The reunion was held in the reception room, and previous to the banquet, at which Herman H. Westinghouse and John Caldwell of the company, and Prof. Grant Norris were guests of the association. Mr. Westinghouse and Mr. Caldwell spoke of the days when they worked in the shops with the men who are now veterans, and Prof. Norris spoke on "Capital and Labor." Letters of regret were read from George Westinghouse and Francis L. Clark. The Sterling quartet, composed of Westinghouse employes, sang several songs. John Young, a member of the association, acted as toastmaster.

The officers of the Veterans' association are: E. B. Cushing, president; Charles Ament, vice president; Christ. Horrocks, secretary; John C. Boyle, treasurer. Francis L. Clark, Theodore A. Falz and Oscar Neubert are the trustees.

Trolley Wire Falls, Tying Up Traffic.

While the Allegheny fire department was fighting a small blaze in the residence of O. C. Wampler, 1525 Fremont street, at 7:30 last evening, a trolley wire extending from Washington avenue to Filmore street, was pulled down. A spectacular electrical display resulted and the Bellevue, Avalon and Brighton Road cars were stopped for almost an hour while repairmen were putting in a new wire. The fire in the Wampler residence was caused by the ignition of some gasoline that had been spilled on the kitchen floor by a domestic. The damage was slight.

FLINN CONTROLS TUNNEL ROUTES

Secures Charter for Fifth Avenue Subway and Blocks Fording Downtown Loup.

GRANT FOR EAST END LINE

Former Senator William Flinn has blocked the scheme of the Fording syndicate to construct tunnels under the downtown streets below Smithfield by securing yesterday from the state a charter for his Fifth avenue tunnel line. The Fifth avenue tunnel route extends from Forbes and Atwood streets along Atwood to Fifth avenue and under Fifth avenue down to Liberty avenue, with connecting lines along Liberty to Twelfth and from Liberty along Smithfield street to Water street. By securing the charter from the state for this route the Flinn company interferes with the Fording project to build a subway from Smithfield street under Oliver avenue to Liberty avenue, along Liberty to Ferry, Ferry to Third avenue, and under Third avenue and Smithfield street back to Oliver avenue.

This loop of the Fording line below Smithfield street was planned to connect with the terminus at Smithfield street and Oliver avenue of the East End tunnel line, extending out to Neville street, with branches to Ben Venue avenue and from the north end of Boquet street to Wylie avenue and Granite street.

The Fording people have all along claimed that the object of the Fifth avenue tunnel route was merely to block their line downtown. In this the Flinn company seems to have succeeded, the Fording syndicate yet failing to obtain a charter for its downtown loop, although its application was filed with those of five other lines of the same company.

Gov. Pennypacker yesterday approved the application of the Flinn company for the Fifth avenue subway to Oakland, and also the application of the East End Tunnel Company, a Fording concern. As stated, the East End Tunnel Company proposes to build a line from Smithfield street to Neville street. No reasons for the approvals of these two charters were given by the governor.

The Fording company has five other applications pending for tunnel and surface lines, and the Flinn company has four. The two lines of opposing companies for which charters were issued yesterday in no way conflict with each other. As the matter stands, the Flinn company holds a charter, the first one issued since the present contest began, for a tunnel from Seventh avenue and Grant street out to Craig street, and also the charter for the freight tunnel line to the East End granted a year ago, besides the one granted yesterday.

The Fording people say they can do nothing until the fate of their other five applications is determined by the governor.

ROMANCE AND TRAGEDY.

Unknown Girl at Morgue Was Ethel Hite of Marietta, O—Identified by Uncle.

The body of the young woman who committed suicide Monday night in Chatham street was identified yesterday at the morgue as Ethel Hite of 150 Lancaster street, Marietta, O. The identification was made by her uncle, Joseph Hite, of 608 Washington street, Allegheny. She was a daughter of William Hite of Marietta. Six years ago she eloped with Clyde Russell, a jockey. The couple went to Zanesville, where they were arrested, and the girl was taken home and sent to the convent of the Good Shepard at Columbus, where she remained until of age. After leaving the convent she married Russell and went to Wheeling. Later the couple secured a divorce and she came to this city, where she secured employment.

William Wenton, aged 35, a negro, was found dead yesterday morning in the office of the Wabash Transfer Company, 28 Carson street, South Side. He was employed as a watchman, and died from heart disease.

The body of the man found dead along the embankment of the Pennsylvania railroad at Twenty-eighth street yesterday morning was identified last night as that of Samuel Kirkpatrick, aged 25, of 7224 Dixon street. He was employed as a yard brakeman, and it is thought he fell over the bank and fractured his skull.

Rain which set in Tuesday night and continued to noon yesterday spoiled the second day's exhibition of the Sewickley Heights Horse Show association. During the morning downpour all thoughts of having the show at all were dismissed, but when the rain stopped and the threatening clouds broke away the executive committee suddenly decided to go on with it, and six classes were judged during the afternoon, the first class being called into the ring shortly after 2 o'clock. The show will conclude today, beginning at 9:30 a. m., and the unjudged classes of yesterday and those regularly carded for the day will be passed upon.

The bad day was full of disappointment to those who were looking Sewickleyward. Evidences of the storm were all about. Pesident Willock's horse tent was down. Stout coats and even furs were called into requisition against the penetrating chill. The brilliancy of the opening day had promised to be eclipsed by the two remaining ones, for interest increases as a horse show progresses. The management evinced an eagerness to conclude the show as programed, so that judges, officials and exhibitors could keep future engagements. It dispensed with the admission charge for the day and everything was free.

The ring, paths and driveways were very muddy. The footing on the outer side of the ring was quite good, but farther in it was very soft. High boots, both for men and women, were more than appropriate. It was unfortunate, as yesterday was essentially ladies' day, and they braved the unfavorable conditions like veritable heroines. Dainty boots picked the best spots to put them down, but the inevitable mud was always there. Feminine pluck asserted itself, and without hesitation the ladies showed their exhibits without flinching through the splashing of mud, and the riding habits showed they had been in the thick of the fray.

The ladies went right after the blue ribbons. Mrs. H. R. Rea won first honors in the high weight saddle class with Blue Boy. Miss Bessie L. Woods beat the field with Topsy in the pony saddle class, Miss Belle Beach rode Mrs. H. L. Collins' Countess to victory in the ladies' hunter class, Miss Blanche Harper landed a second and third for F. M. Lowry, and Miss Edith Flinn got a fourth in the same class. Miss Madelaine Laughlin won the hardest fight of the day with James H. Childs' Lady Jane in the ladies' saddle class. Miss Beach piloted Grand View farm's Front Royal into the red, Mrs. H. R. Rea was third with Blue Boy, and Mrs. W. N. Kerr got in the money with W. P. Snyder's Piatees in the same class.

Perhaps the most interesting class of the day was the one for ladies' hunters, ladies to ride. It brought an exceptionally strong field of ten, Lord Zetland, Kildare and Ina declining the issue. In the dark chestnut mare Countess Mrs. H. L. Collins turned out perfection itself in a ladies' hunter and she won quite off-hand in an otherwise very warm contest. Countess was admirably shown by Miss Belle Beach. Miss Blanche Harper captured a red with Harkaway and a yellow with Gladstone for F. M. Lowry. Miss Edith Flinn got a white ribbon with Pendennis. Miss Mary Flinn was outside the money with Redfellow, the safest and grandest hunter in the Harkaway hunt. His conformation did not satisfy the judges, and then he had something against the bars. F. M. Byers' Boer Hunter was almost unmanageable, but Miss Madelaine Laughlin pluckily tried her at the jumps until she disqualified herself. The judges lingered long with this class and gave great attention to conformation after the horses had been unsaddled in the ring.

Another interesting class was the one for ladies' saddle horses. James H. Childs won another notable victory with his very sweet Lady Jane, with Miss Madelaine Laughlin up. Of splendid substance, quality and conformation, and a grand goer withal, she was hard to beat. This makes three blues for Mr. Childs, who leads the show. Miss Belle Beach tried hard with Grand View farm's Front Royal, which she rode into the red, and Lily of the Valley, outside of the money. Miss Beach showed her skill by changing the horse's head at will. It seemed strange to see Mrs. H. R. Rea's hitherto unbeaten here Blue Boy wearing the yellow ribbon instead of the blue. Mrs. W. N. Kerr landed a white ribbon for W. P. Snyder on Piatees.

R. P. McGrann won his first blue of the show in the small single harness class with King of the Vale. He tried also in this class with Francois in the hands of Donnon, his manager, but was outside the money. The rain came down again while this class was shown.

F. M. Lowry also won his first blue ribbon of the show in the left-over sporting tandem class with Harkaway and Diamond Jubilee, in spite of the former having something against the bar at the second jump, their lead in tandem being impressive. His Lady Curzon hitched with William Thaw's Boston was second. Pittsburgh Country club's Soda and Volley were third. Volley had a clean record in the jumps, but his conformation was against him. The exhibits were first shown to a tandem cart and then the leaders were put over the sticks. There was no white ribbon awarded for Mrs. J. V. Thompson's entry, the only other one, was disqualified. Her leader Bob made three refusals at the jumps.

Class 24—Saddle horses, judged by their quality, manners, pace and conformation. Horses up to carrying 200 pounds and over. First—Mrs. H. R. Rea, Pittsburgh; Blue Boy and second, Grand View farm, Sunday, b. g.

Class 27—Saddle ponies, 13.1 to 14.2, judged by their quality, manners, pace and conformation. First—Miss Bessie L. Woods, Pittsburgh, Topsy, b. m.; second, R. T. M. Class 2—Horses in harness, 14.1 and not exceeding 15.2. First—Grand View farm, Lancaster, King of the Vale, ch. g; second, B. F. Jones, Jr., Pittsburgh, Spur, b. g.; third, James H. Childs, Sewickley, Wild Rose, b. m.; fourth, Irvington farm, Sewickley, Dalphene, ch. m.

Class 29—Ladies' hunter, conformation, manners and performance over fence to count; ladies to ride. First—Mrs. Henry L. Collins, Sewickley, Countess, ch. m.; second, F. M. Lowry, Pittsburgh, Harkaway, ch. g.; third, F. M. Lowry, Gladstone, ch. g.; fourth, Miss Edith Flinn, Pittsburgh, Pendennis, br. g.

Class 22—Ladies' saddle horse, quality, manners, pace and conformation to count. First—James H. Childs, Sewickley, Lady Jane, b. m.; second, Grand View farm, Lancaster, Front Royal, br. g.; third, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Sewickley, Blue Boy, gr. g.; fourth, Mrs. W. P. Snyder, Sewickley, Piatees, g. g.

Class 32—Sporting tandems. Judged first as a tandem, then leader saddled and shown over four jumps. First—F. M. Lowry, Pittsburgh, Diamond Jubilee, gr. g. and Harkaway, ch. b.; second, William Thaw, Sewickley, and F. M. Lowry, Pittsburgh, Boston, ch. g. and Lady Curzon, ch. m.; third, Pittsburgh Country club, Soda, gr. g. and Volley, ch. m.

This will be the big day at the horse show and horses will be in the ring from 9:30 o'clock till the last class of the show has been before the judges. In addition to the nine classes regularly carded, six left-over classes of yesterday will be judged. The five champion classes in which horses that have been first in this or in any other recognized show will compete will be worth going far to see. The program of the morning is:

9:45—Class 15, ponies in harness.
10:00—Class 17, single Victorias.
10:30—Class 14, park fours.
11:00—Class 10, horses in harness.
11:30—Class 31, hunt teams.
12:00—Class 3, horses in harness.

CHILLY WEATHER HURTS THE CROWD

Horse Show Audience Appears in Wraps and Another Day of Brilliancy Ensues.

MANY GAY SOCIAL FEATURES

There was a marked difference between the gowning at the horse show yesterday and that of the opening day. Furs and heavy wraps were quite the thing yesterday, and few of the women sat through the entire show. The audience was made up largely of the women from the Heights and the valley, with those who are down over the show as house guests of friends on the Heights, for not many from Pittsburgh and Allegheny ventured out because of the chilly weather. Notwithstanding the fact that the audience was much smaller than that of yesterday, the grandstand presented a scene of much more warmth and color than on the first day when white suits and gowns were predominant.

The outlook in the morning was not at all promising, but as the day wore on the weather cleared and only one heavy shower of short duration marred the afternoon's performance. As the rain fell there was a general scamper for the grandstand. From the tallyhos in the parking spaces, from the boundary rail and promenade they fled and for a short time the ring was totally deserted save for the judges. It was then that the real social side of the horse show was to be seen. The grandstand resembled nothing quite so much as the scene of an afternoon tea where every one gathered to exchange pleasantries and comments. There was little promenading as the rains of the night had seriously affected the grounds. The boxes, too, were not quite so full, and many members of the parties showed a preference for the seats in the grandstand, which were farther under cover than the boxes.

Chic Riding Habits in Evidence.

A number of women rode during the afternoon and consequently the chic riding habit was much in evidence until their class was called. Mrs. Henry Robinson Rea again rode, this time in a black suit. Miss Belle Beach was also in black. Mrs. H. A. Carpenter wore a habit of dark blue. Mrs. W. N. Kerr rode in a habit of black. Miss Caroline Slack wore the same, with a neat little colonial hat, while Miss Mary Flinn and her sister, Miss Edith Flinn, were dressed alike in habits of black and sailor hats, with bands of black and white striped ribbon.

Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., wore a long coat suit of black, with a small white hat. Mrs. William Walter Willock wore a coat suit of mixed gray with a pale blue hat trimmed with wings. One of the trimmest little figures seen in the ring and in the stand was Miss Mary Snyder, who rode in a neat little tan suit with tan boots and a simple brown felt hat caught up at the front with a quill, her long curly locks flying madly from under the brim. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne covered her gown with a handsome gray silk cloak, while with it she wore a smart little white hat. A suit of light gray and a hat of blue were worn by Miss Marguerite Singer, and her mother, Mrs. William Henry Singer, was wholly in black. Mrs. J. Dawson Callery had on a handsome suit of lavender cloth and a small black hat. Miss Marian Chambers wore a black and white checked suit and a blue and white hat with wings.

Several Social Affairs.

Mrs. William P. Snyder's gown of pale blue was covered with a long black coat. Mrs. Henry Lafayette Collins was among the more venturesome who appeared on the promenade despite the mud and dampness. She was attired in a small black felt hat and long black coat with fur collar and cuffs. Mrs. James Harold Childs and her sister, Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook, both wore dark gray coat suits, the former having a small dark hat, while Mrs. Cook wore a larger one with side trimmings of gray wings. Mrs. William Booth Trainer was also in gray, and Miss Jane Bennett wore a light tan coat and blue chiffon hat.

The usual quota of social affairs, aside from the horse show, filled the morning and evening for the busy members of the Heights colony. The younger people were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Snyder in the evening when they gave a cotillion at "Wilpen Hall," their beautiful home. Miss Evelyn Black, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Black's daughter, and a niece of the host and hostess, was the guest of honor. The cotillion served as Miss Black's formal introduction to society as she is one of this season's buds. There were two figures of a cotillion danced just before supper, George S. Oliver leading the first with Miss Black, while Miss Pauline Dilworth, another of the season's debutantes, danced with Charles Irwin in the second. The favors were dainty affairs appropriate to an event of horse show week.

Whips and Spurs for the Men.

For the men there were whips and spurs and bits while to the girls were given hunting crops and rosettes composed of blue, red, yellow and white ribbons with "Wilpen Hall' in gilt lettering. Horse shoes and stirrups were also distributed, each favor being tied with ribbons in the four colors. Some of the favors were tied to broad sashes on which was lettered "Wilpen Hall, 1905."

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder are entertaining a house party of young people over the show, their guests including Miss Black, Miss Pauline Dilworth, Miss Bessie Woods and Miss Lucy Kay.

Mrs. Willock's breakfast at the Allegheny Country club was a handsome event of the morning. The decorations were a feature of the breakfast. Red dahlias filled a large silver coach horn occupying the center of the table, and surrounding it were small horse shoes of the same flowers, while whips were stacked about the table. The place cards were dainty water colors of a girl and horse, and the favors were silver horse shoes. Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Griffin's dinner at the club, the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Willock and another by Charles McKnight, all took place at the club house last evening.

Glass Factories to Resume.

The purpose of the meeting of window glass manufacturers at the Hotel Anderson tomorrow apparently is unknown to members of the organization in this city. It is declared there will be no further conferences with the officers of the new organization, and President A. L. Faulkner has not been invited to attend the meeting. The Camp window glass plant at Smethport started last night, and the Hazelhurst factory will likely resume today. The Brownsville factory is ready for operation and will probably start tomorrow night.

Kirby Issues a Warning.

Magistrate J. J. Kirby, at central police station, has issued a warning to all who are in the habit of carrying revolvers or knives with very long blades. Kirby says that men arrested for carrying weapons will be severely dealt with, and believes that if the habit is discouraged there will be fewer shooting and cutting scrapes in the city.

Arthur Murphy and Mary Shomaker of 1629 Edna street, are in jail for a hearing this afternoon on a charge of cruelty to Mrs. Shomaker's 5-year-old son, Carl Shomaker, preferred by an agent of the Humane society. Write for free Booklet No. 20, "BANKING BY MAIL."

"The creating of a successful original model in men's clothes is a mark of genius—and a genius in the modeling of men's garments is one of the best paid of all craftsmen."

Hence the cost of an original model is sometimes very great; but after the original model has once been created it is a simple task to take it apart, exactly duplicate all of its lines, produce a number of garments just like it.

This explains why so much originality, style and fit can be found in the R. & W. garments—and why they are reasonably priced.

Invitation to an Opening of Fancy Needlework.

A more opportune time could not have been set for asking women to see the new ideas in fancy needlework, those that have been brought out in Europe, as well as in this country, than today. The excursions promise to bring many thousands of visitors to town.

This unique exhibit, which takes place in third floor, West, will in part consist of handsome specimens of Empire embroidery, Hedebo embroidery and other styles, together with many novelties, such as artistic pin cushions, coat hangers, boudoir sets, hand-made bells, and lots of other things that women appreciate.

Works of Standard Authers for Much Less Than Half Prices.

Here is a great bid for the attention of men and women who favor only the highest standards in literature. Without going into detail, we may say sort of parenthetically that we bought these sets recently for particularly small prices; that the printing is from large, clear type; that the paper is fine, and that the books are substantially bound. Perhaps the following quotations may lead you to look ahead to the holidays:

Thursday, October 12, 1905.

Finally the riksdag of Sweden has unanimously ratified the Karlstad agreement for the separation of Norway. This practically closes the incident. From the first The Gazette expressed confidence in the triumph of good sense and the preservation of peace by the peoples of the peninsula. The controversy presented ample opportunities for folly, but the conservative sense of the Scandinavians has led them safely through.

Notice has been served by Macedonian terrorists on a British consul that unless certain things are done the consul will be murdered and the consulate burned. The Macedonian terrorists are capable of carrying out their threat, but the fact will not alter the policy of the British government, nor will execution of the diabolic program advance the cause of the Macedonians. Their principal trouble in getting reforms is they are little if any better than their Turkish oppressors.

The reported refusal of several persons in Richmond, Virginia, to attend the luncheon to be given in honor of President Roosevelt can be traced back, of course, to the famous Booker T. Washington episode at the White House. Those of the First Families of Virginia who have been guilty of this discourtesy to the head of the nation have made themselves so ridiculous it is not surprising they should desire their identity to remain unknown.

President Roosevelt's desire to have the rules of football modified is entirely laudable and should prove influential. Mr. Roosevelt is an exponent of the strenuous school who is not likely to be accused of mawkish sentiment because he disapproves the undeniably brutal features of the "socker" game. Football has been reformed in England and improved. The new game is sufficiently strenuous and exciting. It is worthy the most careful consideration of American colleges and athletic associations.

If reports are accurate the establishment of a "Jim Crow" school in one of the suburbs of Monessen will afford opportunity for a flood of litigation. Westmoreland county is not to be congratulated on the new departure. Promoters of the enterprise must be credited with the sincere purpose to find a rational escape from complaints of favoritism, but it appears they have leaped from the frying pan into the fire. There was probably no basis for the original complaints, and it is likely the complainants are now the bitterest opponents of the separate school.

So difficult is it to tell whether a particular utterance of the German press is "inspired" from high official sources or is the original opinion of the editor, that the exact amount of significance to be accorded the attack of a Berlin journal upon our army is not easy to measure. The statements made regarding the personnel of the United States army are, of course, without a particle of foundation. It has long been a matter of principle with German newspapers to stir up as much trouble with other nations as possible, since they are not permitted to speak their minds regarding affairs in their own country.

Reasonable people should be satisfied with the new arrangement regarding encores at Pittsburgh orchestra concerts. Orchestral numbers are not to be repeated except at "popular" concerts; soloists who appear twice on the program will not respond to encores; soloists who appear but once will respond to a single encore. This plan will enable the audience to express its appreciation of soloists' efforts in a practical manner without extending the program to an undesirable length. Soloists who appear twice on the program will not begrudge the encores received by their fellow performers who are not definitely scheduled for more than a single number.

Harsh administration of Korean affairs, with which Japan is charged, the dispossession of peasants from their lands without compensation and the resultant poverty and distress, will if proven occasion disappointment that the victors are not making a wiser use of their power. The announcement that a "stern policy" is to be adopted toward Korea by Japan is not reassuring. Fear of a concerted uprising of the Koreans is assigned as the reason for quartering part of the Manchurian army in Korea. Less weight would be attributed to the charges against Japan did they come from any less reliable source than Editor Hurlburt of the "Korean Review," an American and long-time student of Korean affairs.

Not an Orphan, Now.

From the Leader, apologist for the Citizens party in general, we learn that City Controller Larkin declared yesterday he was done with the Orphans. Director Bigelow said last summer: "Larkin is not an Orphan, now; he has 'been elected.'" These two authorities on Larkin agree and the apologist assigns for Larkin's desertion of the Orphans their refusal to support the Citizens ticket.

July 30, 1903, the Leader said: "Controller Larkin gave further expression to his political sentiments this morning. He declares for no alliance with the Citizens party unless that party is put under new leadership. If it is not he says the Democrats ought to cut loose and put up a ticket of their own." October 27, 1903, John B. Larkin and 13 members of the councils who were elected as Citizens met and resolved to "cut loose" from the corrupt Citizens leaders. They signed a statement giving their reasons. As late as July 25, 1904, Mr. Larkin said: "Director Clark is a capable, honest and efficient city official. * * * * But neither he nor any other man can restore the Citizens party to confidence while it has stolen goods in its pockets."

Now, when the Orphans have done what Larkin advised the Democrats to do, the controller has pompously separated himself from the Orphans. The Citizens party still has the "stolen goods in its pockets;" it has not complied with a single one of the demands made in the Orphan pronunciamento; the Citizens party has not been put under new leadership; it has not redeemed one of the pledges it made to the people. Director Clark cannot "restore it to confidence," "neither he nor any other man," not even Mr. Larkin, nor the apologist Leader, "while it has stolen goods in its pockets" and the goods are on it. Mr. Larkin's light was shining brighter when he was arraigning the thieves than now since he has joined the Leader in apologizing for them.

The Express Robbery.

It is not probable the young man who took over $100,000, entrusted to his care as an express company agent, will succeed in getting away with the plunder. He may for a time evade the sharp-eyed men who are on his trail, meanwhile leading a life of misery. When he is captured the prison awaits him. He has sacrificed his chance of a happy life with his loved children, in a moment of temptation, for it is probable he had not planned robbery long in advance of the deed.

While it is profitable for every man to dwell on the fact that honesty is always the best policy, and that agony dwells on the other side, it is pertinent to point a concrete lesson to the banks and express companies. Familiarity with large sums of money in trust sometimes blinds the executive officers of great corporations to the precautions that ought to be taken. No such sum of money as that taken by Cunliffe should ever be entrusted, unchecked, to the hands of one clerk. At least two men should be sent out by the banks to safely deliver such package, and they should not be delivered until receipted for by at least two agents for the express company. This sort of "check" would save many foolish young men from folly.

There is in the incident proof of the honesty of the great majority of mankind. Were men, in general, dishonest, elaborate precautions for safety would be the rule. They are not the rule, yet performances of the Cunliffe type are as rare as those of the Leonard kind, which caused the recent sensation in New York. Greater precautions should be taken, not merely to prevent loss, but to save the weak from temptation and error.

City People and Politeness.

One who has made an investigation of the subject, both urban and suburban, offers the opinion that there is little real public politeness in the large city and that "for the development of the finer feelings and of real character, a small city or the country is the best place to live in. If you want to be a fine, kindly, openhearted man, beware of living in a large city."

London is the largest city in the world. Paris is one of the largest. The London omnibus conductor says "thank you" when you tender your fare. The waiter in the cheapest London restaurant thanks you when you give your order. Politeness seems to be in the atmosphere in Paris. The stranger inquiring his way meets with the most charming courtesy. Alphonse and Gaston are to be seen in real life in the streets of Paris. Even the gendarme making an arrest performs his duty with a polished consideration for his captive which is almost laughable. We Americans are not so polite, outwardly, as some of our European cousins. We say we are too busy; that we haven't time. Herein we err. We have the time if we would but take it. But if we are not so polite as some others, this is not saying that we have no manners at all. There is as much politeness in the large city as in the small town. As has often been said, a woman may travel unaccompanied from one end of this country to the other and meet with not a single discourtesy, but, on the contrary, with unfailing politeness and consideration. Chaperones are an absolute necessity in Europe, where public politeness is more apparent than in this country. There are more opportunities for politeness in a large city than in a small town, and naturally many of the opportunities are missed in the inevitable rush and haste. That is why the cursory observer makes his hasty comparison in favor of the small town and the country.

Mr. Vanderlip's Warning.

In an address delivered before the American Bankers' association, in convention at Washington yesterday, Frank A. Vanderlip uttered a note of warning which seems to have been intended directly for Wall street. After recounting the unprecedented agricultural prosperity, and referring to the extremely bright outlook for general business, Mr. Vanderlip said:

> Should a stock market speculation start from the present high level of prices in the face of the extraordinary demand for capital and money which crops and business alike are making, the result might easily be temporary disaster. It is no time for prudence to be cast to the wind; no time for speculative commitments which would yield disaster if temporary reverses came.

A smart reaction occurred in the stock market immediately after the publication of the address, and prices closed lower. Wall street laid great stress upon Mr. Vanderlip's closing remarks, first, because he is a vice president of the National City bank of New York, the largest bank in the United States and affiliated with Standard Oil interests; and second, because Mr. Vanderlip on a former occasion before the same association uttered a similar warning which came none too soon. On the present occasion he undoubtedly had in mind the large professional cliques in the market who have been confidently predicting a rampant bull market the coming winter, accompanied by higher prices than ever before witnessed.

The situation as described by Mr. Vanderlip, and the possibilities which may grow out of it unless commonsense governs the operations of speculators, has been plain to the general public for weeks past. In its financial reviews The Gazette has pointed out that the activity in the money market is world-wide, proof of which is seen in the rising discount rates in London and continental markets. It has also pointed out that the movement of the largest crops ever grown and the handling of the largest iron and steel tonnage in our history would increase the demand for money to the maximum; that while these conditions constituted a "bullish" argument on the stock market, it would be dangerous to the entire situation if speculators persisted in bidding against the country for the use of bank credits. The latter are not elastic enough to stand the twofold strain of business and speculation when both are at high tension. Every attempt in this direction in the past has resulted in disaster to the speculators and more or less disturbance to legitimate interests. Wall street sometimes requires a special light to see things as the rest of the country sees them, and it will be a good thing if it heeds the signal hoisted by Mr. Vanderlip.

We are pained to observe a tendency on the part of the rural press to take seriously the remarks of Henry Labouchere on the subject of wife chastisement. The next thing we know, somebody will be nominating Henry for president of the Wife-Beaters' union.

Speaking of the county officers, Mr. Larkin asks if, under like circumstances in private employ, you would discharge the old employe. Most assuredly. No employe is worthy of confidence when he allies himself with grafters who have "stolen goods in their pockets."

The woman who is trying to make up her mind whether to get last year's gown made over and buy a new hat, or get a new gown and make the old hat do another season, can't understand how the men can get so excited over baseball and politics.

If Uncle Sam adopts that idea of having phonographs to swear at the Panama canal mules, somebody wants to know who will get the job of phonograph filler. We have a distinguished local Democrat in mind if nominations are in order.

Persons who are talking of the need for a coin of less value than the cent, for very small transactions, may find an additional argument in the fact that Edward Atkinson's autograph has been offered for sale in Boston.

"We have had the stone age, the iron age and the rest of them, and now we are to have the woman's age," says Charlotte Perkins Gilman. It has been carefully concealed so far.

The "yawning disaster," which a Boston anti-expansionist says is waiting for the country, is probably yawning because it's tired waiting and sees no prospect of ever getting there.

Count Witte has been imperially thanked for his work at Portsmouth, which should reconcile him to missing some of the good jobs that are going to the other fellows.

"Skim milk" is now used extensively in papermaking," says the Scientific American. Very true. Many papers do so, but Gazette readers get the cream of the news.

A Chicago man who told a lie was fined $25 by a justice of the peace. By actively following this precedent, Chicago could easily provide for all her municipal expenses.

A friend says Mr. Bryan will take treatment for eye trouble when he gets around to Europe. Perhaps he will yet learn to see himself as others see him.

Having been informed that Controller Cunningham has the deciding vote in the salary board, the Leader has shown the good sense to drop that subject.

Invitations to the peace conference are being accepted with the understood proviso, "Unless too busy fighting!"

The Post's editorials are food for laughter and its jokes for tears.

It may yet be as safe to engage in football as in pugilism

And "Buck's" old place was called the "Leader" saloon.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

There Is Not Very Much to Find Fault With in This Life.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"I love this world as it wags. Don't you?
It's a pretty good world to stay in;
The old ship's manned with a jolly good crew
And is fitted to work and to play in;
So we'll sail right along
With a shout and a song;
It's a merry old world to grow gray in!"

How do you like this world, just take it as it goes from day to day?

Some folks don't like it at all, but their reasons are not satisfactory, and will hardly be accepted as excuses for their failure to prosper while here.

You may know people whose homes are unattractive, uncomfortable, and even unhealthy, while others have attractive, comfortable and healthy homes in far less desirable locations.

It is the occupants who make the home, and not the carpenter who builds the house.

If you will bear this fact in mind and act upon the suggestion, you may have a pleasant home, no matter where you may locate.

Stop and think for a moment, or better still, for a few minutes.

What is there that you need to make you comfortable that the earth does not afford in plenty? Is there not everything at hand that any reasonable man can ask?

True, dollars already coined do not tumble into his pocket, nor do roasted birds and cookies fall into his dish whenever he is hungry, but there are dollars and roasted birds and cookies for all who will make reasonable effort to get them.

Are you kicking because you have to reach out to get the comforts which the earth offers to you?

Don't you think it would be just as sensible on your part to go to a bank and demand money simply because there is money on the counter?

The bank will gladly give you the money on reasonable terms; and so will mother earth give you the comforts of life on reasonable terms.

What is your kick, anyway?

If you have one let us know what it is, and maybe we can help you to get what's coming to you.

There is no use asking for more than is coming to you, for you won't get it, but if you have a just and reasonable claim it will be satisfied in full if you will present it in proper form.

This ought to encourage us to look carefully into our several cases and see they have been properly presented. Those of us who have filed complaints, protests or kicks, should review our cases with a view to finding the cause of delay, for there is something wrong, sure, else we would have had the desired blessings.

So, if you are not reasonably comfortable and prosperous, and feel certain that it is no fault of yours, state your case, and someone will help you to discover the cause of the trouble.

Most people are disposed to fly off the handle without first determining whether it is worth while. This, as you will agree, is not in accordance with common sense, and can only lead to failure and discomfort.

It is better to look before you leap, even if you are in an uncomfortable, or even critical position, for there is always a possibility of getting into the fire by jumping out of the frying pan.

"I take this world as it comes. Don't you?
Its thorns, here and there, and its flowers;
And whether its skies be of gray or of blue,
And whether we've sunshine or showers.
We can work, we can dream,
For we know that the scheme
Is ordained of benevolent powers."

Don't you think the world is doing right by you? Just take all in all, are you not getting about what you deserve?

Being an observant and reasoning person you do not expect roses without thorns, summer heat without winter storms, nor pleasure without some pain?

But on the whole, are you not getting a fair share of the good things which this world has in store for mankind?

If not, you should make your case known, so that your friends may turn in and help you to get what is coming to you. It is there, all right, you may depend upon that.

A good many go hungry and cold just because they won't go and get the food and clothing that is waiting for them to come and present their credentials.

There is a lot of talk about poverty in this city, and no doubt there is some, but very little as compared with the comfort and prosperity that exists.

Go where you will within city limits and you find evidences of comfort and prosperity. Street after street, and avenue after avenue, stretching from center to circumference of the town, are lined with comfortable houses, while their inmates, numbering thousands upon thousands, appear to be comfortably fed and clothed.

Off in the byways you find some evidences of poverty, but these are so few, as compared with evidences of prosperity, that one can hardly help concluding that the talk we hear about poverty is mostly all talk.

And when you stop and examine into the causes of what poverty there is you are compelled to conclude that it might have all, or nearly all, been prevented had these people been reasonably well educated and encouraged to become self-supporting.

Are we doing what we can to eliminate poverty from the social problem? This is a matter well worth the serious attention of society folks when they meet in clubs, or at social functions, don't you think?

"I love this world with its ups and downs,
Its toils and its pains and its piddling,
Though we don't wear diamonds, robes or crowns,
We are gay if we pay for the fiddling.
So we'll dance and we'll sing
In a rosy-round ring;
Oh, I reckon it's fair to middling!"

Does the poet, whose verses have been standwiched into this article, express your sentiments? They are by that fellow Lewis of the Houston Post. He seems to be all right, notwithstanding he is away down in Texas.

But, then, human nature is about the same in Texas that it is elsewhere, and the people there are going along the same as they are here, some complaining more or less, others pegging away contentedly, while some are in the frenzied ranks, fighting for money, money to burn their lives out, leaving hardly ashes enough to mark the spot.

Poets don't usually get much money, but it is a safe bet that Lewis is as comfortable and happy as any millionaire in the Lone Star state.

Are you as contented as you would be if you had a million?

How They Square Themselves.

A bank president recently indicted in Peoria, Ill., sadly ascribes his prosecution to "the wave of reform which seems to be sweeping over the country." Evildoers caught in that wave are disposed to commiserate themselves as the victims of some abnormal and unnatural calamity.—New York Tribune.

Even That Wouldn't Stop 'Em.

The Chicago Tribune thinks congress, at its coming session, should do something for the prevention of railroad wrecks. Punch suggested a plan many years ago. It was simply to tie a couple of directors on the front of each engine.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

PHIPPS HOPES TO SEE TUBERCULOSIS CURE

But Pittsburgh Philanthropist Is Not Man Who Has Made Offer to Dr. Behring.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A local paper announces "it is generally conceded it was Henry Phipps" who offered to give $50,000 to Professor Behring of Paris if the latter would give his new-found consumptive cure to the world at once.

"When Mr. Phipps established the Phipps Institute in Philadelphia for the study of tuberculosis," said a prominent physician today, "it was generally understood it was only a beginning. Nobody thought Mr. Phipps intended to make this the end or object of his efforts in behalf of tuberculous sufferers. His interest in the so-called discoveries, from time to time brought to the attention of medical men, has been marked, and he has taken a step beyond any other layman in helping the profession along in its discoveries.

"Mr. Phipps is at present in Italy, where there is the most intense interest in tuberculosis remedies, and he has on several occasions this year instructed his physician, Dr. Flick, to investigate remedies which seemed to hold out promise. Dr. Flick has made no recommendations, so far as is known, but it is generally understood among the medical profession that he is interested in Dr. Behring's discovery, and is anxious to introduce it in the Phipps Institute in Philadelphia. At the same time, it is Mr. Phipps' intention to give the remedy to the world and to make it free to all mankind, without money or price."

Unfortunately it happens to be a fact that it was not Mr. Phipps who made the offer, but a man now in active business life in New York. There is little doubt, however, that Mr. Phipps would gladly double the offered donation if it were acceptable to Dr. Behring.

Western Union's Big Loss.

At the annual meeting of Western Union stockholders this afternoon President Robert C. Clowry reported that the revenues of the company had been decreased $215,756 during the past year on account of the discontinuance of race reports. The business of the year brought in gross revenues of $29,033,635.04, as compared with $29,249,390.44 last year; expenses were $21,845,570.32, as compared with $21,361,915.48; net revenues, $7,188,064.72, and profits, $5,960,846.72, against $6,729,774.98 for 1904. This makes a decrease of $768,910 in profits.

Lots of Gold in Panama.

According to James Boileau, a Detroit mining engineer who arrived from Colon today, the isthmus of Panama is destined to be one of the greatest gold-producing regions of the world. "At present the practical impossibility of determining the legality of land titles prevents mining companies from even attempting to operate on a large scale," said Mr. Boileau. In Canaz, where Mr. Boileau's company has been operating, pay ore was discovered in large quantities near the surface, and the slag heaps of primitive mines worked years ago were found to richly repay working over.

Dog as First Aid to Burglars.

A Great Dane dog, noted for being intensely savage, made friends with burglars in the saloon of William Zarskis, at 111 Wythe avenue, Williamsburg, early this morning and let them roll into the yard a safe weighing 700 pounds, which they intended to blow open, but were prevented by the breaking of a steel drill they were using. In the safe was $150 in cash and jewelry worth $600. The dog is kept chained in the yard all day and at night, when Zarskis closes up, he leads the animal into the saloon and leaves him to run about. When Policeman McLaughlin of the Bedford avenue station passed the saloon at 3 o'clock he saw the dog roaming about. It barked at him. McLaughlin went about his business.

"No Baggage Rule" Causes Trouble.

William S. Brown, Wall street exporter in the Asiatic trade, has begun suit against William C. Muschenheim of the Hotel Astor for $10,000 damages because he refused to accommodate himself and his wife on August 6. According to the complaint filed in the United States circuit court, Southern division, Mr. and Mrs. Brown were attending a dinner at the hotel. They live at Westfield, N. J., and as it was late Mr. Brown proposed they should stay all night in town. They applied for a room, and, it is claimed, they were allowed to register. When the clerk saw they had no baggage, it is claimed, he refused to assign them to a room.

Surface Cars Lose Money.

That the surface car lines of the Metropolitan system lost 11,937,626 passengers in the past year, owing to the severe winter and the opening of the subway, was the startling showing revealed today when the annual report of the New York City Railway Company was made public. A new short-haul business is being developed and is rapidly restoring the company's business to a profitable basis.

"Benny" Will Now Be Popular.

Get out your winter overcoats. You will need 'em tonight. A special storm warning was received at the local weather office from Washington this morning saying that a rapid fall of temperature was to be expected late this afternoon and that high winds and possibly a storm were on the way. Forecaster Emery, in ordering special signals displayed, said it would be cold enough for heavy overcoats.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Ancedote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

A clergyman was condemning a man who had refused to subscribe to a worthy charity.

"I'll tell you something about that man," he said, "which I had promised myself never to reveal. It was as nasty a piece of irreverence, I guess, as history records.

"This fellow once was impious enough to get rid of an unwelcome guest by using a prayer as a—ah—a bouncer.

"The guest, it seems, had overstayed his time—had been invited for a week, remained a fortnight, and showed a disposition to continue on a month. It was aggravating, I admit. But to bounce him with a prayer! Well!

"That, though, is what the man did. At the end of the second week he concluded the usual morning exhortation with this sentence:

"'And, Lord, bless, we beseech Thee, Brother Jonathan Sharp, who leaves us by the 5 o'clock train this afternoon.'"—Topeka Journal.

Old Story Retold.

Attorney John T. Cook is always full of reminiscent tales of the experiences of the profession. To a group of friends the other evening he told the following: "A young lawyer in the country districts went before the justice of the peace in his town with his first case. He asked for a postponement so that he could prepare his case. The defendant was charged with a breach of the peace and public intoxication. It was a very plain case, but the young lawyer contended that he would require a couple of hours to make his argument for a postponement.

"I can understand all you have to say in a few minutes," said the judge.

"I am satisfied that I shall take fully two hours in my argument," persisted the young lawyer.

"Very well; have your own way; but it will take the prisoner about 180 days to tell why he employed you."—Albany Journal.

Difficulty of Pleasing.

Nobody outside the journalistic profession has any idea how difficult it is for an editor to please some of his patrons. For instance, referring to a public man's reputation for carelessness in the matter of his toilet, a paper announced: "Mr. Maguire will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." This made Maguire furious, and he demanded a retraction, which appeared thus: "Mr. Maguire requests us to deny that he will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." Oddly enough this only enraged Maguire the more.—San Francisco News Letter.

Babes and Fathers.

William Dean Howells, with his new novel, "Miss Bellard's Inspiration," has excited the interest of women to an unusual degree. The women of America are beginning to suspect that Mr. Howells sometimes laughs at them, and they very much desire to obtain from the great writer a frank and definite opinion of the feminine character.

At Kittery, the other day, a young girl questioned Mr. Howells on his theories and beliefs regarding womankind.

"At least," said Mr. Howells, smiling, "women are not boasters. They do not go about telling the world how clever they are, and what great things they propose to do. What the Paint Rock lady said to her husband could never have been said truthfully by her husband to her.

"At Paint Rock there dwelt a young couple with an only child, a baby 4 months old.

"One evening, when the young man returned from work, his wife said to him:

"'Oh, Elmer, the baby is beginning to take after you.'

"'After me?' said the young man. 'In what way?'

"'He's beginning to crow,' she answered."—Exchange.

Johnny Pepperpod's Philosophy.

"I hate school. The teacher makes me mind. That is, she thinks she does. If Towser could go to school with me it wouldn't be so bad. Poor dog! It would make you cry if you could see how bad Towser feels when he sees me start for school and leave him behind. When I kiss him goodby, his tail wags so mournfully like and he looks as though he would like to go out behind the barn and have a good cry. Cannot see why bright, knowing dogs should not be taken to school as well as good little boys like me. Towser thinks so, too. My mamma has to put her arms around his neck and Miss Calliope Strauss grabs hold of his tail and both have all they can do to keep him from breaking his rope and following me when I start for school. Good old Towser! Miss Cranberry Marsh, the teacher, says dogs are not fit to go to school, but she don't know everything, if she did she wouldn't know that Towser is not dogs. He is My Chum. Papa and mamma and Miss Strauss and Miss Marsh—the whole caboodle of them—decide against me, but I know that Towser ought to go to school. Miss Marsh kissed me this morning. Her breath smelled of onions. If she tries to kiss Towser he will growl."—Kansas City Journal.

The crowding of negroes into the northern cities leads Booker T. Washington to declare that the place for the negro is in the south, where the cheapness of land, the cost of living, the opportunities for work and his natural adaptation to the soil are in his favor, where likewise the needs of the great masses of the negro people offer great opportunities for the negro in business.—Buffalo Express.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

The troubles of the road operating men of the Wabash lines east of Toledo have been left to themselves for settlement, according to information obtained from officers of the brotherhoods who were seen at the Seventh Avenue hotel last evening. The difficulties, which concerned more directly the road train crews of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal line in reference to their losing seniority in service and also for some of them in changing their headquarters from Rook to Columbia Junction were gone over carefully for two days in secret sessions at the Hotel Lincoln. Those at the conference included representatives of the Wabash crews and the following officers of the brotherhoods: E. E. Clark of Cedar Rapids, Ia., grand chief conductor of the Order of Railway Conductors; H. W. Hurley, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. G. Lee, assistant grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Timothy Shea of Peoria, Ill., representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. There were no representatives of the Wabash lines in an official capacity called into the conference, and unless the difficulties cannot be settled among the trainmen themselves there will be no conference with the railroad officers. From the intimations of the railroad brotherhood officers last evening, the matters will be amicably settled, and there need be no thought of a strike. Most of the brotherhood officers returned to their headquarters last night.

A Veteran Traveler Is Mr. Clark.

A. H. Clark, Pittsburgh attorney, went to Washington last evening to confer with the commissioner of internal revenue regarding important matters, the nature of which Mr. Clark would not reveal. Mr. Clark is somewhat of a veteran traveler, as well as a veteran barrister. He lives at New Brighton, and every week day finds him a regular traveler to and from his Pittsburgh office. When he misses a day it seems to those who travel with him that something must be wrong with the "Little Giant's" operations.

Hammel Party Off for Conference.

William F. Hammel, the well known proprietor of Hammel's cafe in Diamond street, headed a party of Pittsburghers for an eastern business trip last evening. In the party were James P. Richardson, the contractor; W. H. Hatfield of the Central Mantel and Tile Company; H. Nelson Rider, proprietor of the Hotel Rider at Cambridge Springs, and J. Wilkey of the Keystone Loan Company. The nature of the business in hand was not disclosed.

Going to Carriage Dealers Meeting.

E. J. Thompson, general manager of the Gerber Carriage Company, and A. J. There will be an exhibition in connection with the convention.

An Eloquent Comparison.

Russia, with a population of 140,000,000, imports yearly $300,000,000 worth of merchandise, that is only a little over $2 per head. The United States, with a population of 82,000,000, imported during the last fiscal year merchandise valued at $1,140,000,000, or $13 50 per capita. This country, in spite of the vast variety of its tariff, offers a much better market to foreign producers than Russia does now or is likely to in the future.—Chicago Tribune.

ABSURD ATTACK GETS QUIETUS

County Commissioner Explodes Idle Democratic Tale Bearing Stamp of Ignorance.

RAPS FOR CONTRACTOR

"Such absurd attacks as that contained in the Post story of this morning, that county roads are being relocated and held up for political reasons," said Commissioner Price yesterday, "should not be dignified with a denial, especially as the writer is evidently absolutely ignorant as to methods of procedure relative to the location or relocation of county roads. He does not know, at least his article so indicates, that the county commissioners are mere factors in locations or changes; that the grand jury must pass upon and approve changes and that they must have the indorsement of the court. If we wanted to change locations of roads to aid our friends, we could not do so unless the grand jury approved it."

The Post story was to the effect that the county commissioners were holding up contracts on the Elizabeth and Boston roads and preventing the contractor, W. E. Howley, from proceeding with his work. One reason assigned is that the Oliver interests wanted a road changed to improve their holdings. Mr. Howley wrote a letter to the commissioners to find out if his contract was to remain in force, and instead of waiting for a reply, which was immediately forwarded, stating that the contract would in no wise be impaired, promptly gave the letter out for publication.

Mr Price was more amused than offended at the story, and stated frankly that while he did not wish to get into a controversy with the contractor, that they had complaints almost every day that the work he is now doing was unsatisfactory; that he was delayed in almost all his work and that people residing along the county roads in course of construction were much put out because the roads were torn up and would not be in shape for winter travel.

"Only this morning," said Mr. Price, "we had a complaint from a property owner over the slow manner in which Mr. Howley was doing the work on the Lovedale road.

Real Reason Why Work Is Delayed.

"The real reason, however, that work will not begin on the Elizabeth road this winter is lack of funds. We did not know when we let the contract that such was the state of affairs as our monthly estimate from other county work was not in. As soon as we discovered the condition we all determined not to let the work commence on the Elizabeth road until next spring. On October 1 we found but $61,642 51 left in the road fund for this year, out of which must come the money to keep up repairs and for salaries. The amount due contractors on unfinished contracts must be carried over until next year and come out of next year's appropriations. I estimate this will amount to about $100,000. So you can readily understand that we could not let the contract if we wanted to.

"With reference to the Elizabeth road, Mr. Howley told both Commissioner Evans and myself that he was not anxious to begin the work, and was well satisfied to wait until spring. His own anxiety was about the contract, and we notified him that delay would not violate his contract.

"The contract for the Boston road is not signed because we have not been satisfied with the bond, and for a further reason that Mr. Howley knew that no money is available, and was told this when the contract was let. I suppose there will be no trouble, however, about the bond.

"With reference to the change of grade on the Elizabeth road, I can dismiss that with the statement that all three commissioners, including Mr. Clark, are of one mind as to the propriety of changing the location from the valuable bottom lands to the hillside, and the only question arises from the difference in the cost price. We find that it will amount to about $30,000 difference in making the change.

Present Road Is Dangerous.

"The Blaine Coal Company owns some of the bottom land, which is very valuble as a manufacturing site, and it is true that if we changed the location it would give that much more acreage near the river. However, we find that the railroad runs along the county road, is very dangerous for travel, and that many advantages would result from a relocation. Mr. Evans presented the matter to the Blaine Coal Company, stating that if the company would pay $15,000 of the expense, the county would stand the rest, providing the grand jury and the court was willing to make the change. It would be of great advantage to the county because it removes the danger to travel, raises the valuation of the bottom lands and by increased taxation decreases the mileage.

"To this proposition the coal company has made no reply. Mr. Clark viewed the ground and agreed with us that the change was a good thing for the county, so that the attempt to make a political sensation out of two miles of county road for which there is no money, falls flat."

George T. Oliver was spoken to about the story and made this statement: "I am not directly or indirectly interested in the Blaine Coal Company nor in any other land in that section of the county. Until this publication appeared I never heard anything about the Elizabeth and Boston road. I have never spoken to any of the commissioners or any other person concerning the road, nor have I asked anyone to speak to the commissioners for me."

BIGELOW MAKES MORE SPEECHES

Addressed First Ten Wards of City Payroll at the Public Safety Building.

MEETINGS CONTINUE TODAY

Starting at a library opening in the East End Tuesday night Director Bigelow continued his speech-making yesterday. The public, however, was not permitted to applaud his oratorical efforts yesterday. He directed his talents to a series of very select audiences, composed exclusively of the city payroll. His speeches were delivered in the public safety building, in the large room which is used by Director Moore as his private office.

During campaigns this room is readily converted into an assembly room, where city employes are drilled to get votes. Although the payroll is large, it is crowded into this room and, with hats off and standing in meek attitudes, they are told what is expected of them from now until after election day. They are given to understand that their chief duty is to get votes first and to attend to public business afterward.

The first ten wards of the city, one ward at a time, got their orders from the bosses. This consumed exactly two hours and a half, each ward being allowed just 15 minutes. This comprised at least 1,000 men. While waiting for their turn they crowded the corridors and stairways of the entire building.

White-wings, policemen, firemen, clerks, superintendents, civil engineers, stenographers, messengers, were admitted and crowded into the room in bunches, to answer to their names when the roll of the ward was called. A superintendent, drawing $4,000 a year, elbowed in with an Italian laborer in his own bureau, working for $1 65 a day.

Director James W. Clark, Director Harry Moore and chief of all, Director Bigelow, were present, to whom the payroll made its obeisance. Director Clark gave technical points in the art of vote-getting, and Director Moore closed the proceedings with a burst of convincing oratory. To the policemen and firemen Director Moore talked.

These hearings will also be held today, and will be continued until every ward in the city is passed. Then the county payroll will be taken up. The direction of the payroll of Allegheny is left to Mayor Wyman.

WEDDING IN ROYALTY.

Niece of Empress Augusta Victoria Is Married to a Nephew of King Edward.

GLUECKSBURG, PRUSSIA, Oct. 11.—The Princess Victoria Adelheid, eldest daughter of Duke Frederick of Schlezweig-Holstein Sonderburg-Gluecksburg, and niece of Empress Augusta Victoria, was married to Prince Charles Edward, duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, a nephew of King Edward, at midday today in the beautiful little castle here in the presence of about 50 members of the royal families of Germany, among them being the emperor and empress.

The civil ceremony took place in the wide hall of the castle. Then as many of the royal guests and their suites as could be given space went to the little chapel upstairs, where the religious rite was performed.

STRONG FORCES WILL BE AT WORK

Four Independent Factions Will Join Hands to Oppose the Citizens Ticket.

LARKIN QUITS THE ORPHANS

Committees representing the Orphans, Municipal league, Lincoln party and the Independent Democrats are to meet to consider plans for the county campaign. These organizations are all opposed to the Citizens ticket. Their strength will be thrown to the Republican candidates for county offices.

Controller John B. Larkin is under contract to Director Bigelow and has quit the Orphans. When the roll was called at the meeting of the central committee in the Monongahela house last night Larkin did not respond. He is signed up to fight for the pledge-breakers and hopes the public will forget his numerous declarations against the Bigelow machine. When Larkin could not deliver the Orphans to Bigelow, he gathered up his proxies and left the party. With him have gone Thomas O'Brien and J. P. Baldauf, at least they did not attend last night's meetings. It is with pity the loyal Orphans speak of their old commander. They thought he possessed political integrity. The truth of Bigelow's statement: "He is not an Orphan; he's been elected," must now stand unchallenged.

The Orphans last night decided they would not use a column on the ballot this fall. They will urge their friends to vote the Republican ticket and allow the elector to determine how he will do it. This statement was authorized:

Is Very Much Alive.

An effort being made to create the impression that the Orphans party has ceased to exist as an independent political organization and to correct that impression we issue this statement to the voters of Allegheny county:

We indorsed the Republican candidate for the coming election, believing that in their election the interests of the public will be well cared for.

The Citizens party, controlling the city affairs, is the same party now engaged in a bitter strife for political supremacy in county affairs. The personnel of the candidates for county offices of each party is on a par and is not an issue in this campaign. The only issue before the people is, "Shall the Citizens party gain control of our county affairs in the face of the indecent administration it has given us in city affairs?"

The Orphans party still exists and will exist after this campaign is over. It will in the future lend its aid in an endeavor to drive out the party that has so grossly deceived the people and that has, with such boldness, violated the pledges expressed in the platform of 1902.

Not Deserving of Support.

We do not think the Citizens party is deserving of the support of the people at their election. It is to be hoped that the voters of Allegheny county will see through the flimsy promises that this party has made in its last platform and no doubt prepared by employes of the city administration. The party is on record as a "pledge-breaking party and not a party intended to further the interests of the people."

Messrs. Stevenson, Reitz and McNeill were appointed a committee to meet committees from the Municipal league, Lincoln party and independent Democrats to make plans for the county campaign. This conference will be held as soon as possible. The Orphans will hold meetings every Tuesday night at the Monongahela house during the campaign. These Orphans were in attendance last night: W. H. Stevenson, Dr. J. P. Shaw, Gebhart Sahner, Jacob Soffel, Jr., Frederick Behner, W. C. Reitz, Dr. G. W. McNeill, J. K. Wymard and C. S. Crawford.

F. X. Barr lost another fusion spellbinder yesterday. J. D. Buckley announced he did not want to be connected with the outfit. Some time ago F. X. Barr said he would resign as a candidate for clerk of courts if the Citizens indorsed Plummer for state treasurer. He is still on the ticket.

Courageous Mr. Larkin.

Arrangements have been completed for the Berry Prohibition-Democratic meeting in McKeesport Saturday night. The meeting is not being held under the auspices of Chairman Barr's committee. The straight Democrats have it in charge.

An interesting story is being told about the payroll meeting in Old City hall last Saturday night. Bigelow allowed Larkin to make use of Berry's name at the close of his speech. The controller is now carrying a copy of the speech around with him and showing it to Democrats, and then adds:

"I had the courage to show where I stand."

This is evidently intended as a fling at W. J. Brennen, who made a lengthy speech and failed to mention Berry. So far F. X. Barr has nothing to show. Brennen will try to square himself Saturday night by making a speech at McKeesport.

Speaking of McKeesport, the voters of the Tube City are to be told how to vote by Samuel Adler, milk and meat inspector of the Bigelow administration. He expects to spend today, tomorrow and Saturday in McKeesport working for the "reform" ticket.

MUTINY AND MURDER.

Captain and Four of Crew of Georgia Vessel Are Victims—Three Negroes Are in Irons.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 11.—The murder of Capt. Rumill and four of his crew of the four-masted schooner Harry A. Berwind, in a mutiny while the vessel was bound from Mobile to Philadelphia, is the story told in a special from Southport tonight. The schooner Blanche H. King, Capt. J. W. Taylor, bound from Brunswick, Ga., to Philadelphia, put into Southport this afternoon, bringing in irons three negroes, all that remained of the crew of the Harry A. Berwind.

The captain, mate, cook and an engineer who did hoisting work aboard the latter vessel, apparently had been killed in the mutiny and their bodies thrown overboard, and the body of a fourth sailor, a negro, was found lying on deck, where he, too, had been killed.

Charles S. McCullough Dead.

Charles S. McCullough, a former resident of Crafton and well known in business circles of this city, died at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., last Tuesday night after a three days' illness of pneumonia. He is survived by one daughter, Josephine, and one sister, Mrs. P. C. Dunlevy of Crafton.

The Death Roll.

Funeral of Dr. Daniel B. Ramsay.

Funeral services will be held over the remains of Dr. Daniel Baxter Ramsay at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of H. Samson, Sixth avenue. Burial will be made in Allegheny cemtery after the services. Dr. Ramsay was aged 68, and for nearly 40 years was one of the best-known dentists and sportsmen in Western Pennsylvania. His diploma is said to have been one of the first brought to Pittsburgh by a dentist. His death occurred at his home in Idlewood at 10:20 o'clock Tuesday night. Dr. Ramsay was born October 31, 1837, near Parkersburg, Chester county, Pa., and was a son of Daniel and Mrs. Margaret Wallace Ramsay. Dr. Ramsay's family had been residents of Chester county since the revolutionary war. He received his early education at the old Parkersburg academy and after graduating he began the study of dentistry in Philadelphia. He practiced in Downingtown, Pa., until the civil war broke out, when he enlisted and served throughout the war. After receiving his discharge he settled in Pittsburgh and opened an office at Seventh avenue and Cherry alley, where he practiced until 1882, when he removed to 414 Sixth avenue and continued to practice until three years ago, when his health failed and he retired. He married Miss Annabel Scott May 30, 1873, and she took up the study of dentistry at the Pennsylvania Dental college, Philadelphia. After her graduation she conducted the business with her husband in this city. Dr. Ramsay was prominently identified with the Pittsburgh Rifle club and was at one time the champion rifle shot of Western Pennsylvania. He was a member of McKinley lodge, F. and A. M. His widow and two sons, Dr. Daniel S. and Dr. Arthur G. Ramsay, and one daughter, Annabel Ramsay, survive.

The Rev. C. G. Nelson.

Word was received in McKeesport yesterday of the death of the Rev. C. G. Nelson of Peoria, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eklund of McKeesport left yesterday to attend the funeral. The Rev. Mr. Nelson was 23 years old, and five months ago married Miss Jennie Eklund, when a double wedding was celebrated, a sister of Miss Eklund being married at the same time. The Rev. Mr. Nelson was in charge of a church at Peoria. Mrs. Nelson will return to McKeesport to reside with her parents.

Charles Russell Bell.

Charles Russell Bell, son of William F. Bell of Duquesne, died at Denver, Col., yesterday morning of consumption. He was 22 years old and was born at Woodland, Clearfield county. He had lived in Duquesne the last 16 years, being a civil engineer. He is survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Lytle, Misses Willa M. and Mabel Bell, of Duquesne, and a brother, Robert B. Bell of New Castle. He was a member of the Duquesne Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Nancy Hall.

Mrs. Nancy Hall, who was one of the oldest residents of the Third ward, Allegheny, died yesterday at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Hall, in Salem, Ohio. She was born in Westmoreland county in 1818, but removed to Allegheny when she was a girl, living there practically all her life. She was very well known on the North Side. The interment will be at Salem.

Bernard Frederick, aged 64, of Locust street, McKeesport, died yesterday afternoon. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. John J. Whalen, Miss Mary, George and William Frederick, all of McKeesport. He was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.

REPUBLICANS OF BERKS NEATLY TURN TABLES

Institute Suit to Test the Legality of the Nomination Papers Filed by the Lincoln Party.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Berks county Republicans turned the tables on the Democrats of that county today by instituting proceedings in the Dauphin county court to test the legality of the nomination papers filed for the Lincoln party by Judge James N. Ermentrout, Democratic nominee for president judge.

The objectors claim Ermentrout's papers are defective because they purport to nominate candidates for state treasurer and other state offices, and for the further reason that the persons by whom they are signed have no right to use the name of the Lincoln party. Judge Kunkel will give a hearing on these objections next Tuesday.

The Democrats who are supporting D. Nicholas Schaeffer, the Republican nominee for judge, have overcome the objections which were filed to his nomination papers as the candidate of the "Independent Democratic" party by withdrawing the name "Democrat" and leaving the name merely "Independent." This action was taken today when the case was called for argument on the objections before Judge Kunkel.

DESPERATE FIGHT WITH NEGRO ON FREIGHT TRAIN

Black Desperado Tries to Murder Erie Detective and Deputy, but Is Overpowered and Lodged in Jail.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—William Jordan, a negro, was sent to jail this afternoon after a hearing on a charge of felonious assault with intent to murder Detective H. T. Hahn of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad police, during a desperate encounter on a freight train south of Wampum. Jordan was overpowered after a terrific battle with Hahn and Deputy Felix Slivensky.

The two officers boarded a freight train with Jordan and two tramps aboard. Jordan pulled a revolver and shot at Hahn, the bullet passing through the latter's coat. Jordan then tried three times to shoot Slivensky, but his revolver missed fire. He is held under $1,300 bail for court.

The local authorities believe Jordan to be the murderer of John Burns at Monongahela City four months ago, as he answers the description of the murderer who escaped. Jordan expresses regret he did not kill the officers last night.

CLAIM $591,000 FROM CITY FOR FILTER LAND

Expert for Delafield Estate Says the Condemned Property Is Worth That Figure.

The city is asked to pay $591,000 for 76 acres of land which it is taking under condemnation proceedings for its filtration plant at Aspinwall. The board of city viewers began the hearings in the condemnation proceedings and as an expert in behalf of the Delafield estate, which owns the land in question, A. O. Dutcheon, a prominent local real estate man and former president of the Union Realty Company, went on the stand and claimed that the property which the city proposes to take, is worth $591,000.

He also claimed that 57 acres in the rear of the 76-acre tract, also belonging to the Delafield estate, was damaged to the extent of about $1,000 an acre, because access to it was cut off by the construction of the filtration plant. The 76 acres which the city is condemning covers the western side of the filtration site, and along the river front. The city values the property at just about half of what the owners claim for it, or about $3,000 an acre. The city expects to pay little more than $200,000 for the tract, which was about the figure paid for the 77 acres which it condemned a couple of years ago for the filter site. A couple of civil engineers were also examined yesterday by the viewers in the case, and the hearing was adjourned until some day next week.

GREAT CROWDS TODAY.

This Is Christian Endeavor Day at the Expo, and Heavy Attendance Is Anticipated.

Pittsburghers are coming to a realization of the fact that Eugenio Sorrentino, the bandmaster at the Exposition this week, is a leader full of dignity, knowledge and force, and above all, of compelling magnetism. Sorrentino holds his men under magnificent control and he and they seem swayed by a common sentiment—the sincere love of their art.

Today is Christian Endeavor and general excursion day at the Expo, and for the large crowds who will be present during the afternoon and evening Sorrentino has arranged fine programs. Several thousand members of the various Christian Endeavor societies of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will take possession of the Expo today, while these throngs will be augmented by the usual out-of-town visitors, who are expected to take advantage of the one fare for the round trip rate granted by all of the railroads.

NEWCASTLE COUPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

MRS. ELNORA ZERNER BUCK. DANIEL M. BUCK.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 11.—The marriage this evening of Miss Elnora Zerner and Mr. Daniel M. Buck was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Zerner of Boyles avenue, and was an event of much more than the ordinary importance, because of the prominence of the contracting parties. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Campbell of the First Methodist church officiated. The ceremony was witnessed by about 25 guests and a wedding supper was served at the home. A matrimonial bridge, composed of flowers and cupids, graced the table. Mr. and Mrs. Buck left tonight for Philadelphia and New York. They will be "at home" here after Christmas.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY HAS JIM CROW SCHOOL

Negro Pastor Leads Movement to Separate Pupils, but Many of His Race Declare They Will Fight It.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONESSEN, Oct. 11.—McMahan borough, a suburb of this city, enjoys the distinction of having the only "Jim Crow" public school in Westmoreland county. The school was established Monday under the direction of the board of education of the borough. Its establishment has caused indignation among the negroes who declare they will fight the action through all courts in the United States.

The movement is the outcome of a complaint that negro pupils were not receiving as much attention from teachers as were the whites. With the complaint came the suggestion that a division be made, setting aside a room and employing a negro teacher. The Rev. A. S. Lewis, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church, is the head of the divisionists, and is supported by many negroes, but a number of negroes prominent in municipal affairs are opposed to the plan.

Local attorneys are digging up laws covering the case, and the anti-divisionists claim there is no state law compelling them to send their children to a "Jim Crow" school. The attendance in the negro school is small, and the board of education demands that the truant officer visit the pupils' homes and compel parents to send them to the new school.

The Greensburgers have secured private right of way the entire length of their line, and on this account the Jeannette people have filed objections at Harrisburg. The new company has plotted its line for the public highway. It is composed of James G. Gribbs, William F. Euwer, A. T. Smith, Daniel W. Jenkins and J. N. Baxter of Jeannette.

TRAGEDY IN DARKNESS IS MURDER, NOT ACCIDENT

This Is Charge Being Made Concerning Killing of Young Lloyd Remaley and Wounding of His Aunt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KITTANNING, Oct. 11.—The killing of young Lloyd Remaley of Mateer, a week ago, has assumed a different phase from that given out at the time, and the relatives of the dead boy want the district attorney and coroner to investigate.

It was said Lloyd was shot by his uncle, Murray Knappenberger, in the darkness and in mistake for a burglar, and that as the wounded boy fell, a revolver in his hand was discharged, the bullet striking his aunt. Now relatives say the lad's uncle, did not shoot him, that Remaley did not have a revolver, but that both Remaley and his aunt were shot by an unknown man, and that same bullet struck both, passing through Lloyd's leg first.

It is said Remaley and his aunt were standing together by the house when Murray Knappenberger stepped on the porch. Just then an unknown man suddenly appeared and shot at Murray, but missed him. Murray returned the fire, but missed the stranger, who wheeled, fired two shots, one of which struck Lloyd Remaley and Lottie Knappenberger, and then fled, disappearing in the darkness.

SIMEON DONAHUE'S SLAYER IS RUN DOWN AT LAST

Clifford Holley, Wanted for Murder at Masontown a Year Ago, Is Apprehended at Nation's Capital.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—After being at large for a few weeks less than a year, when he has been a soldier in the United States marine corps, Clifford Holley, charged with killing Simeon Donahue at Masontown, Pa., October 29, 1904, has been apprehended and County Detective Alex. McBeth and Policeman Rufus Jackson of Masontown, left tonight for Washington, D. C., to identify him and secure his transfer to jail here.

Holley betrayed his whereabouts in a letter to his brother at Ronco, and officers heard of it through a woman who lived near Masontown. Detective McBeth wrote to the war department and the superintendent of police of Washington, D. C. The latter informed him there was a man under arrest who gave his name as Harry E. Howard, believed to be Holley.

The murder of Donahue a year ago occurred in a tobacco store at Masontown. Donahue and Holley had an argument over the presidential election, and without any warning Holley drew a revolver and fired at Donahue, the bullet entering just below the heart, killing him. Holley is about 21 years of age and has a wife and child at Addyston, O., near Cincinnati.

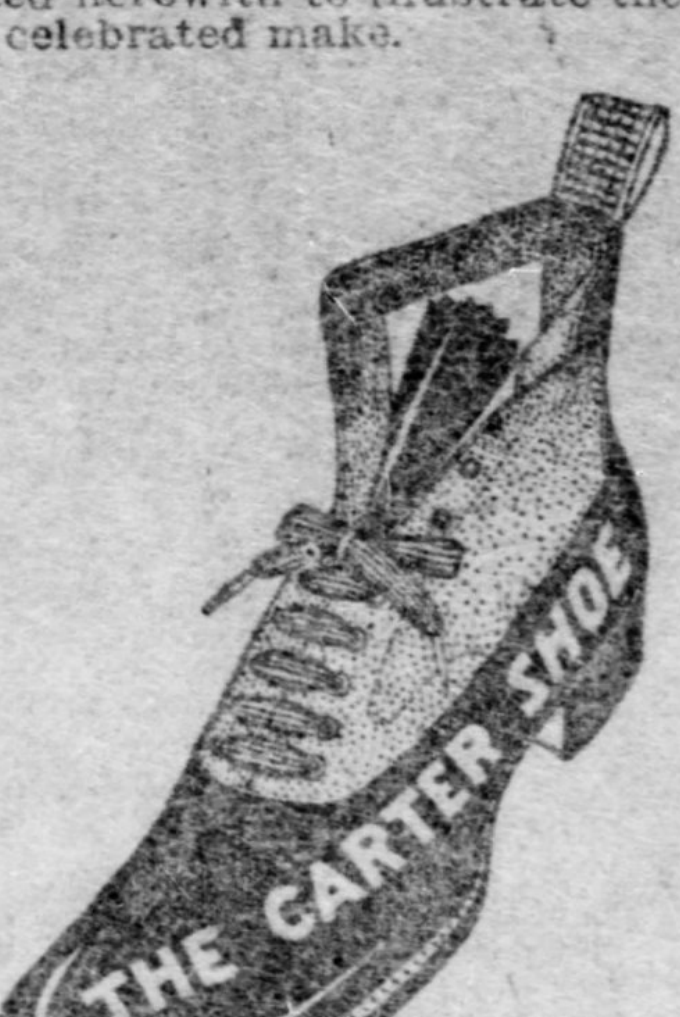
THE SHOE MEN LIKE

So many people have become interested in the injunction proceedings relative to the sale of "Carter" shoes that a picture is printed herewith to illustrate the style of this celebrated make.



You will observe that the "Carter" shoe is constructed on lines which absolutely assure comfort at all times; hence the well-known phrase "The 'Carter' is the shoe for tender feet." Prices are $3.50, $4 and $5, and there is no other shoe on earth that represents such excellent value at the prices named.

The injunction proceedings referred to in the first paragraph are for the protection of the Griswold Shoe Company. Common pleas court No. 2 has restrained all other firms from advertising the "Carter" shoe or selling this shoe under any name that in any way suggests the name "Carter."

Come to the only store that has any right to sell this shoe, if you wish to be treated right.

Brave Women

Women's delicate nerve organism subjects them to much suffering.

As a rule they overlook the wonderful influence their nervous system has upon their general health.

They are not sufficiently impressed with the fact that all their ills are directly traceable to the nervous system.

That the periodical sufferings and headaches are due to weakened nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is wonderfully successful in revitalizing the nerves and curing all cases of nervous disorders and loss of vitality.

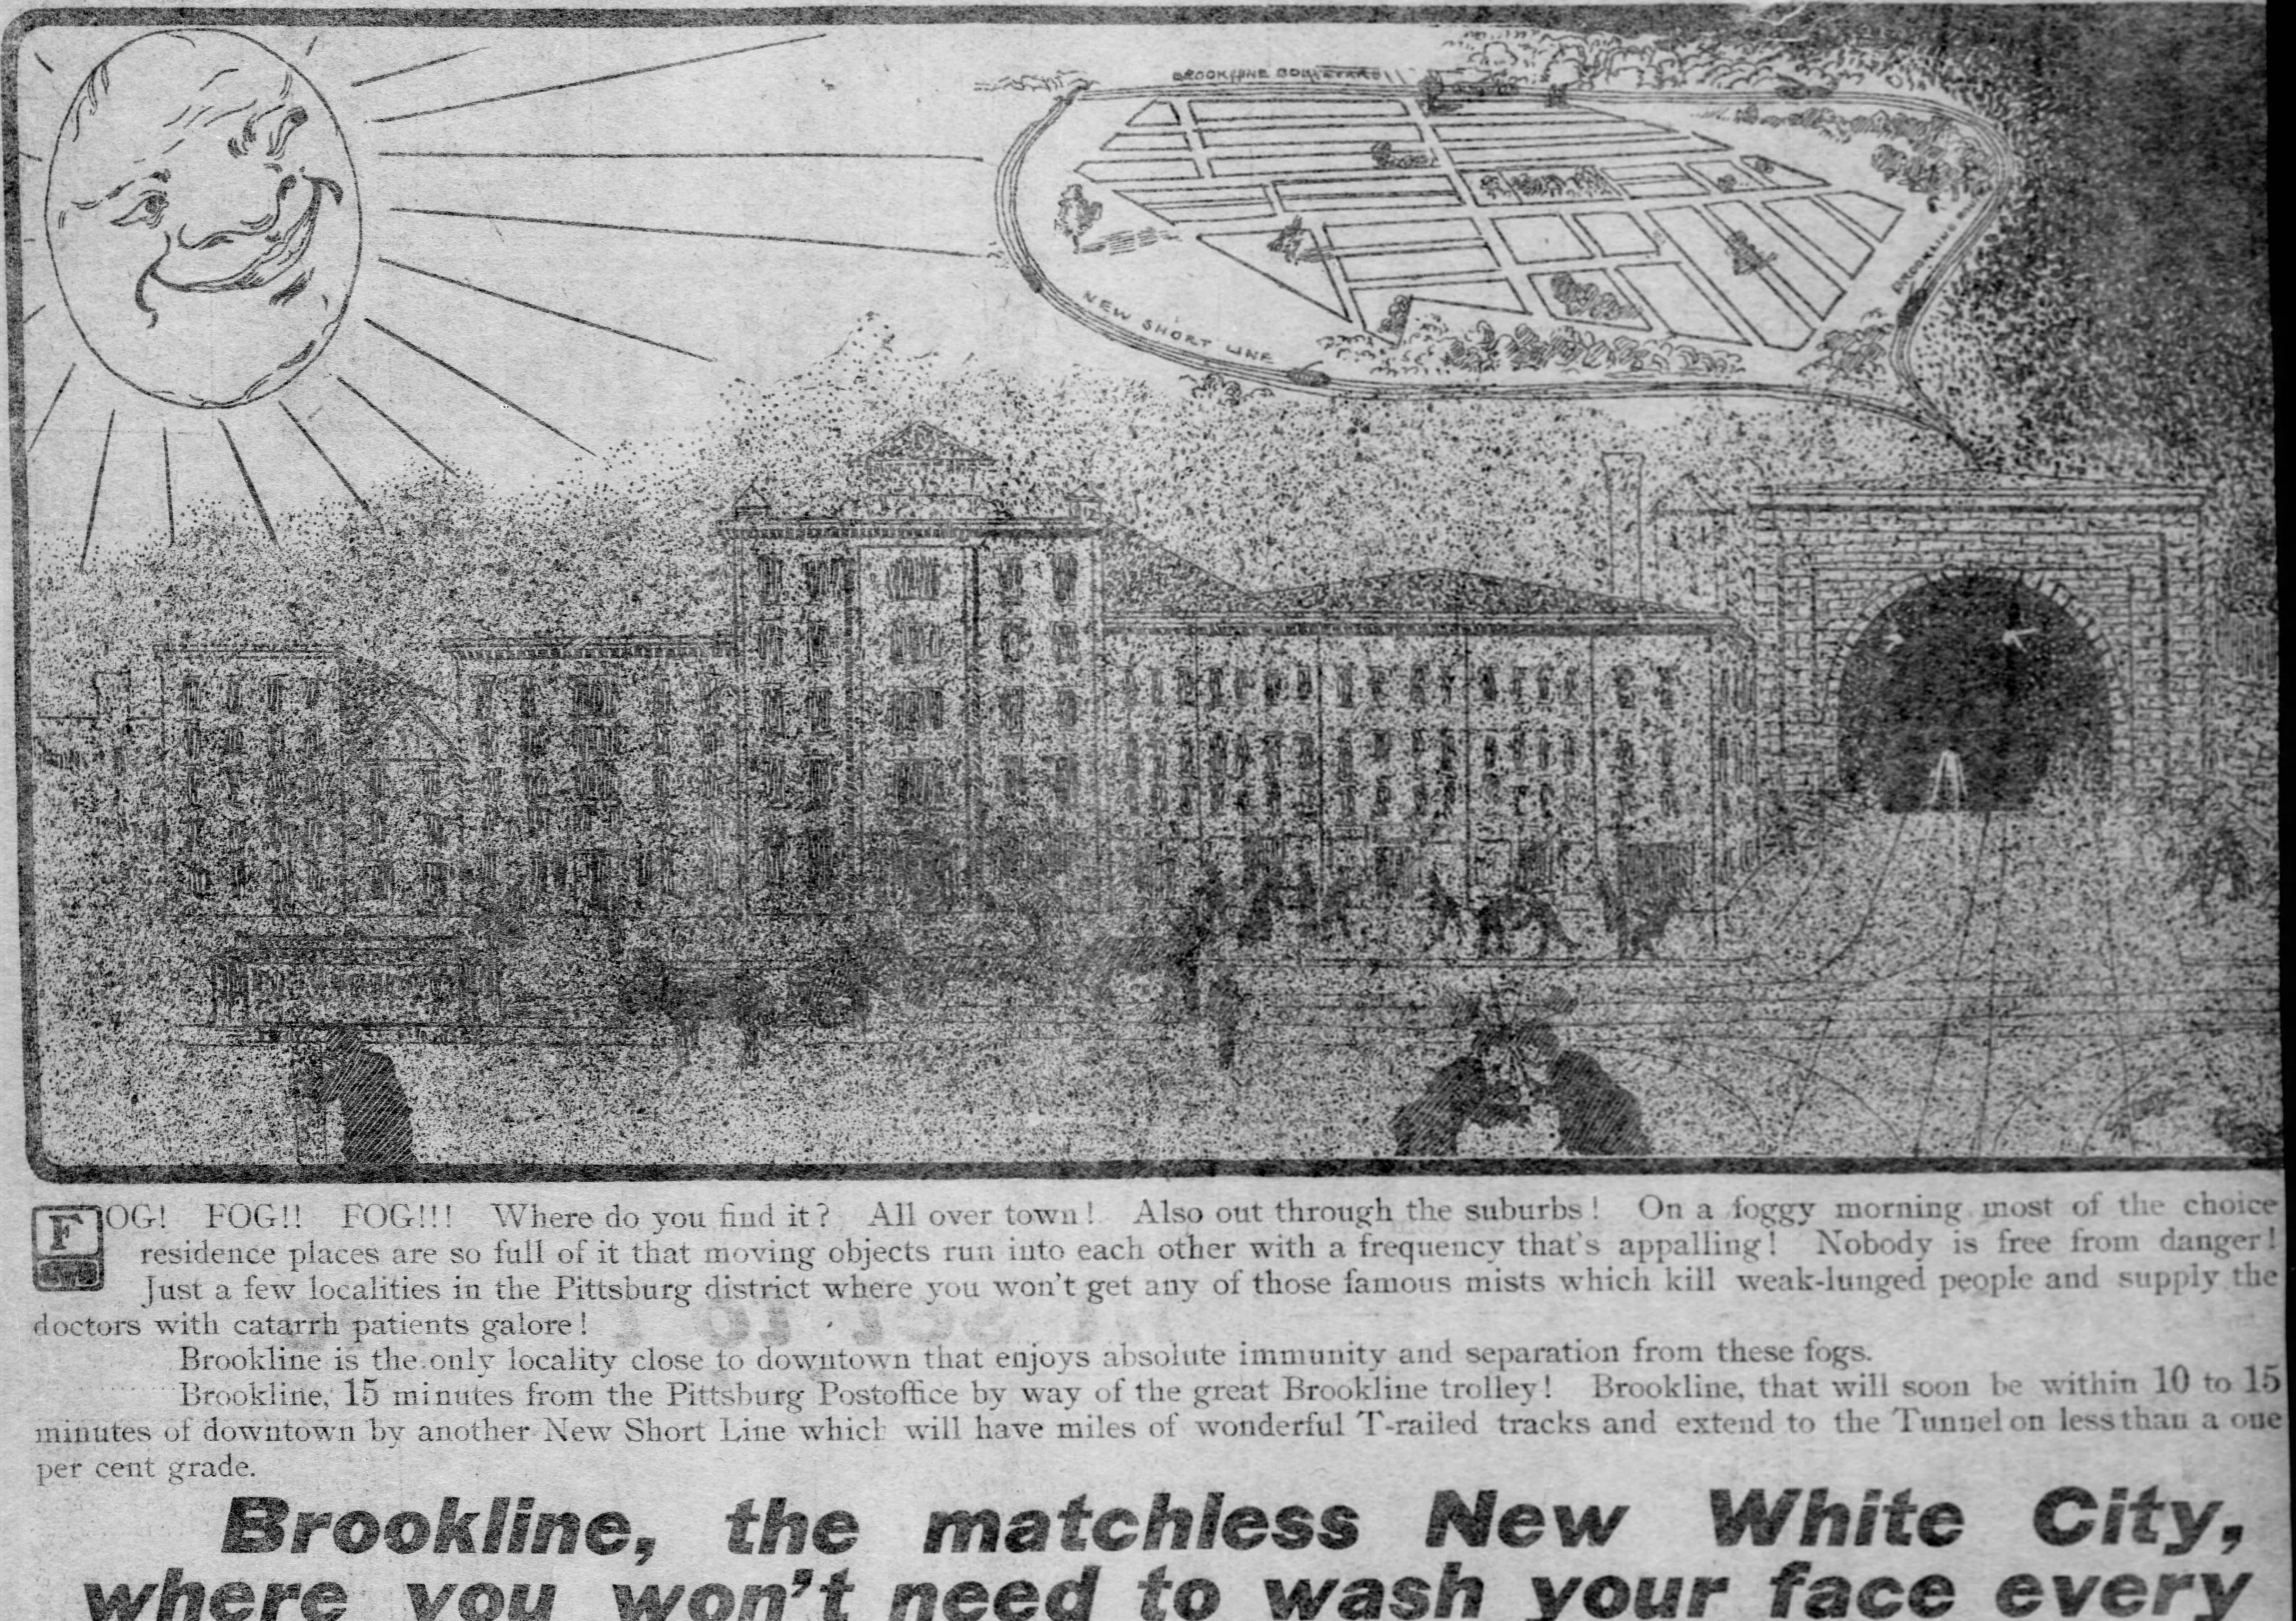
YOU EMERGE FROM FOG-LAND I

2ND WARD



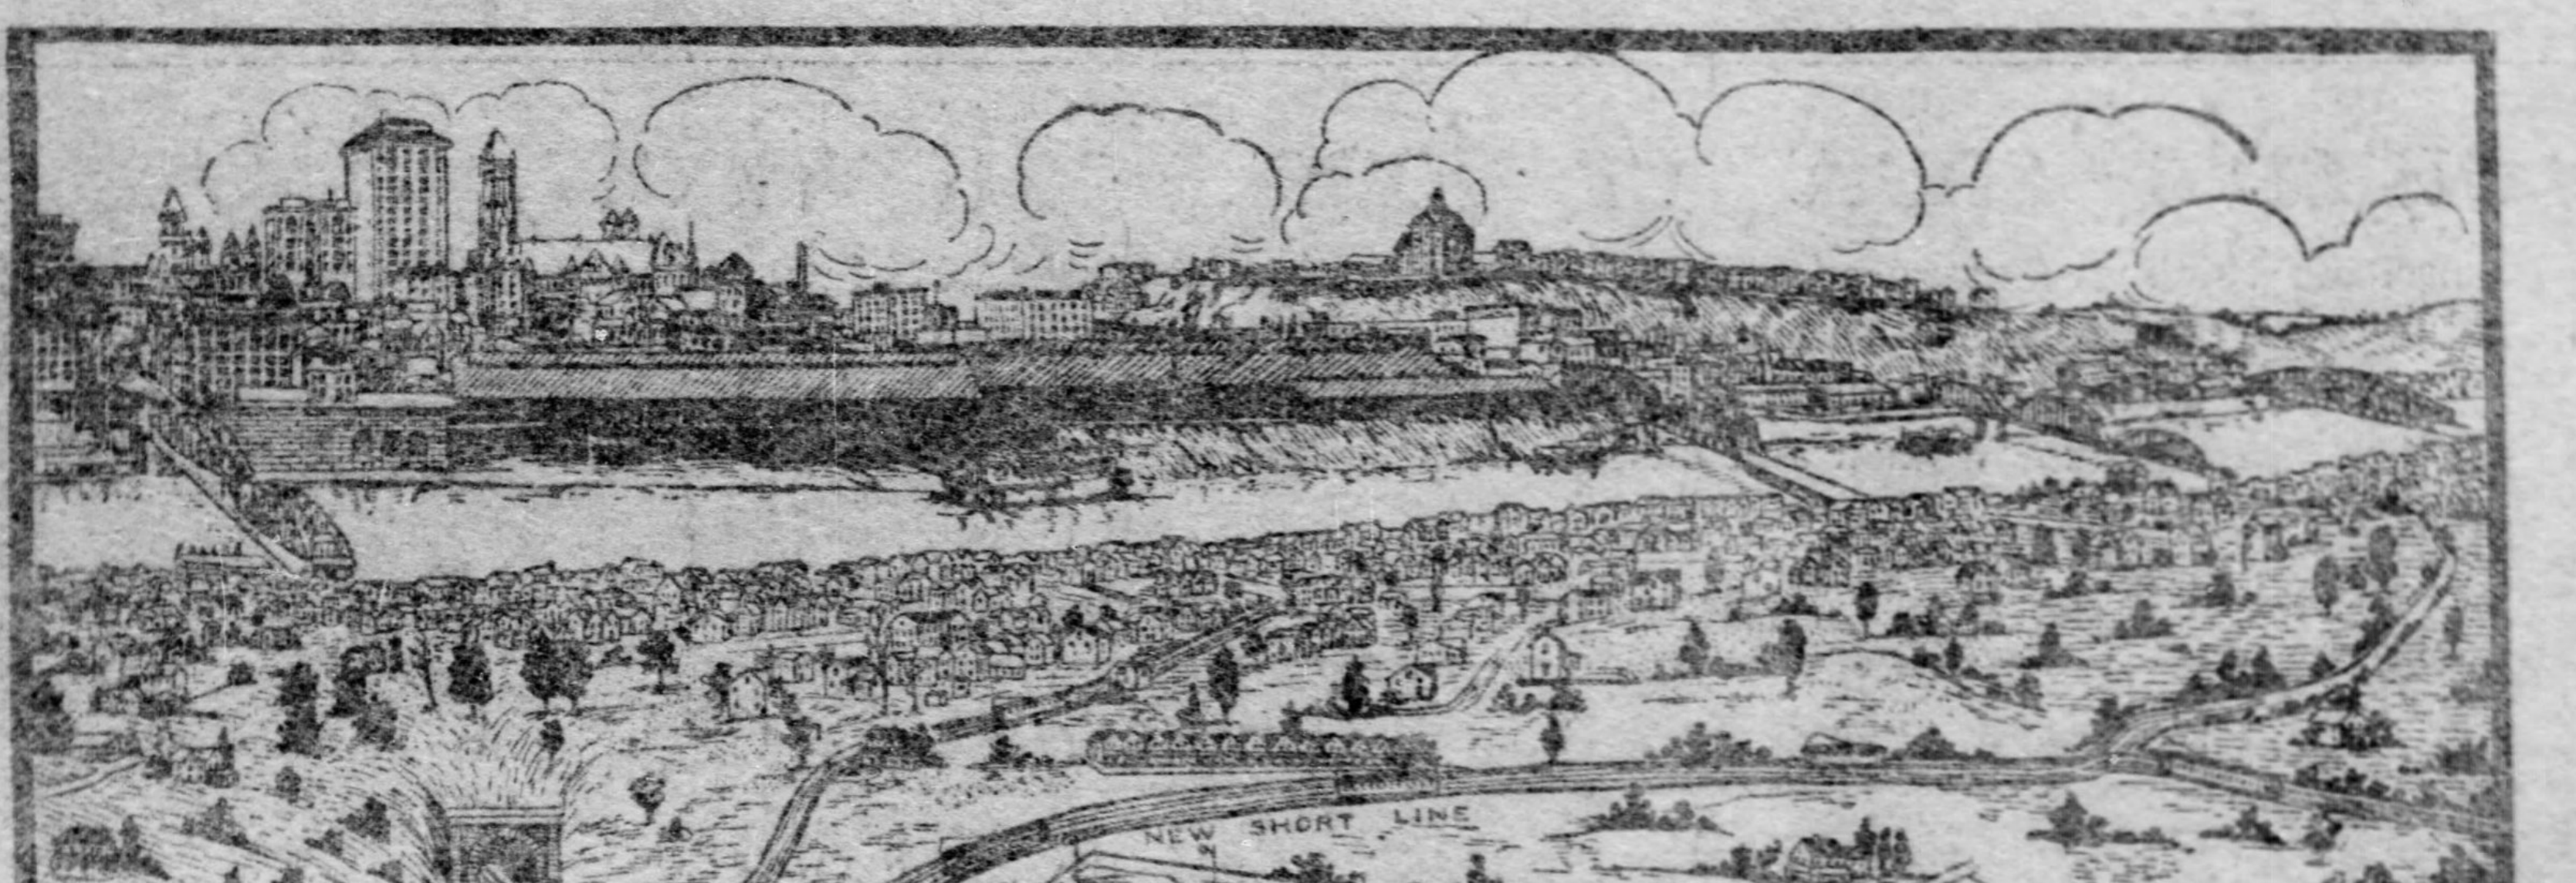
FOG! FOG!! FOG!!! Where do you find it? All over town! Also out through the suburbs! On a foggy morning most of the choice residence places are so full of it that moving objects run into each other with a frequency that's appalling! Nobody is free from danger! Just a few localities in the Pittsburg district where you won't get any of those famous mists which kill weak-lunged people and supply the doctors with catarrh patients galore!

Brookline is the only locality close to downtown that enjoys absolute immunity and separation from these fogs.

Brookline, 15 minutes from the Pittsburg Postoffice by way of the great Brookline trolley! Brookline, that will soon be within 10 to 15 minutes of downtown by another New Short Line which will have miles of wonderful T-trailed tracks and extend to the Tunnel on less than a one per cent grade.

Brookline, the matchless New White City, where you won't need to wash your face every hour to have it clean! Where lace curtains can go unwashed an entire season.

Brookline, at which the fogs from the rivers can only peep as they rise to the tops of the Mt. Washington and Knoxville hills! Fogs that are a mile off and become too disintegrated in the pure, high air to roll on farther back! Mists that must dissolve in an atmosphere that is 90 per cent pure ozone, as is the air of Brookline!



Therefore, the mountainous walls of Mt. Washington and Knoxville, together with the pure-air zone in between, are doing a remarkable service for Brookline.

They're making Brookline not only the healthiest and whitest section of Greater Pittsburg, but they will have a powerful influence in increasing the value of all of her real estate. And why? For the reason that, with the complete civic and street improvements being installed, they are putting the locality beyond criticism in every particular.

The blessings of Nature and the mints of the Money Captains are adding such valuable conquests to the map of Greater Pittsburg that the opportunity for anybody to get rich by taking a goodly number of dollars to the Second Ward of Brookline becomes a truth marvelously convincing to such practical or experienced persons as take the time to investigate.

The Second Ward is a special magnet because of the character of the street improve the view is something grand. You can see the toplands of Pittsburg, and in the night this sight

The sidewalks of this magnificent Second Ward are nearly all of granolithic-stone, lined with lights are suspended. City water and natural gas will be piped to every lot. No needed improv

Most of the lots are 40x120 feet, and all run back to alleys. The price ance, with no interest nor taxes for you to pay for two years.

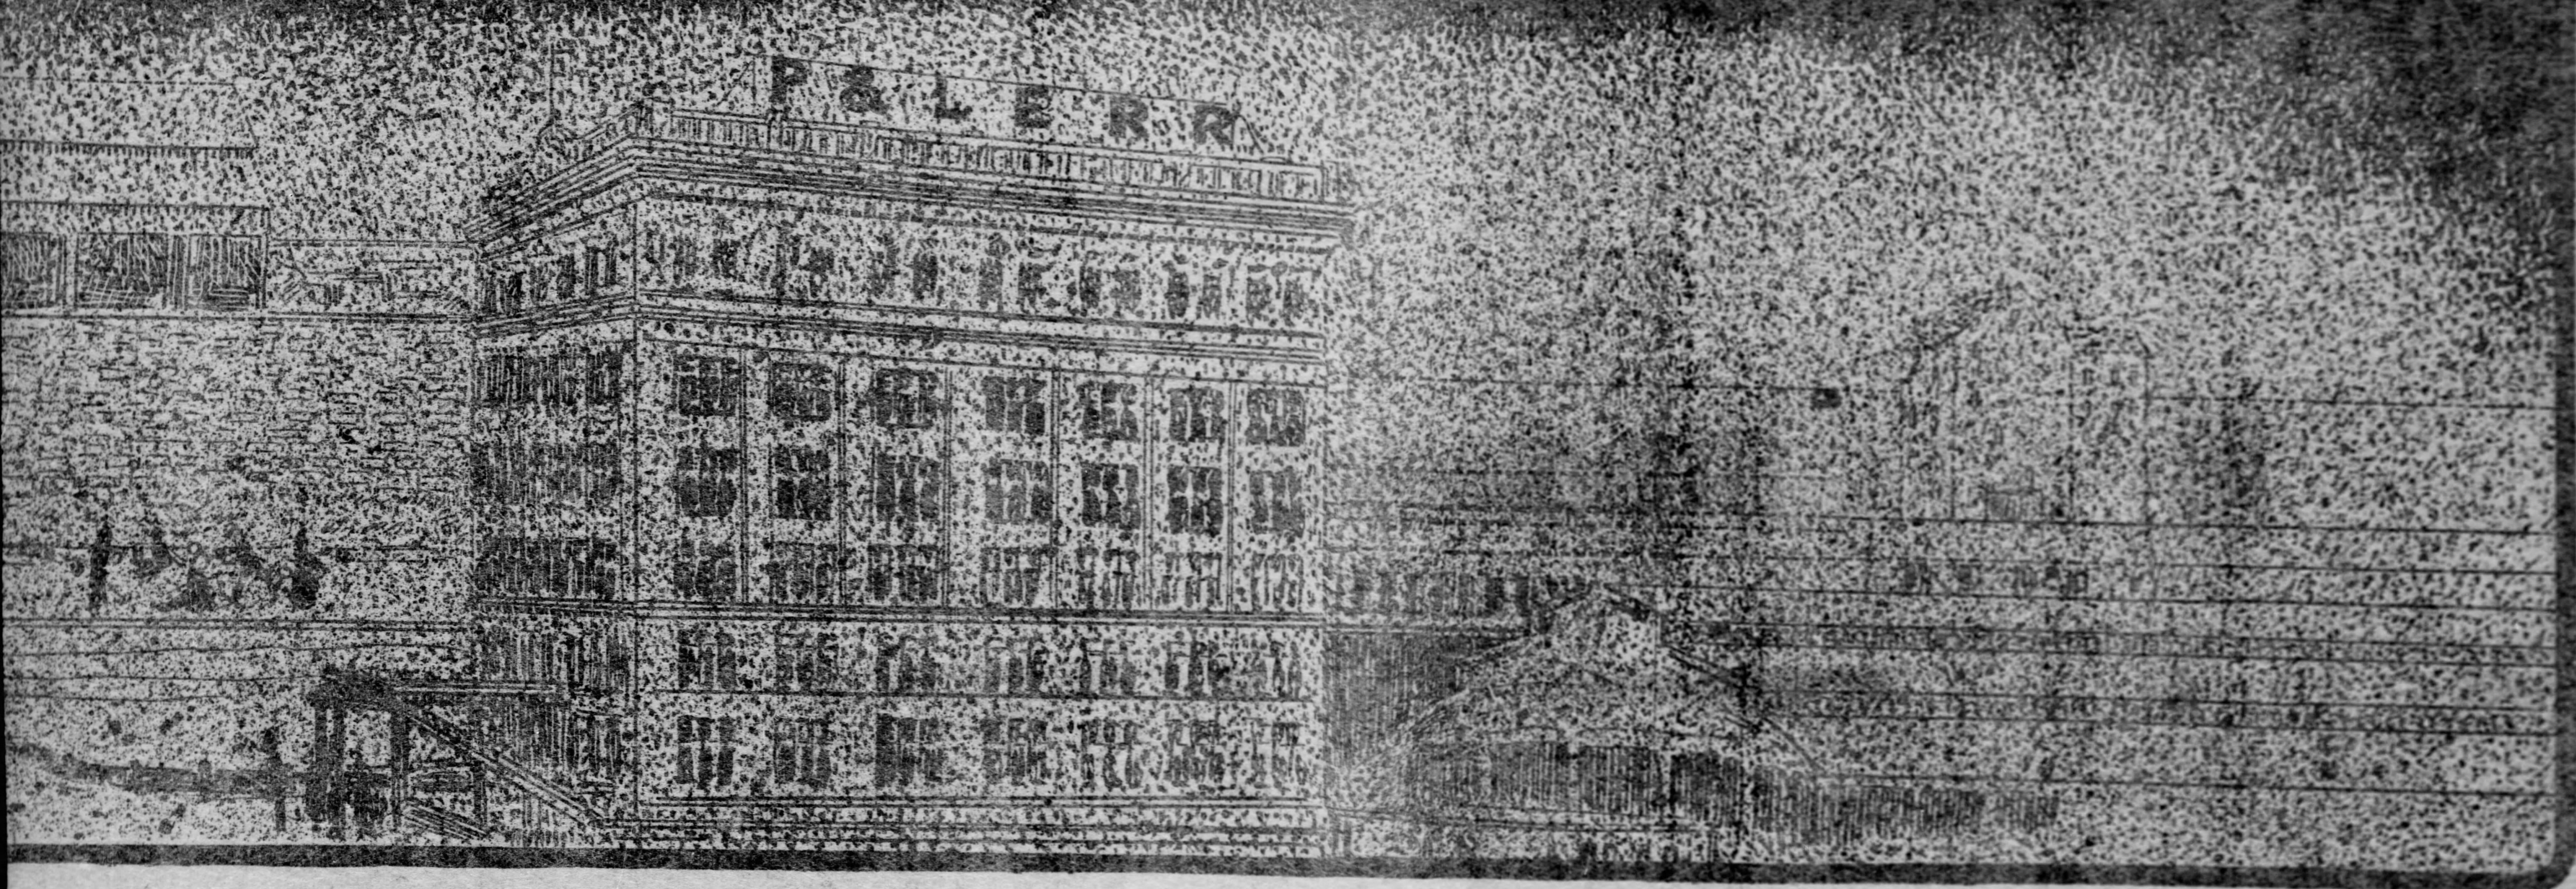
O HEALTH-LAND AS YOU ENTER BROOKLINE

THE GREAT NEW WHITE CITY

IS BY MATTER OF RECORD THE ONLY
RESIDENTIAL PLACE CLOSE TO DOWN-TOWN
THAT IS ABSOLUTELY BEYOND THE FOG LINE



Since the First Ward of Brookline was sold off completely last July, many things that were then unpromised have occurred to show that there can be no limit set to the money-making possibilities which the Great New White City unfolds

As a result, the Second Ward goes on sale with an impetus that is not being exceeded by the present remarkable upbuilding of the Far West.

As large numbers of lots in the Second Ward are passing to the ownership of many of the best-known citizens of Pittsburg and the surrounding country, building operations in the First Ward are commencing to turn that section of the beautiful 15-minute suburb into a modern seat of lovely residences and good stores.

All this soul-stirring transformation since the middle of last July! A result which the Far West is not surpassing, notwithstanding the glowing accounts of the expansion of Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland and other record breaking cities of the Pacific Coast. At the rate that lot holders are at present letting contracts to builders, the First and Second Wards will be built up solidly within six to ten years, and a repetition of the fortunes that were made on Squirrel Hill should not only be expected, but will be realized.

Men deeply versed in history of Pittsburg real estate unhesitatingly proclaim that Brookline property has an unmistakable future with long and continued advances in values; and they are backing up their opinions by acquiring some of this remarkable frontage. Bankers, attorneys, merchants, heads of some of the largest departments of the giant industries, clerks, bookkeepers and mechanics are competing with one another in the mighty contest for choice of frontage of the Second Ward.

SOUVENIR GIFT

CONFIDENT that the public would appreciate a valuable memento of such an unusually beautiful and successful suburb as Brookline, we have had manufactured to our order thousands of sterling or solid silver souvenir spoons (tea size) with landscape view showing Brookline Boulevard and the cars passing over the great new 15-minute trolley line artistically embossed in the bowl.

The embossing on the handle is equally superb.

Jewelers tell us it is the handsomest souvenir spoon of any description that could possibly be conceived.

It will be presented free, purely as a gift, to all persons (except children) who may visit the property and there secure the escort or indorsement of one of our representatives.

But the distribution will be confined to Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The spoons, however, will be on exhibition the other days of the week, so that you may come and inspect them at any time.

The Western University of Pennsylvania eleven walloped a football aggregation from Butler at Exposition park, 97 to 0. If President Roosevelt had seen the affair he doubtless would have put the kibosh on football for good, so badly was Butler outclassed and so terribly was it hammered over the field.

It was one continual procession up and down the field for W. U. P., the backfield men "running their heads off." Butler had not over one substitute, at least but one was in evidence, and there was an array of different uniforms. W. U. P. was not held for downs once, and Butler did not make a first down. Long runs by W. U. P. were frequent.

In the first half W. U. P. made 10 touchdowns and kicked four goals. W. Branbury got the ball on the kickoff and ran it back 60 yards, a line rush and then a 20-yard run by Walter East had the ball over for the touchdown. East got the ball on the kickoff and ran through the entire field. Q. Branbury was his running mate, but on the 10-yard line Branbury accidentally tripped East, sending him to the ground. On the next line-up there was a fumble by Waddill, but Zeig picked up the ball and dashed through the line, going over for a touchdown.

Touchdowns came this easy throughout. East later in the half made an 80-yard run for a touchdown. Every one got a touchdown but McKean, the center man. The lineup:

PRINCETON IS SCORED ON BY LEHIGH, 29 TO 6

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Princeton's unblemished record was marred for the first time today, when Lehigh scored a touchdown and held the Tigers to a score of 29 to 6. During the greater part of the first half and in the early part of the second the Pennsylvania aggregation proved the hardest proposition that Princeton has yet tackled and at periods during the game literally outplayed the Tigers.

A slippery field and a steady rain were responsible for many costly fumbles, which the visitors seldom failed to take advantage of. Once on the five-yard line, three times on the 25, and again on the 10, the Orange and Black players threw away their chances to increase the score by inopportune fumbles. Dillon and Bard scored in the first half, making the score 12 to 0. Lehigh scored early in the second half, when after Princeton had reached the five yard line a fumble occurred and Spiers caught the ball and darted down the field. He ran 105 yards for a touchdown. After this the Princeton men crossed the coveted line three times within 10 minutes. The line-up:

Princeton—29.		Lehigh—6.
Brasher (O'Brien)	L.E.	Herman
Cooney	L.T.	Johnson
J. Waller	L.G.	Strauss
Carothers	C.	Dunn

Touchdowns—Dillon, Bard, Spiers, Daub, Tenney, O'Brien. Goals from touchdown—Cooney 4, Herman. Umpire—Dave Fultz. Referee—Mr. Murphy. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Sophs. and Freshmen Tie.

CARLISLE, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The annual football game between the freshmen and sophomore classes of Dickinson college was played this afternoon in a heavy rain. The field resembled a pond. WAYNESBURG, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Waynesburg college football team was defeated today on a very muddy field by the Waynesburg High school football team. Hart Is Star of Game.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The Lawrenceville football eleven completely outclassed the Princeton freshmen this afternoon, 33 to 0. Hart, the prep school halfback, was star of the game and would do credit to any varsity back field. The lineup:

GENEVA IS POWERLESS BEFORE WASH.-JEFF.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—On a wet and soggy field which retarded any brilliant open work, Washington and Jefferson this afternoon defeated Geneva college at football, 38 to 0. It was the largest score rolled up against the Covenanters by the Red and Black for many years. W. and J. simply ran over the visiting aggregation. The first half ended with the score 23 to 0 in favor of Washington and Jefferson. Four touchdowns were made in this period and three goals kicked.

In the second half Wash.-Jeff. kicked frequently on the first down, but managed to score three more touchdowns with no goals kicked. Washington and Jefferson made a record in today's game. Geneva neither made it first down against the Red and Black nor took the ball on downs. The visitors, when they had the ball, were absolutely unable to make any headway, and on the defense could not hold the fierce onslaughts of the local team. W. and J.'s gains were made principally through straight football. The backs and tackles were used in hammering the line for steady gains, coupled with an occasional end run by quarterback or ends. W. and J., although no heavier than the opposing team, repeatedly broke through on punts and blocked the ball. Seven hundred people, an unusually large midweek crowd, saw the contest. Lineup:

W. and J.—38.		Geneva—0.
Hupp	L.E.	McElhinney
Booth	L.T.	F. Allen
Seaman	L.G.	Moore
Sutter	C.	Copeland
Stuart	R.G.	McKnight

Z. Springer	R.E.	George
McFarland	Q.B.	R. Allen
Daugherty	L.H.	Aiken
Tanner	R.H.	Thompson
Wright	F.B.	Sterrett

Touchdowns—James 3, Wright 2, McFarland, Seaman. Goals from touchdowns—Wright 3. Failed at goals from touchdowns—Wright 4. Referee—John Schrontz of Washington. Umpire—B. D. Sutter of Washington and Jefferson. Timers—Blaine Aiken of W. and J. and P. E. Hamilton of Geneva.

F. AND M. IS EASY FOR THE U. OF P. ELEVEN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania, with a patched-up team, swamped Franklin and Marshall this afternoon on Franklin field by the score of 38 to 0. The game was played in a downpour of rain, and fumbling because of the wet ball was frequent. The crowd was very small, not more than 1,000 persons being in the ground. Franklin and Marshall kicked off and Bemis brought the ball back 15 yards. The up-state team was very easy and in five plays Penn had the ball on Franklin and Marshall's five-yard line, from which point Folwell was sent over with the first touchdown. Torrey kicked goal. It was just as easy all the way through the first half, which ended with Penn having amassed a total of 28 points. There were several changes in Penn's line during the second half, but the visitors were never dangerous. The lineup:

Pennsylvania—38.		Franklin and Marshall—0.
Gaston	L.E.	Laquier
Draper (Bradbury)	L.T.	Hellman
Robinson	L.G.	Hartman
Torrey	C.	Newgarde

Stevenson (Johnson)	Q.B.	Dunahar
Sheble (Longwell)	L.H.	Reisser
Bemis (Green-Corson-Luby)	R.H.	Lentz
Folwell (Gimbel)	F.B.	Heilman

Referee—W. N. Morice. Umpire—J. I. Hedges. Linesman—A. L. Smith. Touchdowns—Folwell, Bemis, Sheble, Longwell, Robinson, Gimbel, Rook. Goals from touchdown—Torrey 2.

Columbia Players Dropped.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The faculty of Columbia university announced today that it had dropped from college Captain Thorpe of the Columbia football eleven and that Carter and Starbuck would not be permitted to play in another football game this season. Deficiency in studies was the reason assigned. Thorpe played tackle, Carter was halfback and Starbuck was the most promising candidate for fullback and the best punter on the Columbia eleven. The faculty is also considering the cases of several other men in the football squad, including Browne, the tackle.

Another for the Cardinals.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—The local National league team won the third game of the inter-league series of seven, giving them the odd contest of those so far decided. Sudhoff was wild and was relieved by Petty in the third inning. Attendance 900. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Nationals	0 0 4 0 1 0 0 4 0	9	11	0

Sutter Chosen Captain.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Carl Sutter of Shelby, O., brother of Capt. Trinity Hall will play Allegheny Preparatory school here Saturday.

Navy Defeats St. Johns.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 11.—The football team of the naval academy defeated that of St. John's college today 39 to 0. The members of the St. John's team were much lighter than the midshipmen, but played a plucky game in a driving rain, the wet grounds giving the heavier navy men an even greater advantage. The midshipmen used a number of their players in nearly every position and the general work continues satisfactory.

Lyceum will play the Washington and Jefferson college eleven at Washington Saturday. Immediately after the game at Washington, the Lyceum team will return to Pittsburgh and prepare for the trip to Toledo, where it will play Sunday. McCaskey of the Germania-Columbia team and Aston of the Mellons made high score of 213. The games were all interesting and the players bowled for keeps all along the line. Scores:

The Royal duckpin team has challenged the Wilkinsburg team for a series of six games, the first three to be played on the Wilkinsburg Casino alleys Friday night. The Royals are not satisfied over their former defeat and think they can win the coming match.

Tonight the Central league will open its season on the club alleys and the following teams will participate: Dimlings vs. River Coal; Excelsior vs. National; Unity vs. Savoy; Pirates vs. Pittsburgh Field club; American Brewing Company vs. Costas.

F. Obermiller has notified The Gazette that he is organizing an Independent Barbers league in Allegheny; all games to be rolled on the Social alleys. There is room for two or three more barbers and they must be a resident of Allegheny. Notify F. Obermiller through The Gazette.

The writer visited the Hazelwood alleys last night and ran up against some strong bowlers. In fact the only game he won was with a score of 219. Hazelwood will have a strong team in the Pittsburgh section and will no doubt fool some of the wise ones.

Nationals Win at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The first game of the post-season series for the local championship between the two Chicago major league teams went to the Nationals by the score of 5 to 4. MONTGOMERY.

BATES, ON LONG RUN, SCORES ON HARVARD TEAM

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 11.—Although Harvard defeated Bates on Soldier's field this afternoon without difficulty the visitors had the distinction of crossing the Crimson goal line for the first time this season, the final score being 34 to 6. Bates' touchdown was made by Captain Kendall, who received the ball on a double pass and sprinted 70 yards during which he threw off both Starr and Wendell, and just crawled over the line as Nesmith tackled him from behind.

Bates proved able to gain ground at times on well-executed double passes and quarterback runs, for although their line held well the secondary defense was weak and their ends were often boxed up.

On the other hand the Crimson goal was seldom in danger, while on getting the ball, Harvard ploughed through the Bates' line for long gains. The Harvard team played with more speed and nearly all the players were quick in taking advantage of their opponents errors.

YALE OUTCLASSES THE SPRINGFIELD SCHOOL

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 11.—Yale defeated the Springfield training school eleven today 29 to 0. The Yale forwards considerably outweighed the Springfield linemen and there was little test of Yale's defense. The Springfield eleven was weak in offense and only once made first down. Yale used 24 men in the game. The general attack was end runs and quick lunges between tackle and end. In punting the Yale backs showed versatility, even when kicking close to their forwards.

OHIO NORTHERN HOLDS MICHIGAN TO LOW SCORE

FERRYFIELD, ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—In a cold, drizzling rain that lasted through the entire game and on a field on which the players slipped and slid, Michigan played its second mid-week game on Ferryfield this afternoon against the team sent up by Ohio Northern university, and won, 23 to 0. Coach Yost proudly boasts that rain has never yet been allowed to cause a postponement of a game and Capt. Norcross ordered his men up and down the field with even more energy than the intrepid battle quarterback usually displays. The Ada boys presented a heavy team and played to the limit throughout the game. Michigan went in with an entire substitute set of backs. Garrels was the only bright star of the game, making a 65-yard run for a touchdown in the first half.

West, Ohio Northern's right guard, was severely injured in the second half, sustaining a dislocated shoulder. Score—First half, Michigan 17, Ohio Northern 0. Lineup:

College Coaches Promise President Roosevelt to Aid in Making Football Cleaner.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 11.—Walter Camp, Yale's athletic adviser, tonight gave out a statement in regard to the conference of the representatives of Yale, Harvard and Princeton, with President Roosevelt Monday, which was held for the purpose of considering reforms in the game of football. The statement was made public after word had been received from President Roosevelt and is as follows:

"At a meeting with the President of the United States it was agreed that we consider an honorable obligation exists to carry out in letter and in spirit the rules of the game of football relating to roughness, holding and foul play, and the active coaches of our universities being present with us, pledged themselves to so regard it and to do their utmost to carry out that obligation.

WESTMINSTER WORKING.

Coach Lang Putting Team Through Practice for Allegheny Saturday.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The Westminster team was put through their football practice today in a drizzling rain, and the members of the 'varsity instructed in the handling of a wet ball. Field Coach Lang and Capt. Locke are putting the team through strenuous work in preparation for the game with Allegheny at Meadville on Saturday. All the varsity men were in uniform today with the exception of Right Tackle Elliott, who was not in uniform on account of a severe muscle bruise. In a 20-minute half the varsity and scrubs each made two touchdowns. The scrub team was strengthened by the coaches.

E. A. Tennent of Caledonia, N. Y., a former Westminster star, has written that he will be here to coach the ends in the near future. Trainer McDonald says that the men will all be in good condition for Saturday's contest, as only a few slight muscle bruises are giving trouble at present.

Herbert Patterson, '07, of Wilkinsburg, was elected captain of the varsity basket ball team.

No Racing at Lexington.

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 11.—The trotting races were postponed today on account of rain.

BASEBALL CHATTER.

Rain prevented the game yesterday between the Pirates and the All-Stars at Homestead. The bad weather disappointed a great number of enthusiasts who were eager to see what the Stars would do to the Pirates. The latter were also disappointed. However, arrangements were made to play the game at Homestead next Monday. Hans Lobert and Otto Knabe will play for the Stars, and this fact will cause a great crowd to attend.

Friday the Pirates are scheduled to play at Steubenville. They will leave for the Ohio city this morning and will give the Buckeyes a taste of their ability.

The exhibition trip of the Pittsburgh team will be extended to the middle of next week. West Newton, Scottdale and Apollo, among other towns, want to see them in action on their own soil and Manager Hans Wagner is inclined to accommodate them. On Friday the Pirates play at Salem, O., where they will meet Pitcher Faulk, who shut out Ohio Works; at Youngstown Saturday and at Zanesville Sunday.

GAMES TODAY.

New York at Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.

The world's championship series between the Athletics and New York got a breathing spell this afternoon. The storm king took a hand in the great affair and flooded the field at Columbia park, although it could not drown out or even dampen the enthusiasm a little bit. There was, of course, great disappointment, for, until Umpire Jack Sheridan announced that the third game of the series was postponed, there was some hope that the teams would take the field and try to break the tie between them.

Under the ruling of the national commission, the game scheduled for tomorrow will take place in this city, and all games hereafter between the two championship aggregations will start at 2:30 o'clock.

For nearly two hours hundreds sat in the bleachers under umbrellas and fondly hoped that each shower would be the last. Shortly after 2 o'clock the Gotham rooters, who again came over from that city, arrived, and they were followed in a few minutes by the New York players. The latter didn't appear quite as chipper as they did on Monday afternoon, although none of them had lost confidence in the final result by Tuesday's game at the Polo grounds.

One shower after another fell and the rival champions had little chance for exercise. At 2:35 o'clock there was a lull in the storm and the National leaguers went out on the field. They tossed and batted the ball around for a few minutes. Then more rain sent them back to the shelter of their bench. After another wait, the boy in charge of the official time piece again changed the song and the Athletics moved out to their positions. It was noticed that they had a little more difficulty in getting foothold with their spikes than the New Yorkers, which proved that each shower was rendering the turf less fit to play upon. The White Elephants were also on the field for only about five minutes, when they were sent to cover by another spell of dampness.

There were no attempts to practice after that, except by the pitchers. They got their arms warmed up a little. Meanwhile the chances of playing was getting less with every drop of rain that fell. Shortly before 3 o'clock Umpires Sheridan and O'Day came inside the playing territory. They talked for a minute with Captain Lave Cross, of the Athletics, and Manager McGraw, of the New Yorks. Lave argued that the field was in fit condition at that time.

McGraw is said to have given good arguments why everything should be declared off for the day. After talking it over the umpires went out to first base for a critical view of just how much damage had been done. In order to make the test as accurate as possible, Mr. O'Day took a little slide on the base patch and discovered that the soil was in a pretty spongy condition. Then the two umpires discussed the situation and the prospects, while the rainproof enthusiasts anxiously awaited their decision. At last the two officials strayed to the home plate and Mr. Sheridan made a speech. His first words settled it.

"As there is considerable importance attached to these games," Mr. Sheridan said, "and the grounds are very wet, we have decided to call off the game."

There were a few hisses when the announcement was made, but the large majority of those present took the situation philosophically. They realized that with the world's championship at stake, the contests should be played under conditions fit for ball playing and not when it would be entirely a matter of luck.

The words were scarcely out of Mr. Sheridan's mouth than the Athletic players hastened to their dressing room, while the Giants lost no time in getting into their carriages and returning to their hotel. Instead of going back to New York tonight they remain in this city.

The postponement will cause shifting of the schedule for the series. If there is a game tomorrow afternoon it will be played in this city, while Friday and Saturday the two teams will clash in New York. Should it also rain tomorrow, Friday's engagement will take place at Columbia park. In any event, the Saturday game will be played in New York.

The postponement gave the enthusiasts a good chance to size up the showing made by the teams in the shutout contests of Monday and Tuesday and to comment on some features of the series. It was considered that the day's rest would be a benefit to both teams, but more so to the White Elephants than the Giants. Even ardent rooters of the New Yorkers admitted in that city on Tuesday that of the two teams the National league champions were in a better condition to stand the strain of the series.

The Giants never had any worriment over their championship race, while the Athletics not only had to work hard physically, but also mentally to keep their heads above water in the American league, and the tension on them never relaxed until last Friday night. It was admitted that even a glance at the drawn faces of Mack's men proved that they were sorely in need of rest. That they should have played the Giants to a standstill in the first two contests once more demonstrated their gameness under the most trying conditions.

Elks Looking for Its Game.

Members of Elk Lodge No. 11 are anxious to see Lewis Weis and Harry Ewing play off their much-talked of pool match. It was postponed some weeks ago on account of the illness of Ewing.

Among the Clubs.

Progressing Toward Universal Peace.

The New Era club this year has taken for its subject of study "Milestones on the March to Universal Peace," its motto being the words of Gen. U. S. Grant, "Let Us Have Peace." The various departments will present interesting programs indicating these milestones. During the year the literature department will discuss the Zionist movement, "War in Fiction and Realism of Today." Under the department of civics will be presented the topic, "What Women Are Doing in Civics" (resume of a year's work). "The Renaissance of Art in Glass," "An American School of Art," and "Statues to Women in America" will be noted under art. The department of sociology will give a debate on the topic, "Shall Immigration Be Restricted?" Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, negative; Mrs. Mattie Patterson, affirmative. "The Horace Mann School," "The American School as a Civilizer in Our Colonies," and "Teaching Morality in Our Schools" will be presented on education day, January 24. The department of science will discuss "Science, the Real Peacemaker," on February 14. Philanthropy as a means toward universal peace will be presented on March 14 under the topic, "The Prevalence of the Philanthropic Spirit." "The Spirit of Commercialism," "The Awakening of the American People to Graft in Business and Politics," and "The Lack of Economy in American People" will be presented on financial day, March 28. Advancement in household economies will be brought out on April 11 by "Scientific Improvements in the Home." Forestry day, April 25, the club will be the guest of Mrs. Smiley Wightman in her home in Forbes street, when the "Progress of Forestry in Pennsylvania" will be described. An American day will be observed February 28.

Meeting of Illinois Federation.

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its eleventh annual meeting in Joliet October 17 to 20, at the same time that the Pennsylvania federation will be meeting in Cambridge Springs. Reports of the committees, with various suggestions for the extension of the work of the different departments of the federation, will be made, followed by full and free discussions on all topics in the program. On Wednesday the educational session will be conducted, among the speakers being prominent Illinois club women, and Miss Margaret M. Mather of the College of Agriculture, Manhattan, Kan.; Mrs. Alice Peloubet Norton of the University of Chicago; Miss Eleanor Smith of Hull House, Chicago, and Mrs. John D. Sherman, secretary of the General Federation of Women's clubs. Wednesday evening a song recital will be given, followed on Thursday by the election of vice presidents and delegates to the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs in St. Paul, Minn., next spring. The reports of the various committees, art, forestry, domestic science and industrial, will be presented on Thursday and Friday. During the past year the club women of Illinois did effective work for the enforcement of child labor laws. The theater managers tried to secure the passage through the legislature of an amendment to the child labor law recently enacted, to allow children to play in the theaters. This was defeated through the efforts of the women of Illinois, all of them belonging to the state federation.

Simpler Receptions Prevail.

There is a very noticeable change in the program for president's day receptions this season over those of a year ago. The majority of the women's clubs, through their social committees, are aiming at more simplicity in their arrangements for the social meetings which constitute a marked feature of the club year. This was particularly marked at the president's day reception of the New Era club yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Norwood Johnston, in South Rebecca street, Shadyside. The members of the club and guests from other clubs in the city and suburban towns were received by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. James R. Kibler, the president of the New Era club. During the afternoon there was music, Mrs. Franklin G. Pierce, a member of the club, who recently returned from an extended trip through Europe and the Holy Land, singing several numbers. Mrs. Kibler made her annual address, speaking particularly of the care and early training of children. Mrs. Kibler did not speak in favor of department clubs, those which embrace many departments of work, claiming greater interest in educational lines and the improvement of the home. She spoke for the uplifting of the youth and children, the founding of schools and the establishment of the juvenile court. Later tea was served under the direction of the social committee, composed of Mrs. Norwood Johnston, chairman; Mrs. Smiley Wightman, Mrs. Robert W. Card, Mrs. R. W. Smith and Miss Romaine P. Clark. The decorations were in pink and maroon, the club colors, the flowers being carnations and chrysanthemums.

State Federation Committees.

The following committees were appointed by Miss Kate C. McKnight, president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, for the annual meeting to be held in Cambridge Springs October 17, 18, 19 and 20:

Program—Mrs. W. W. Bell, Bradford, chairman; Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Carlisle; Mrs. Charles Field Hunter, Phoenixville; Mrs. Samuel W. McCuen, Oil City; Mrs. S. D. Weaver, Smethport; Mrs. C. P. Woodring, Meadville.

Judge of elections—Mrs. S. B. Luckie, Chester.

Credentials chairman—Mrs. Charles Fink, Cambridge Springs.

Badges—Mrs. Peter M. Speer, Second street, Oil City.

Resolutions chairman—Mrs. Enoch Rauh.

Holds Fortnightly Meeting.

The Women's club of Braddock held its fortnightly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Carnegie Free library hall, Braddock. The topic discussed was "The Revolutionary Period of American Literature." Mrs. A. Montgomery Scott read a paper entitled "An Imaginary Visit to a Typical New England Church," and Mrs. James A. Hartford read a paper on "Poor Richard's Almanac." Mrs. Alfred Wiles Schooley was chosen delegate from Braddock club to the meeting of the State Federation at Cambridge Springs. Mrs. W. H. Semmens of Turtle Creek and Mrs. F. N. Pilgram were chosen alternates. The union meetings of the women's clubs of the Monongahela valley, Hazelwood, Wilkinsburg and Edgewood, which was planned two weeks ago, is scheduled to be held November 2 in Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock.

Will Address Braddock Round Table.

Monsieur Monongahela DeBeaujeu of Quebec, the Frenchman whose ancestor commanded the French and Indian forces at the battle of Braddock Field, will address the Carnegie Round Table at Braddock at its February monthly meeting. DeBeaujeu expects to reach the scene of his ancestor's triumph in about two weeks, and will remain some time in this vicinity. The announcement was made at the first meeting this season of the Round Table last night, when 150 members were present. After a social hour in Carnegie music hall supper was served in the gymnasium. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Frank Gray; first vice president, the Rev. George E. Hawes; second vice president, Richard W. Edwards; treasurer, Edward D. Nugent; secretary, Harry J. Bird.

Women Discuss Shakespeare.

The Women's Library club of Knoxville held its first meeting of this season on Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. J. J. Kennedy. The plan of study for the coming year was outlined. The club will take up a thorough study of the comedies and tragedies of Shakespeare, its programs consisting only of Shakespearean topics and music. On Tuesday evening Miss Helen Grimes and Miss Alice Moore sang several songs, the program concluding with piano numbers by Mrs. O. F. Habegger and Miss Frank. The officers of the club are: President, Mrs. J. J. Kennedy; first vice president, Mrs. M. H. Miller; second vice president, Miss Helen Grimes; recording secretary, Miss Millie Du Vall; corresponding secretary, Mrs. O. F. Habegger, and treasurer, Miss Ella Fisher.

President's Day in Sewickley.

The Woman's club of Sewickley will observe President's day on Wednesday, October 25. A reception will be conducted in the Edgeworth club house, the regular meeting place for the Woman's club. The plans for the year include current event afternoon classes, conducted by Miss Julia M. Harding; literature classes, instructed by Miss Jean Craig of the East End, and language classes under the direction of Richard Skalweit and Mademoiselle Levy. Want the Returns.

Mrs. John Fremont Shafer, secretary of the Soho Baths committee, last night issued a call for members of the Soho baths committee, club women and others who are selling tickets for the benefit matinee, to be given in the Nixon theater October 18, to report to the chairman, Mrs. George D. Motheral, at a meeting at her home, 407 Rebecca street, Shadyside, on Saturday morning, October 14, at 10:30 o'clock. Those who cannot attend the meeting are asked to send in a report of the number of tickets sold. Arrangements are progressing finely for the matinee for the benefit of the Soho public baths, when Robert Edeson will appear in his new college play, "Strongheart."

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twentytwo per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirtyseven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."

Dr. E. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."

Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect and freedom from harm."

Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

Dr. H. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and merits."

Dr. Norman M. Geer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the last twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered is a great advantage."

REPUBLICAN TARIFF CLUB HOLDS SMOKER

Entertains Friends at First Event of the Season—J. Hampton Moore a Guest.

Members and friends of the Young Men's Republican Tariff club were entertained at the club house in Grant street last night at the first smoker of the fall and winter season. The house was crowded with members and visitors for several hours, and during the evening J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, president of the National League of Republican Clubs; Albert J. Edwards, president of the State League of Republican Clubs; John R. Farr of Scranton, an ex-speaker of the state legislature; Samuel J. Wainwright, president of the Americus club, and John Murphy, president of the Colonial club, stopped in.

Mr. Moore delivered an address in the assembly hall and spoke of the Republican party and the league of Republican clubs, urging that the fiftieth anniversary of the Republican clubs be held next year in Philadelphia, where the first Republican national convention was held, to commemorate the banding together of volunteer workers in the Republican party.

About 500 people remained for the entertainment, smoker and lunch. The entertainers were the Barr sisters, dancers, talent from a local theater, two orchestras, Nirella's Fourteenth Regiment band and the Lone Star quartet. C. H. Cness sang several solos.

The committee in charge of the smoker was composed of M. J. C. Saupp, Frederick Pilgrim, Harlan W. Simonds, George S. Wilson, John Fugassi and Robert G. Mattern.

HEARS LICENSE CASE.

Supreme Court Takes Up Liquor Dispute from Somerset County. Next Week's List.

The supreme court yesterday heard the Somerset liquor license cases on an appeal from the superior court. When license hearings were held in Somerset county last spring it was found that in several applications the names of the bondsmen had been omitted from the petitions, although the bonds were filed with the petitions. The Somerset county court decided that the petitions could not be amended and an appeal was taken to the supreme court. That tribunal reversed the lower court on the ground that the intent of the legislature was to bring out in the petition all the persons interested in the application and that this had been accomplished by filing the bonds. The anti-saloon people carried the question to the supreme court and it was argued yesterday, the same points as to the legislative intent and powers of the court being brought out as at the previous hearings.

The case of King and others versus the Savage Fire Brick Company, from Somerset county, was sent back to the superior court and an appeal to that court filed at once.

An appeal was taken in the case of Elizabeth J. Saunders and others against Peter Momolen from common pleas No. 2 of Allegheny county. On Tuesday the latter court decided that the plaintiffs could give a good title to certain property and gave judgment for them in $2,500. Momolen took the appeal and his attorney made a motion to advance the case to the present term, as under the rules it would not come to an argument for a year. The court permitted the motion to be filed, but made no decision.

Appeals were also filed in the cases of James Black vs. the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, appellant, and the Pearce Manufacturing Company vs. the Lebanon Mutual Insurance Company, appellant, both from Mercer county. They go on the 1906 list.

It is probable that the court will finish this week's list today and adjourn until next Monday. The list next week will include one transferred case from Dauphin county and the cases from Beaver, Butler, Greene, Indiana, Lawrence and Washington counties. The Dauphin county case is the commonwealth, appellant, vs. the Consumers' Gas Company. Attorney General Hampton L. Carson will appear for the commonwealth and M. E. Olmstead for the other side.

IMPROVEMENTS IN SYNAGOGUE

Second Presbyterian Church to Be a Revelation When Dedicated.

Renovations and alterations have been so extensively made in the former Eighth street synagogue now occupied by the Second Presbyterian congregation, that scarcely anything but the outer walls will be recognizable when the new church is dedicated next Sunday morning.

The dedication services will be held Sunday morning, the communion at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the evening service at 7:30 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—President Roosevelt today received the officers of the High Tent, Independent Order of Rechabites, now holding its annual sessions here. High Chief John C. Moore presented Mrs. Ellis of Pittsburgh. "No such work would amount to much without the assistance of the ladies," said President Roosevelt. "They can accomplish more than we men can."

Too Much Worry.

Worry kills more people than disease. It turns our hair gray; draws wrinkles on our face, places lines of care on our brow. We worry because we have too much to do. We worry because we have nothing to do. We worry about our friends. Make our friends wonder at our impatient and irritable nature, and if we don't take the trouble to learn the great secret we will worry ourselves into the grave. Worry is caused by a diseased stomach. Lactonene Dyspepsia Tablets cure it. Get them today. A contented mind is surely yours—the greatest blessing man or woman can have. "Ask the Druggist."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

STOCKS OPENED STRONG BUT REACTED SHARPLY

The Turning Point Came With a Note of Warning Uttered Before the Bankers' Association. Local Stocks Held Fairly Steady.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A strain is on in our currency system. We know that we are threatened by great disorders; that the edict of a labor leader might change a cloudless outlook into an uncertain one. We know that there is a disregard of law in labor unions and in corporation offices alike, which is threatening our welfare. Should a stock market speculation start from the present high level of prices in the face of the extraordinary demand for capital and money which crops and business alike are making, the result might easily be temporary disaster. * * * Never was there a better time to preach conservatism or never, perhaps, was it easier to be carried away by some of the obvious features of prosperity and to forget some of the dangers which in the end will be quite as potent in shaping the ultimate result. It is no time for prudence to be cast to the wind; no time for speculative commitments which would yield disaster if temporary reverses came; no time for laxness in any of the forms of business prudence and conservatism.

The foregoing was the closing paragraph in an address delivered by Frank A. Vanderlip before the convention of the American Bankers' association yesterday. As soon as the address was wired to Wall street the stock market underwent a complete change. Its tone had been dull, but strong during the morning, and advances were scored throughout the list. London had also been a buyer to a larger extent than for more than a week. During the afternoon there was extensive liquidation, accompanied by declines ranging from fractions to 5 per cent, and the close was heavy.

There were two reasons why so much weight was given Mr. Vanderlip's words. The first was that he is a vice president of the National City bank, which is dominated by Standard Oil interests, and he is credited with expressing their views as they bear upon the stock market. The other reason was that on a previous occasion and before the same association Mr. Vanderlip had uttered a note or warning and the warning was heeded by the speculative public.

In the course of the address yesterday Mr. Vanderlip pointed out that the south and west have agricultural crops $500,000,000 more valuable than the 10-year average and worth a total of $3,000,000,000. He also laid full stress upon the activity of general business and the brightness of the outlook. But Wall street ignored everything but the "warning" contained in the closing paragraph.

During the first half of the session the dealings amounted to only 285,000 shares, but during the afternoon sales were at the rate of 200,000 shares an hour. Professional traders, seeing that there was no support in the market, pushed their advantage to the utmost, and while there were feeble rallies toward the close of the day, the lowest prices were recorded in the final hour.

The largest declines were in the high-priced railroad stocks. Great Northern preferred, whose stockholders have just been given a "melon," broke 5 points to 320, closing at the lowest. Northwestern sold off from 219 to 216 and closed at the lowest. Canadian Pacific broke from 173 to 170 and closed at 170⅜. Other declines were 3 per cent in Northern Pacific, 2 in Louisville & Nashville, 1⅝ in St. Paul, 1⅛ in New York Central, ⅞ in Pennsylvania and ¾ in Illinois Central. Union Pacific, which was heavily bought during the early part of the day, closed at a net loss of 1⅛ per cent.

With the exception of Amalgamated Copper, Smelting and Sugar, which closed 1½ to 2 per cent lower for the day, the losses in the industrials were not severe. United States Steel common closed ⅝ and the preferred ¾ per cent lower, and the minor iron and steel stocks lost only fractional amounts. American Steel Foundries common and preferred and Chicago Great Western, which were unusually active and strong during the early part of the day, closed at small net gains.

The money market ruled firm all day, the rate ranging between 6¼ and 6 per cent, the final loan being at 6 per cent. Advices from London stated that there was little probability or any change in the Bank of England rate today.

The principal activity in the local stock market was confined to Ohio Tonopah and National Fire Proofing preferred. The last named sold within a range of 22½ and 21⅝, the final sale being at 21¾, a loss of ⅝ for the day. It is the general expectation that if a quorum of the board of directors is obtained today, the dividend on the preferred stock will be suspended. The common stock was a shade firmer, closing at 6⅛. Crucible Steel common held steady at 12⅞ to 13, but the preferred on light transactions declined 1 per cent to 66¼, being influenced by the weakness prevailing in the New York market. Pittsburgh Coal common rallied to 15 and the preferred to 57¾. The remainder of the industrial list was dull, but steady. There were no transactions in any of the Westinghouse issues. Ohio Tonopah sold to the extent of 4,000 shares at 28c to 29c. Lustre rallied to 35 at the close. Marsden also rallied a fraction, closing at 3¾.

A feature of the day was the sale of 100 shares Pittsburgh Trust at 445, a decline of 20 oints from the last previous sale, and 122 shares Safe Deposit at 400, a decline of 5 points. There were no sales of bonds.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

With a few exceptions local stocks were dull but steady.

National Fire Proofing preferred declined from 22½ to 21⅝.

The weakness thought to foreshadow the suspension of the dividend.

Crucible common firmer, but the preferred declined 1 per cent.

Pittsburgh Trust sold at 445 and Safe Deposit at 400.

IN WALL STREET

The stock market opened strong, but closed weak and lower.

Vanderlip's "note of warning" the turning point.

High-priced railroad stocks suffered the largest declines.

Sales included 881,000 shares stock and $2,835,000 bonds.

Call loans ruled firm, closing at 6 per cent.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Almost the sole topic in stock market circles during the afternoon was Mr. Vanderlip's address. One broker seemed to hit the nail on the head when he said: "Mr. Vanderlip has merely given expression to public sentiment, as manifested for weeks past. Commission houses have been telling their customers who asked for an opinion that prices looked high, and that it was risky to buy at this level while the money market remained so firm. The public has been standing aloof, but at the same time was anxious to get aboard in time for the big market that was predicted as coming this winter. The public is not loaded with stocks, and if the professional traders sell the market down a few points the public will buy. I believe brokers are carrying a smaller line of stocks today than at any previous time in a bull market, or when the prices were averaging the highest ever quoted. In that respect the liability of the market to a break is less than ever before."

The "swing" of prices in the New York market yesterday was wider than on any previous day for several weeks. The balance has heretofore been maintained by short sales by professionals who thought there was a turn on that side because of the stiffness of money, and by the purchases of bull cliques who have maintained that a big market was coming later on. The necessities of the money market have restricted active speculation, and with a period of dullness to be faced, large interests in stocks determined to hold prices and await the return of ease in money for a renewal of the campaign to lift prices to a higher level. Speculative markets, however, will not remain stationary and if an advancing tendency halts there is almost inevitably a disposition to react. Speculators who are holding stocks on margin get impatient at the non-appearance of profits and are inclined to sell out, even if no pressure is placed upon them in the way of restriction of credits. The result has been the growth of doubtful sentiment in the speculation which made the market vulnerable to any sudden influence.

The money market stiffened in the afternoon after the easier tone of the morning and may have been influenced by the preparations beginning for payments of the Japanese loan subscriptions. The feeling abroad over the money outlook was distinctly more cheerful and a decline in the discount rate in London was taken as a promise of the probable retention of the Bank of England rate today. Continental exchanges continued to move in favor of London in spite of a further advance in discounts at Paris and Berlin.

Barbour was a large seller of National Fire Proofing preferred on the advance at the opening. The buying was scattered, and was thought to represent the averaging of higher-priced stock and also some covering. The street is evidently prepared for a cut or suspension of the dividend, and opinion at the close of the market was that it would be a suspension.

The dealings in Safe Deposit and Pittsburgh Trust attracted some atention, because they were larger than for a long time past. Weitengel sold a block of 100 shares Safe Deposit at 400 to Masten & Co., and the latter were also the largest buyers of Pittsburgh Trust at 445. Sproul & Co. and Homes, Wardrop & Co. were sellers. Preston, Watt & Schoyer were also buyers of Safe Deposit.

Activity in the local bond list completely subsided yesterday, not a single transaction being recorded, and prices were nominally unchanged.

London was a buyer yesterday of about 7,000 shares Pennsylvania, 4,000 shares Steel, 1,000 shares Steel preferred, 10,000 shares Union Pacific, 3,000 shares Southern Pacific 3,000 shares Erie and 1,000 shares Baltimore & Ohio.

One large Wall street house bought more than 10,000 shares Pennsylvania up to noon. The stock closed ⅞ lower for the day.

The advance in Chicago Great Western was said to be based on a bull point current among the active speculators who make their headquarters at the Waldorf-Astoria. The old rumor of getting roads with strategical advantages in the rate position out of the way, was revived with some success in this stock. It also notably helped the pool in Wisconsin Central, which by latest rumors is to be unloaded on the long-suffering Erie.

Whether the break was due to liquidation as the bears claim, or to short selling, as the bulls claim, it was very evident that the market was deficient in support.

One reason for bulling Union Pacific is that it is supposed to have at least one-half of its original holdings of Great Northern preferred intact and will therefore benefit enormously from the Great Northern rights.

The gross earnings of Missouri, Kansas & Texas for the first week in October decreased $37,449.

The Russian special commissioners appointed to discover the damage done to the Baku oil fields report 1,777 derricks burned, of which 912 were being profitably worked, 364 were being bored or repaired and 409 were unprofitable. There are still standing 1,219 derricks of which 535 are profitable, 272 are being bored or repaired and 412 are unprofitable.

Mr. Gates is a rampant bull on the steel and iron conditions. "The situation," said Mr. Gates, "is stronger than it has been in the history of the iron and steel industry, and the outlook could not be more encouraging. Next year will be a record-breaker in steel production as well as earnings."

Reports that an extra dividend of 20 per cent will be declared on Pullman Company stock at the annual meeting October 12, were declared as practically without foundation in Chicago financial circles yesterday. It is said the matter rests in the hands of Marshall Field, who has given no intimations of his plans and wishes in regard to this matter. Mr. Field is traveling in Europe.

Ohio Fuel stockholders amended their charter at a special meeting in Columbus. The most important change was the naming of Cincinnati as one of the terminal points. The work on the Cincinnati line is progressing rapidly. Subscriptions to the $1,000,000 new stock to be issued this month will be paid for by October 20.

The September production of gold at the Rand was officially announced at 418,487 fine ounces, against 428,551 fine ounces in August and 419,505 in July. Value of the above estimate, reckoning one fine ounce at $21¼, is $8,850,349, as compared with $9,102,480 in August and $6,672,550 in September a year ago. Prior to the Boer war the high record of Rand production was $8,604,000, in August, 1899. Comparison with previous months this year, and with August in earlier years, is as follows:

Sept., 1905	$8,850,349	Sept., 1904	$6,632,530

STOCKS DECLINE FAST AND CLOSING IS WEAK

Entire Reaction Is Credited to the Utterances of Frank A. Vanderlip at Washington.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

After a strong opening and an interval of general advances stocks declined sharply yesterday, closing weak and at about the lowest prices of the day. The market increased in activity on the decline, which is usually regarded as an indication of selling for both accounts, or that bearish operators, having detected some liquidating or profit-taking sales, had joined in the movement to depress prices.

The course of the market was an "about face" affair, the later dealings being the absolute reverse of those of the earlier trading. The street was practically unanimous in crediting the entire reaction to the cautionary utterances delivered by Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City bank, before the American Bankers' association at Washington. Yet aside from this address there were others from high sources equally well calculated to inspire conservatism.

The news of the day was by no means all unfavorable, but it was somewhat mixed. Foreign markets were reported as better, and London at the opening of the new account, showed a disposition to buy American stocks. The Metropolitan Street railway made a very poor report, showing a deficit on net income as $2,[illegible], as against a deficit last year of $1,[illegible]. Still this had very little adverse influence under the abounding optimism prevailing at the time. Reports of the iron and steel trade were highly satisfactory.

Money market developments were mixed. Time and call money hardened here, particularly after Mr. Vanderlip's address became public. Exchange, which had run up 30 points, broke about as much, which was attributed to the same influence. London's money market was easier, but discounts at Paris, Berlin and Brussels hardened again. The sole influence in the later trading were the Washington addresses, particularly that of Mr. Vanderlip. The late depression of the market was attributed solely to that.

TO HONOR COLUMBUS.

Local Italians Will Celebrate Anniversary of Discovery of America Today With Parade and Picnic.

The 413th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus will be celebrated to day by the United Italian societies of East Liberty, aided by the Italian local population generally. The feature of the celebration will be a parade through the principal streets of the East End, which will begin at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Mariano Cancelliere will act as grand marshal of the parade, assisted by Frank Lorenzo, Nelson Nozzolillo, P. Ruffolo, R. Depretis and Joseph C. Cancelliere. The line formation will be as follows: Mounted police, grand marshal and staff, officers of societies, Royal Marine society in uniform, Regina Elena society of Sharpsburg, members of Italian colony, Operaia society, Victor Emanuel II. society and committees.

The executive committee consists of M. Iezielzi, A. De Simone, N. Formichella, Dr. A. E. Abbate and G. d'Ambrosio. During the evening a picnic and ball will be given on Kenwood lawn, Larimer avenue, when prizes will be awarded and addresses made.

Boyard Is Permanently Injured.

James W. Boyard, through baggage master between Pittsburgh and New York, on the Pennsylvania railroad, who had his leg and a number of ribs broken by being struck by an automobile in the Beechwood boulevard on August 4, it was stated yesterday at Union station, will never be able to resume the duties of the position he held at the time he was injured. Boyard was discharged from Passavant hospital about two weeks ago, but is still wearing the cast on his leg. His home is in Jersey City, N. J.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, No. 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., has for sale a variety of bonds yielding the purchaser from 3½ to 5 per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments. Inquire of Alexander C. Thompson, manager bond department.

THE MONEY MARKET.

In the local market regular borrowers are still able to get 6 per cent call money, secured by first-class collateral, but the bulk of the business is reported at 5½ to 6 per cent on call and time. Clearing house comparisons:

MARKET FOR IRON REMAINS STRONG

Bessemer and Basic Pig Is Being Quoted from $15 75 to $16. Coke Very Scarce.

STEEL PRODUCTS ARE FIRM

Bessemer, basic and foundry pig iron have not only maintained the strength shown a week ago, but if anything have grown stronger during the week just closed, quotations on Bessemer and basic pig ranging from $15 75 to $16 00, while foundry is still quoted at $15 50. The closing week also shows uniform strength and activity in all steel products with sufficient demand to warrant an exceptionally healthy condition which promises a strong foundation. Coke is beyond reach. A heavy order for furnace coke for next year was placed during the week at the exceptionally high figure of $2 85, while offers of $2 75 have not been exceptional. Producers refuse to set prices on next year's output. It is believed among producers that furnace might bring $3 00 at this time, but it is unobtainable. Foundry coke is being quoted at $3 50 and some good orders have been placed at this figure.

Pipe and tubes are in fair, but not exceptional demand, and prices remain unchanged. The market price for billets remains at a range of $25 00 to $26 00 while finished lines continue in active demand at prices quoted last week. Steel, iron and coke men are already noting what they believe to be the advent of a car shortage and some difficulty is already reported in securing carriers for their products.

The Hardware Market.

Business in the hardware line continues to move along in a lively manner, good orders coming in right along from salesmen on the road and from the trade generally, the demand covering all lines and are for good quantities, bringing the volume of business up to a very satisfactory point, and indicating that the trade throughout the country is busy. In addition to general hardware lines the demand for ammunition and shotguns is very heavy, sportsmen evidently preparing for a busy even if it may be a short season. The window glass business continues to move along much as at our last report, fair demand existing to keep stocks in the right shape for use of consumers. The continued fine weather is keeping up a remarkably good demand for paints, glass, brushes and other goods in these lines for use on outside work. Prices on general lines continue firm, some few advances being made.

SEPTEMBER PRODUCTION SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Blast Furnace Output, However, Is Still Below the High Record Set Last May—Capacity Larger.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The country's iron production for September, published today, shows increase of 45,200 tons over August, and 146,938 over July, but was still 74,884 tons below the high record of last May, which was 1,936,717 tons. The Iron Age will say tomorrow of this showing:

Our monthly blast furnace returns show that production in September, in spite of the fact that it was a short month, was 1,898,873 gross tons, as compared with 1,843,673 gross tons in August, and 1,741,935 tons in July. Returns from all the steel companies make their pig iron product 1,262,033 tons in September, against 1,136,050 tons in August, an increase in spite of the fact that the Pittsburgh district produced only 440,632 tons in September, as compared with 486,119 tons in August.

The capacity at work has increased in September and stood on October 1 at 445,468 tons per week, as contrasted with 412,563 tons on September 1. There is the promise, therefore, of an increased production which the country needs so sorely.

Pig iron prices have been further advanced. Some further goodly orders have come to the rail mills and a good deal of business is pending in bridge material, fully 60,000 tons being under negotiation.

DANGER OF A RUNAWAY MARKET IS DISAPPEARING

Conditions in Iron Trade Are Thoroughly Sound and Future Will Hold No Special Excitement.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: The danger of a runaway market is disappearing and conditions are thoroughly sound. The outlook is that while there will be no special excitement in the near future, all plants will continue fully as active as they have been for sometime. The greatest activity in pig iron has been in the Chicago district.

There is now only one important company in the south quoting $12 50, and very little iron can be purchased at less than $13 00. It is confidentially expected the $13 00 basis will be established this week.

Coke continues an important factor. Many contracts have been made for furnace coke, some for the first half of next year, and others for the entire year at from $2 50 to $2 75 for standard Connellsville.

RECEIPTS OF CANNED GOODS ARE NOT LARGE

Tomatoes, Peas and Beans a Poor Crop and Prices May Advance.

The market for canned goods is beginning to show its peculiarities for the season. Corn is arriving in good quantity from Maryland and New York, and large sales are reported. The supply of other canned vegetables is comparatively small and prices are likely to advance as the season progresses. The tomato crop is poor in most sections and although a fair supply is now being received from Maryland there is no assurance that prices will not go up shortly, as the packing is nearly finished. Peas and beans are also scant in supply and reports from the canneries indicate that the stock will be taken up soon.

Receipts of grapes were short again yesterday and the price stiffened. Jamaica oranges are now in market at $2 75 to $3 50 a box. The grocery market showed no changes of importance. The cheese market still remains quiet so far as quotations are concerned.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 12 cars hay, 6 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 6 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 1 car seed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 5 cars hay, 1 car oats.

Receipts of hay and grain continue very light and the market is active. Bidding on change was lively during call and a good, healthy condition is noted in the market for all commodities.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Calumet & Hecla Company has purchased a large stock interest in the Superior Copper mine, located immediately south of Isle Royale and operating the Baltic lode. The company has also secured an option until September next on a sufficient amount of the treasury stock to secure the control, if such action proves desirable.

The Copper Queen Company smelter at Douglas, Ariz., has blown in a new 400-ton furnace and will blow in two more of the same size by November 1. This will give the Copper Queen smelters a monthly capacity of 12,000,000 pounds of copper. The smelter has been turning out from 6,500,000 to 7,500,000 pounds per month, but the Copper Queen, with the help of custom ore, can increase its production to a monthly production of 12,000,000 pounds.

After being idle three years the Moon-Anchor, on Gold Hill, Cripple Creek, from which over $1,000,000 in gold has been extracted, will shortly take a place among the producers. Eastern capitalists have secured a 2-year lease on the property and it is the expectation of the lessees to spend $15,000 in development work.

The United Copper Company at Butte is quite active at present and is maintaining a steady output of about 1,300 tons of ore a day.

Utah has been awarded the gold medal for the best collective exhibit of minerals at the Lewis and Clark centennial exhibition at Portland, Ore.

An official of the American Smelting and Refining Company states that the work of building the new smelter at Velardena, Mex., is progressing very slowly, owing to the great difficulty of obtaining skilled labor.

The Palmer Mountain Tunnel and Power Company of New York has completed 900 out of 5,500 feet of its flume, now under construction in Okanogan county, Wash. The concrete power house walls and roof are completed and ready to receive the machinery. The poles are being distributed for use in electrical service at the mine.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The market had no decided tendency until about noon today. Mr. Vanderlip made a speech this morning at the Bankers' convention and it had been generally expected that his views would be very bullish and would define the position of the Standard Oil party in the market. Contrary to expectations, the speech was very negative in its character and this fact was taken advantage of by the floor traders to raid the entire list. Only a few stocks were shaken out, however, and the close was dull but firm, with prices only slightly changed for the day.

Success of Operations Assures Good Supply of Gas for Winter

Light producers are still the rule in the lower southwest fields. The gas companies are completing many wells in the deep sand districts and getting fair producers. The general results would indicate that the companies that supply gas to Pittsburgh will not be troubled with a shortage during the coming winter. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the Albert Masters farm into the Gordon and has developed some oil. In the Pine Grove extension, in the same county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. F. Brookover farm into the pay and the well produced 17 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district the same company has drilled its No. 3 on the T. J. J. Postalwait farm 45 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas.

On Rock Camp run, Sardis district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its important test well on the J. W. Edgell farm 10 feet into the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas. This test is located northeast of the No. 46 on the Judge Goff farm. The last gauge of this well showed a production of 100 barrels. The rig for No. 41 is building and the location for No. 42 has been made. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Lloyd Randolph farm 4 feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,500 feet with [illegible]. Near West Union, Doddridge county, Trainer Brothers have completed a test on the Belle Hall farm and have a good gasser in the Gordon. Near Sullivan, in the same county, the Philadelphia Company has now drilled its test on the H. M. Cottrell farm through the Gordon and has a very good gasser.

In the Elm Run district, Ritchie county, A. C. Hawkins has completed his No. 3 on the A. Rutherford heirs' farm and has a fair gasser in the Big Injun sand. In the St. Mary's district, Pleasants county, the Empire Drilling Company has drilled its second test on the R. F. Standiford farm into the Keener sand and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper.

In the Graysville district, on the Ohio side, in Monroe county, the Woodfield Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Samuel Gray heirs' farm into the Berea grit and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper. In the Jackson Ridge district, same county, F. P. Hoe & Co. have completed a second test on the James Beard farm and have a duster in the Berea grit. In the Trail run district the National Production Company has completed a test on the John Mauch farm and has a show for a five-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand. In the Marietta district, Washington county, the Monongahela Valley Oil Company has completed a test on the D. V. Hadrose farm and has a duster in the Berea grit.

In the McKees Rocks district, Allegheny county, George Dittmer has drilled a second test on his own farm through all sands and has a duster. A light gas pressure was developed in the fourth sand.

MARKET IS STRONG ON FOREIGN CABLES

Higher Prices for Wheat at Liverpool Stimulate the Demand in Chicago.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Higher prices for wheat at Liverpool today stimulated the demand here and the market was strong. At the close December wheat was up ⅝c. Corn and oats show gains of ⅝c each. Provisions are up 5c to 10c.

The wheat market was strong from the start, opening quotations on December being up ⅛c to ¼c at 86c to 86¼c. The market was influenced largely by an advance in the price of wheat at Liverpool. Higher priced Russian and Danubian offerings and extraordinary demand from Italy, Germany and Spain for wheat were some of the reasons given for the strength in the English market. An official report from Bombay stated that rain was greatly needed in several provinces of India. In addition to the bullish foreign news domestic conditions favored the bulls. Receipts in the northwest were considerably smaller than for the corresponding day last week and a year ago, and cash wheat at Minneapolis was quoted at 2c over the December delivery. Commission houses and shorts were active buyers throughout the entire session, and the market at no time showed signs of weakening. There was considerable selling by pit traders on the large increase in the world's visible supply, but it had little apparent effect on values. The market closed strong, with prices almost at the highest point of the day. Final quotations on December were at 86⅜c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 458,000 bushels. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, increased 9,250,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,094,000 bushels, compared with 1,293,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 655 cars, against 938 cars last week and 731 cars a year ago.

An excellent export and shipping demand for corn caused decided strength in the market for that cereal. New York reported 20 boatloads taken for export and, in addition, 12 loads were worked here for foreign account. Local receipts were small. This had some bullish effect. Shorts were the principal buyers. The market closed strong, with prices practically at the highest point. December opened ⅛c higher at 44⅝c, sold up to 45⅛c and closed at 45c. Local receipts were 124 cars, with 23 cars of contract grade.

Activity prevailed in the oats market, with a general demand for all deliveries. The market was strong from the start, the increased demand for export being the chief cause for the firmness. December opened ⅛c to ¼c higher at 28⅜c to 28½c, sold up to 28⅝c and closed at 28⅝c. Local receipts were 241 cars.

Provisions were strong on active demand from packers, who bought nearby deliveries against cash sales. The market for live hogs was firm, and this helped to support provisions. The market closed strong, with January pork up 10c at $12 47½. Lard was up 5c at $6 87½. Ribs were also 5c higher at $6 50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 27 cars; corn, 113 cars; oats, 213 cars; hogs, 29,000 head.

As to the election of a president, the directors will decide that question and the president selected will be satisfactory to all."

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Local Houses Will Entertain Several New Plays—Cecilia Loftus in Vaudeville—Burlesque.

Next week at the Nixon should really be called football week, for Robert Edeson's play, "Strongheart," which he will present there on Monday evening, is said to be brimful of football and college fun. In fact, in the second act of "Strongheart" there is not a woman on the scene. It represents the training quarters of the Columbia eleven between the halves. The description of the game is said to be done most dramatically by Mr. Edeson.

In order to accommodate the big English spectacle, "Babes in the Wood" at the Belasco theater, where it begins a two-weeks' engagement next Monday night, the management has secured immediately in the rear of the stage doors the adjoining buildings, so as to have sufficient storage facilities for the mass of scenery, properties, etc., with which the piece abounds. The sale of seats for this engagement opens this morning at the box office, and the prices will be no higher than $1 50 for the best seats.

Edward E. Rose dramatization of Irvine Bacheller's novel "Eben Holden," will be offered for the first time to Pittsburgh theatergoers next Monday evening in the Empire theater. Mr. Henry Horton has been starring in the character of "Uncle Eb" for the past two seasons, and we are informed that both the play and star have been most successful. Mr. Rose has been given credit in developing a most interesting play and adhering to the story in bringing out all the rustic simplicity, humor and sentiment.

Cecilia Loftus and a variety of the best acts of refined vaudeville ever offered at the Grand are in the bill which Manager Harry Davis has prepared for next week. Miss Loftus in her imitations is a bigger hit this season than she was before her great dramatic triumphs, and is giving only 10 weeks to vaudeville previous to starring under Daniel Frohman. Another interesting feature will be Louis Simon, Grace Gardner and company in their funny farce "The New Coachman."

The New Century Girls is the attraction at the Academy next week and it is said to be an unusually strong combination of burlesque and vaudeville.

The Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies as compared with the last accounts: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies increased 6,549,000 bushels. Afloat for and in Europe, increased 2,700,000 bushels. Total supply increased 9,249,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, decreased 1,094,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased 2,553,000 bushels. The leading increases reported this week are 2,979,000 bushels in Manitoba; 161,000 bushels at the Chicago private elevators; 93,000 bushels at Cleveland; 80,000 bushels at Watertown, S. D.; 79,000 bushels at the Milwaukee private elevators, and 75,000 bushels at the Minneapolis private elevators.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 2.7 feet, and the river was rising.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 8.4 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from Cincinnati were: Greenwood, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville, and Indiana, Louisville. The present stage of the river is the lowest that rivermen have had for a year or more in the "fly time" line. The water is getting so low it may be necessary to lay up some of the larger boats unless a rise comes very soon. This condition is not likely for six weeks at least, when the Thanksgiving rises generally come. Cloudy, showers, windy and cold.

WARREN—Six-tenths below; rain, cool.

GREENSBORO—River 6.5 feet, stationary. Cloudy, cold. Woodward down Thursday. Columbia up.

OIL CITY—Three inches, stationary. Cloudy and cool.

POINT PLEASANT, W. VA.—River 2 feet and stationary. Cloudy. Up, Mountain State; down, George Matheson; Tacoma.

WHEELING, W. VA.—River 2 feet 8 inches and stationary. Cloudy and cooler with rain. Departed, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—River 2 feet 3 inches and stationary. Cloudy and cold.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—River 6 feet and rising. Weather clear.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—River 4 feet and stationary. Cold and raining. The Bedford left for Wheeling.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; in canal, 5 feet; on falls, 1 foot 1 inch; below locks, 6 feet. Clear and cool.

LOOKING FOR A RISE.

Local Rivermen Expect Enough Water for Light Navigation.

Local rivermen are pleased with the heavy rains that have fallen within the past 48 hours in the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys, and are hopeful that a continuance of the downfall will cause a boating stage. Between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati there are more than a score of steamers tied up waiting for enough water that they may start for Pittsburgh. In the local harbor are several million bushels of coal ready for shipment. Although there is little possibility at this time that the rainfall will be sufficient to make a coal shipment stage the rivermen hope to see enough water to allow the down-stream boats to get into local waters.

A steamer bell weighing 250 pounds has been taken from the river near McMechen, W. Va., and it is thought to be the bell that went down with the steamer Star in 1869. The Star struck a pier at the Steubenville bridge and sank, part of her tow of coal being lost. The bell is in possession of Elza Scott, who has advertised her find for the purpose of restoring it to its owners.

The First Car New Ear Corn
We received yesterday the First Car of New Yellow Ear Corn shipped into the Pittsburgh market. It comes from Wood county, Ohio, and Mr. Chas. Culp, Chief Grain Inspector, says: "It is the finest car of corn that has been shipped to this market for several years." The corn is hand-picked, hard, dry and flinty and in every respect superior to any old corn grown during the past three years. B., R. & P. ROAD BEING INSPECTED

Officers and Directors Are Expected in City—Fitzgerald Spends Day Here.

CHARTER A WAYNESBURG LINE

The official inspection of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway system is being made by President A. G. Yates and the board of directors and leading officers. The special train bearing the party left Rochester Tuesday morning and a run was made to Punxsutawney yesterday. It is understood that the party will inspect the line from Punxsutawney to Butler and Pittsburgh today, remaining here over night, and returning northward tomorrow afternoon for an inspection of the New Castle branch and the Indiana branch. Along with the inspection of the railroad lines, the annual inspection of the coal properties is being made by the directors and officers of the company.

The party includes, in addition to President Yates, Vice President Adrian Iselin, Jr., of New York, General Superintendent W. T. Noonan, the superintendent of transportation, the chief engineer, general passenger and freight agents, the division superintendents and several directors of the company. The inspectors will see a great improvement in the condition of the road, both in the physical condition of the property and in the traffic phase. Considerable new work has been done toward eliminating several curves on the middle division, while extensions have been built in Indiana county and work is under way on the extension of the New Castle branch. At Salamanca and Du Bois big improvements are under way in the shop and yard plants. The work at Dubois includes almost doubling the capacity for shop repair work.

The freight traffic of the road has grown in as great proportion as has been noted on other roads, the coal traffic being especially heavy from the new mines of the Indiana field. The finished product and merchandise traffic to and from Pittsburgh has also been heavier than in former seasons. Division Freight Agent H. C. Watson, whose offices are in the Wabash building, says that this year will far eclipse all former records in tonnage handled. Division Passenger Agent C. O'D. Pascault said yesterday that the record in passenger business has never been so good as in the past summer, while the regular travel over the road is heavier than in former seasons. The road's increase in passenger traffic may be traced to some extent to the change of terminals from Allegheny to the Baltimore & Ohio station in Pittsburgh.

Two Operations Southwest from Here.

Two operations in railroad building in the Southwestern portion of Pennsylvania are of interest. In addition to a number of roads that have been surveyed in Greene and Washington counties, it was announced from Harrisburg yesterday that a charter had been granted to the Waynesburg Southern Railroad Company, with a capital of $120,000, to build 12 miles of railroad in Greene county from Waynesburg southward to the state line. Thomas F. Barrett of Pittsburgh is named as president and a director of the company. The other Pittsburgh directors are Edward McSweeney and T. E. McSweeney of Pittsburgh and A. I. Cook, James A. F. Randolph, Timothy J. Wise Carver and Edward Barrett of Waynesburg. Edward McSweeney is a Pittsburgh attorney.

Upon the face of the charter specifications it would seem that the road is a portion of a route from Waynesburg and possibly Pittsburgh, southward into West Virginia. The proposed line is to extend along Smith creek to Kinsley's school house, thence over the divide between Smith creek and Roberts run, in Wayne township, and through Spraggtown to a point just west of where Roberts run crosses the state line.

The other operation concerns the consolidation of several proposed lines in Washington and Greene counties, a portion of which are now under construction. J. V. Thompson of Uniontown, president of the Ohio & Marshall County railroad, has called a meeting of the stockholders for November 16 in Pittsburgh, to consider a resolution for consolidating the Ohio & Marshall County, the Midland and the Waynesburg & Monongahela railroad companies into one company under the name of the "Uniontown & Wheeling Short Line." This meeting will be held in the office of D. F. Maroney, in the Farmers Bank building. Mr. Maroney was formerly general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio here and until a few months ago was vice president of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern.

B. & O. Officers Confer.

General Manager Thomas Fitzgerald, General Superintendent of Motive Power J. E. Muhlfeld and Chief Engineer Maintenance of Way J. B. Dickson of the Baltimore & Ohio, spent yesterday here in conference with General Superintendent Robert Finney and Engineer Maintenance of Way H. H. Temple of the Pittsburgh system, and with Superintendent B. W. Duer and other Pittsburgh division officers. After the morning conference the officers went to Glenwood to look into shop and yard conditions and the proposed improvements at that point. Messrs. Fitzgerald and Dickson have been making a trip over the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling branch of the Wheeling system in company with General Superintendent W. C. Loree. Mr. Muhlfeld came into the city from Baltimore yesterday morning. Messrs. Fitzgerald, Muhlfeld, Dickson, Finney and Temple went to Connellsville last night and will spend today on the Connellsville division.

It is expected that President Murray, accompanied by the executive officers and probably some of the directors, will make an inspection of the Baltimore & Ohio system within a few weeks. Mr. Murray has kept in close touch with the road's improvements and operations all year, and it is said that he wants to show the directors that the property is being well cared for.

Nimrods Return With a Moose.

General Freight Agent W. A. Terry and General Passenger Agent L. A. Robinson of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, who spent the past 10 days hunting in the Beauchine district of Quebec, returned yesterday. Mr. Terry saw several moose; Mr. Robinson was more fortunate and shot one, which he brought home with him. Mr. Terry said that the most exciting moment came just after their arrival at the first stopping place from the portage, when a fine bull moose appeared within 15 feet of them and their Indian guides. Their guns had just been stacked on the opposite side of the portage trail.

Cordell Takes Service With Lent.

A. M. Cordell, who had been associated for several years with the Pittsburgh traffic office of the Harriman lines under General Agent George G. Herring, until he resigned last Saturday, has taken service with John F. Lent, shippers' traffic manager and foreign freight broker, whose offices are in the Park building. Mr. Lent by increasing his operating force by the addition of Mr. Cordell, indicates that the success of a combined traffic management is greater than was at first expected. W. C. Shannon, formerly of the Merchants & Miners' Transportation Company, recently took service with Mr. Lent.

Railroad Notes.

George Hall has been appointed assistant ticket agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Huntington, Pa.

Phil T. Ellery, the Baltimore & Ohio conductor of train Nos. 101 and 108, is spending a couple of weeks at Oakland, Md.

Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, went east on a business trip last night.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie officers have issued notices calling attention to the general order that less whistling be done by enginemen in the road's operations.

The Baltimore & Ohio boys are pleased to see Louis Barto, the baggagemaster of trains Nos. 109 and 110 between Pittsburgh and Wheeling, on duty again after his illness.

W. S. St. George of New York, has been appointed general passenger and ticket agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas system as successor to George Morton, resigned.

Official announcement of an increase of $25,000,000 in the capital stock of the Great Northern Railway Company has been made to the stockholders in a circular issued by President James J. Hill.

The Baltimore & Ohio will have two special Pullman cars from Pittsburgh next Sunday, carrying officers of the South Penn Oil Company on an inspection of the properties. The trip will include the Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio fields.

George A. Post, president of the Standard Coupler Company of New York, is spending a few days in Pittsburgh calling upon the railroad officers. He says that the big orders for cars has resulted in more orders for couplers of the standard M. C. B. pattern than ever before in the history of railroading.

EVERY PRIEST ATTENDS.

Biennial Synod of Roman Catholic Diocese of Harrisburg Is Held—Episcopalians Also Meet.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—The fifth biennial synod of the Roman Catholic diocese of Harrisburg was held here today, with every priest in the diocese in attendance. Committees and officers were elected for the ensuing three years and rules were adopted for the government of the diocese.

The fall session of the archdeaconry of Harrisburg was also held here today. The Rev. William Dorwart was elected secretary and treasurer. An address was made by Bishop Darlington.

WABASH SAYS "NO" TO PRODUCE MEN

Doesn't Want Odor of Commission Houses and Can't Provide Cellars in Ferry Street.

PENN AVENUE SALE OF $38,000

The Wabash Railroad Company has declined to furnish shelter for the commission men of Liberty avenue. An informal announcement to that effect was made Tuesday to Charles A. Muehlbronner, president of the Iron City Produce Company, who was most active in the effort to secure commission rooms under the tracks near the Wabash station in Ferry street. A few weeks ago the commission men took up the question with the Wabash officials and requested an early reply. The matter was at first laid over because of the difficulties between the Gould and Ramsey interests, which put things "up in the air" among the Pittsburgh officials. When the officials got down to a candid consideration of the proposal two reasons were urged why the request of the commission men should not be granted. One was that they feared that the odors from the commission houses would be offensive to patrons of the railroad entering and leaving the station. The other and the more forcible reason was that the railroad company could not furnish cellars to the commission merchants, which are a vital necessity in their business. This is because the immense concrete piers supporting the elevated tracks prevent any extensive digging underneath.

Among the firms who contemplated moving to the Wabash quarters were the Iron City Produce Company, Albert M. Travis, John Wallace, Dennis Hays, Thomas H. McGowan and Renton & Co. All these firms are located in "Commission Row" in Liberty avenue. The leases of most of them expire next April. The average rental of the buildings now occupied by them is $3,500 a year, which is considered an excessive figure, as the buildings for most other purposes would be of little account. The decision of the Wabash officials probably means that more of these firms will locate in the new produce district out Penn avenue, where the Iron City and a dozen or more firms already have good quarters.

Outer Penn Avenue Corner Sold.

Through the agency of J. H. Armstrong, the former Wilson property at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Twenty-fifth street, has been sold to Taylor & Dean for about $35,000, or $800 a front foot. About a month ago the Gillespie-Curll Company, wholesale grocers, bought the property from the Wilson heirs with the intention of erecting a modern store and warehouse building for their own use. This deal was never made public and when Taylor & Dean, whose foundry adjoins this lot, offered the grocery firm a slight advance on the price they paid for the property it was accepted. The lot measures 48x100 feet, extending back to Spring alley, and is improved with an old brick building. It is the intention of Taylor & Dean to build on the site an addition to their foundry and work will be started soon, it is said. The Gillespie-Curll Company has decided to remain in its present location at 231 Water street, where it has a long lease.

The Aronson Realty Company has sold for Samuel McCaslin, the builder, another of his new residences in Pacific avenue, near Penn avenue, Twentieth ward, for $10,500. The residence is one of nine lately finished by Mr. McCaslin, and contains 10 rooms. The lot measures 32x150 feet. The purchaser is Felix Half of the furniture firm of Half Brothers of Homestead, who will occupy the property as a home.

Goes to South Side Group.

The Johnson, Earle, Myers Company, wholesale grocers, has leased from the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company three of the 40 buildings now being completed between Third and Fourth streets, South Side. The company obtains a total floor space of about 6,000 square feet and is said to have secured a long lease. It is now located at 324 Second avenue and will move into the new quarters as soon as they are completed. Several weeks ago the wholesale grocery firm of Dilworth Brothers & Co., now at Penn avenue and Tenth street, leased spacious quarters in the South Side group.

Two other wholesale grocery firms have arranged to move from the downtown district. James A. McAteer & Sons, who have been for years in Penn avenue, have the foundations nearly completed for a modern six-story warehouse at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Twenty-second street. The building will be much the best structure in the neighborhood, having a frontage of 72 feet and a depth of 100 feet to Spring alley. It will be provided with the latest improvements and fixtures for keeping and handling large quantities of goods and will cost $65,000.

James W. Houston & Co., who have nearly completed their twenty-sixth year in the wholesale grocery business in Pittsburgh, are having the site cleared for a seven-story fire-proof warehouse to be erected on 30x190 feet at the northwest corner of Liberty avenue and Fourteenth street, which the firm recently bought for $28,000. The proposed building will cost $80,000 and its erection will be rushed so that it may be completed before spring.

East End Buyer Is Announced.

Albert M. Travis proves to be the buyer of the two Jacob Neff apartment houses in Thomas boulevard, near Fifth avenue, Point Breeze, the sale of which, for $70,000, was published in The Gazette Tuesday. In part payment for this property Mr. Travis tendered his residence in Avalon, which was put into the deal at $18,000. The house is a modern ten-room brick standing on a lot 60x173 feet in California avenue, near Home avenue.

Two afternoon papers yesterday published the sale of the "Gilbert Rafferty holdings at the corner of Sixth and Wylie avenues," the consideration named being $150,000, and crediting the sale to the Penn Real Estate Company. The report further stated the property was in two adjoining parcels. It will be remembered that last March Avey & Irish sold for Mr. Rafferty the particular corner referred to for $67,500. It is a lot 45x44 feet at the northwest corner of Sixth and Wylie avenues, and the buyer was a prominent realty investor whose name was withheld at that time. The only other property that Mr. Rafferty owns in this immediate vicinity is 30x137 feet on the opposite side of Sixth avenue, between Wylie and Webster avenues, which is worth probably $1,800 a front foot. It will require a vigorous stretch of the imagination to convince the present owner of the corner that it has been resold without his consent or to make two properties a half square apart and on opposite sides of the street adjoin each other.

Calvary Is Figuring the Cost.

Architect T. E. Billquist of this city is getting a preliminary estimate of the cost of the church which the Calvary Protestant Episcopal congregation of the East End will build in Shady avenue. Plans for the proposed church have been prepared by Architects Cram, Goodhue & Ferguson of Boston. It is expected that some alterations will be made in the general plan before the final bids are asked.

Architects Allison & Allison will receive estimates next week on a stone church building for the First Baptist congregation of Scottdale, Pa., which is estimated to cost $35,000.

Architect R. Vandervort has plans completed for a seven-story business block to be erected by James Brown & Son in Penn avenue, East End, at a cost of about $30,000.

Jacob H. Fredrick has sold to Nella Harrington an improved property, 35x122 feet, in Coral street, near Rebecca street, Twentieth ward, for $10,027.

Thirty Houses for Hill District.

Bedford avenue: McKiveen, White & Co. sold for William McConway, president of the McConway Torley Company, to J. W. Mills, five lots, 130x100 feet, in Bedford avenue, and five lots, 116x100 feet, in the rear and facing in White street, Thirteenth ward, for $7,500. The buyer will build on the site 30 five-room brick houses, for which McKiveen, White & Co. will have the agency. The same brokers sold for J. M. WARFARE GOES ON.

Allegheny Merchants Plan Methods to Abolish Trading Stamps.

A meeting of the United Anti-Stamp Protective association of Allegheny county was held last night in Kenyon's hall, Federal street, Allegheny, and was largely attended. President Alfred Watson presided.

It was decided that an active canvass of all Allegheny merchants be made, and that all be asked to sign an agreement not to handle trading stamps. A committee was appointed to draught a circular letter that will be sent at once to all merchants on the North Side, asking their co-operation and support in the warfare against stamps.

Several new members were admitted last night. The next meeting will be held at Kenyon's hall next Wednesday evening, at which it is expected over 500 storekeepers will attend.

JUDGE REFUSES FATHER MERCY

James M. King Gets Ten Years for Committing Felony on His Young Daughter.

CROATIAN GUILTY OF MURDER

James M. King, a well-known resident of Oakmont and ex-borough official, was given 10 years in the Western penitentiary, after pleading guilty to committing a felony on his 15-year-old daughter. The evidence was revolting in the extreme. King is said to have criminally assaulted another daughter, 12 years old. The case was prosecuted by the Humane society.

Attorney A. H. Rowand appeared for King and made a plea for leniency, but Judge Brown said it was not a case in which leniency should be shown, and that such crimes should not be disposed of lightly. Little evidence was taken after King had thrown himself on the mercy of the court.

Sarah James, a negress, convicted of larceny from the person in stealing $17 from a negro companion, when sentenced to serve three months in the workhouse, bewailed her fate in such loud tones that business had to be suspended while she was taken from the room.

Sentence was suspended in the case of Lawrence Dennen, who pleaded guilty to assaulting and robbing Atner Bebringer in Allegheny. William Oswan was indicted with Dennen, but never arrested. Dennen told the court Oswan was the instigator of the crime and that he was drunk at the time. Other cases were:

Andrew Bleeker, unlawful wounding, three months to the workhouse; Frank Frost, forgery, a year to the workhouse; Archie and Annie James, selling liquor illegally, three months each to the workhouse.

Murder of Second Degree.

A verdict of murder in the second degree was found against Milos Mulosevic, who killed Milo Kovocevic. The jury went out Tuesday afternoon and returned its verdict when court opened yesterday morning. Mulosevic took the announcement of the finding very coolly.

The murder case of "Bud" Williams, charged with the killing of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Quincey, was postponed until next Monday at the request of the defendant's attorneys, who said their case had not quite been prepared.

In the equity suit of Charlotte L. Phillips against the Highland Brewing Company and Justus Mubert, receiver in bankruptcy, the brewing company filed an answer. It is admitted that the plaintiff subscribed for 10 shares of stock at $100 each, and that the mortgage named in the bill was assigned, but it is denied that the agreement with E. T. Heineman, the president of the company, and the plaintiff provided that the subscription should be paid out of the proceeds of the mortgage and also denied that Heineman had the right to modify the subscription contract or did modify it. It is denied that when the subscription was made the company was insolvent. Even if true that the plaintiff was induced by misrepresentation of Heineman to make the subscription, it is denied that this gives her a right to cancel the contract as against the company or Mubert. It is averred that the plaintiff does not come into court with clean hands, and is not entitled to be heard. It is also asserted that taking advantage of the failure of the company to record the assignment, the plaintiff collected [illegible] on the mortgage which belonged to the company, and this was not known to the company until after bankruptcy proceedings were commenced. The company asks that the bill be dismissed.

Several Divorce Hearings.

A replication was filed in the divorce case of George B. Hayward against Ida E. Hayward. The libellant says it is not true that he failed and refused to contribute to the respondent's support and that she was compelled to seek a livelihood in Chicago. He says his wife did not call upon him and offer to return and live with him as his wife and that he refused to allow her to return to him.

In the divorce suit of R. S. Walk against his wife, Annie Walk, the respondent denies that she has been guilty of cruel and barbarous treatment toward the libellant or that she has endangered or threatened his life. She says that she has never offered any indignities to his person and never did anything to render his condition intolerable and his life burdensome, to cause him to withdraw from his home and family, and that his withdrawal from his home and family was willful desertion on his part and without reasonable cause.

In the testimony in the divorce case of Laura Grevober against Ignatz Grevober the libellant testified that her husband was jealous, called her names and threatened her.

Edwin L. Mattern was appointed by the court commissioner to take testimony in the petition of the borough of [illegible] for leave to maintain a grade crossing over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company's right of way at Watt and also at Mulberry street.

Willis J. [illegible] filed a suit against the Central Accident Insurance Company to recover $2,000 on an insurance policy. The plaintiff says that on October 21, 1904, he received injuries while riding in a street car in Oil City. He says that he has been prevented from performing one or more important and necessary daily duties pertaining to his business for the entire period from October 21, 1904, up to the present time. The plaintiff also says that the defendant company is indebted to him to the amount of [illegible] a week for 26 consecutive weeks from October 21, 1904.

Juries in common pleas courts brought in many verdicts yesterday. The largest was in No. 1 court, where a verdict for $2,000 was given to Henry Pope and one for [illegible] for August Pope, his father, against the United Traction Company. The suit was based on injuries to Henry Pope. A verdict for [illegible] for personal injuries was given to Thomas McCune against the Pittsburgh Railways Company. In the suit of E. P. [illegible] against ex-Mayor R. J. Black, of McKeesport, for legal services, the jury gave the plaintiff [illegible]. The jury was out but a short time. Other verdicts rendered were: Charles A. [illegible] against T. C. Martin, guardian of Sarah J. Bruce, [illegible]; [illegible] against F. A. McCullough and Mrs. M. J. McCullough, [illegible]; Samuel H. Black & Co. against George H. Schickler, [illegible]; Andrew Bruce against Weinberg, Sheehan & Co., [illegible]; Michael Wypcha against Louis Arenegra, [illegible]; J. M. Gearing against Gottlieb Wagner, [illegible].

The late Thomas Best left an estate of [illegible], naming John W. Best and Hugh H. Davis trustees. They are to pay the income from it to his widow as long as she lives and at her death to divide the estate equally among their children.

The J. F. Rowley Co., of Illinois, filed a bill in the United States circuit court, asking that E. H. Rowley of Pittsburgh be restrained from manufacturing and selling Rowley artificial legs. The bill states that some time ago the J. F. Rowley Company sent E. H. Rowley, the defendant, to this city, to open an office and sell Rowley artificial legs and that the defendant has opened a business here on his own account for the manufacture and sale of Rowley artificial legs which is contrary to his rights and agreements he has made with the plaintiff company.

The Welsbach Light Company, whose main factory and offices are in Gloucester, N. J., filed a bill in equity in the United States circuit court against Kaskal Schoborn, of [illegible] & Company, of this city, asking $2,000 damages, and that the defendant be restrained from placing on sale what he claims is a 35-cent Welsbach light for 19 cents. The plaintiff company alleges it is the sole owner and manufacturer of the Welsbach light, and that it has been damaged [illegible] by the acts of the defendant regarding the sale, and advertising of a 35-cent Welsbach light at 19 cents.

Raised His Pay Voucher.

Frank Groyal, an Italian laborer, was found guilty of defrauding the Pittsburgh Railways Company by raising a pay voucher from $7.50 to $17.50. He got the money and the scheme looked so easy he later presented another voucher raised, it is alleged, from [illegible] to [illegible]. Instead of getting the money he found a detective was looking for him. The company is looking for another Italian who tried the same game without success.

Wilkinson's Trial Put Off.

Samuel C. Wilkinson, charged with embracery in attempting to influence a juror during the trial of Police Captain Wilson, was to have been placed on trial yesterday. District Attorney Stewart was ready to go on with the case, and agreed to a postponement on account of the state of Wilkinson's health, which his attorney said was very bad.
